Street Fair and Base Ball.

The fifth annual street fair and base ball tournament was held here last week, lasting three days. There were fairly good crowds each day, with various attractions to interest them. Free street attraction, merry-go-round, several shows. The ball games were good. The first day our boys were defeated by Ashland, 5 to 4. The second day Louisville came up and were defeated by our boys. The home team did some good playing, several two-base hits being made, and Stub Moomey made a home run. At the end of the game the score stood 10 to 2 in favor of Murdock. The third and last day Elmwood came over, accompanied by the band, which furnished us some delightful music before the game. Elmwood is supposed to have a team that can beat anything outside of a league, but after an interesting game the score stood 6 to 3 in favor of Murdock. The band never made a sound and neither did the rooters. Oh, yes, they were boosting for the Old Settlers' picnic to be held there September 17.

DON'T TRAVEL

—Telephone and Keep Cool!

When the mercury is hovering around the 100 mark, and the streets are radiating heat like a blazing furnace, it decidedly uncomfortable to travel at all, and the farther you go the more uncomfortable the trip.

Under such conditions the Lincoln Telephone, with its extensive long distance system, serves the useful and pleasing purpose of permitting you to stay in your office under the cooling breeze of an electric fan and transact your business dealings may be in the next block, the nearby city or even half across the continent. The low cost of Long Distance telephoning may surprise you.
