DEATH OF ANOTHER CASS COUNTY PIONEER

For Fifty-three Years William J. Laughlin Was a Resident of Cass County.

From Saturday's Daily.

The Journal regretted very much to learn for the first time Friday of the death of our old friend, W. J. Laughlin, which occurred a week ago. His sons, C. O. and E. G. Laughlin, were in the city on Friday, from whom we learned the sad news. W. J. Laughlin was a most noble citizen, and to know him was to love him. When we say he was one of the best citizens in Cass county hundreds of people who knew him are ready to coincide with us. The following biography of the noble old gentleman is taken from the Ashland Gazette:

William J. Laughlin of Cass county, one of the real pioneers, died on his homestead Friday, August 30, 1912, after a continuous residence of fifty-three years. He was born in North Carolina March 13, 1830, and was therefore 82 years 5 months and 16 days of age.

Mr. Laughlin was naturally of a venturesome nature, and when at the age of 20 he crossed the then great American desert for the gold fields of California. After a year or so of this life he returned to his home at Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, going by boat to the Isthmus of Panama, which he crossed and thence by boat to New Orleans and Keokuk, Iowa. After his return to Iowa he remained at home until on December 8, 1853, he was united in marriage to Miss Mary Coleman. Mr. and Mrs. Laughlin continued to reside in Henry county, Iowa, until 1859, when he again was seized with the gold fever and started overland for Pike's Peak. When they had gone as far as Salt creek they met large numbers of disheartened men, who were returning from the gold fields, and the reports these men gave were so discouraging that the party westward bound, determined to discontinue their journey. At this point Mr. Laughlin became so infatuated with the location that he laid claim to 160 acres through a "squatter's right." He dug a cellar, hewed logs ready to build a house, and broke a portion of the claim before returning to Iowa for his family. The following fall, 1859, he came to Cass county with the avowed purpose of making it his future home, and he had since made it so. At that time the nearest postoffice was Plattsmouth, thirty-four miles distant, and the nearest railroad was Ottumwa, Iowa.

Mr. Laughlin, profiting by past experience in a new country, worked hard and with unbounded energy, having an abiding faith in the future of his adopted state. He devoted himself to the task of doing his share toward the development of the country and was always generous, and ready to lend a helping hand to those in need. Only those who have located in an undeveloped country know of the trials and hardships of our real pioneers.

To Mr. and Mrs. Laughlin were born seven children, who have also formed an important factor in the present development of Cass county. They are: Lucy Matilda, who died in infancy; Mary Catherine Loomis, deceased; John C. and Benjamin F., deceased; Oscar W. and Mrs. W. F. Laughlin, who reside on the home farm, and Ebenezer G., who lives at LaCrosse, Kansas. Mrs. Laughlin died some six years ago. He is also survived by two brothers, B. F. of Greenwood and E. D. of Ashland.

Mr. Laughlin had filled many positions of trust among his neighbors and was always interested in education, and assisted in organizing the first district in Salt Creek precinct, at that time the district embraced all the precinct, west half of South Bend and the northern part of Greenwood. He was a member of Unity Lodge A. F. and A. M., Greenwood, and Mt. Moriah commandery No. 4, K. T. of Lincoln. In early life Mr. and Mrs. Laughlin became identified with the Christian church, and ever remained faithful to their faith and church. He was a man of sterling worth, a gentleman of the strictest integrity.

(The funeral services were conducted from the late home of the deceased southwest of Ashland, Sunday at 2 o'clock p. m., Elder C. A. Heryck officiating, and interment was made in the old territorial burying ground, near where the deceased had resided for fifty-three years.—Ed. Journal.)

An article that has real merit should in time become popular. That such is the case with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been attested by many dealers. Here is one of them. H. W. Hendrickson, Ohio Falls, Ind., writes, "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best for coughs, colds and croup, and is my best seller." For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

SCHEMERS WHO WANT TO RUN YOUR BUSINESS

You Come Across Such People
Almost Every Day in the Week.

From Friday's Daily.

This is a funny world in some ways.

One is always running across people that want to run one's business for him.

The scheme and fake advertiser who comes to you with some wonderful plan for building up your shoe trade is a species of buttinsky who would like to get the chance to run your business for you, says the Michigan Tradesman.

Of course he wants to run it for a consideration.

It isn't glory he is seeking, and he's not out running other people's business for his health. He is out after the money. And if you take his fair propositions at face value he'll get the money, too. Be wary.

If the merchants of your town have an association before which advertising schemes must come, well and good. In that event you can dismiss him in short order. If not you had better go slow.

Remember that these people who want to run your business for a consideration are slick and oily people. Their main stock in trade is hot air.

And the proposition is likely to look passing fair.

In imagination you can sometimes fairly see the dollars growing.

Look out.

Go on the soft pedal.

Before you close the deal, take time to write some of the people in other towns or cities where the oily one alleges that he has turned the old town topsy-turvy.

Explain to him gently but firmly that you never enter into any sort of an advertising arrangement, no matter how fair in appearance, until you have done a little investigating on your own account.

If he tells you that the time is short, that you must act quickly to keep your competitor across the way from jumping at the chance that you let go begging, just let that competitor jump. Tell him you never depart from your established custom; and that your custom is to think it over.

Query: Why is it these un-honored geniuses who are going about the country peddling schemes for running the other fellow's business don't get a business of their own to run?

Make Many Improvements.

From Friday's Daily.

C. L. Mielenz, representing the Wahoo Flour Mills, was in the city today and he informs us that they have just recently made numerous improvements in their mill, which has greatly improved the quality of the Forest Rose flour, which has been sold in this city for the past twenty years. They also have recently employed one of the best millers in Kansas City, who has charge of the Wahoo mills at this time, and which makes a full guarantee that there is no better flour made.

Wins First Scholarship.

From Friday's Daily.

Miss Kittie Cummins, whose studies have been affiliated with the University School of Music at Lincoln since the first of the year, has received official notice from the Lincoln school that Miss Dorothy Britt, one of her pupils, has won the first scholarship of that school at the contest held in Lincoln on last Monday. About sixty schools over the state are affiliated with the University School of Music, and both Miss Cummins and Miss Britt are to be congratulated upon this occasion.

Has Typhoid Fever.

From Saturday's Daily.

Vilas Sheldon, mention of whose illness was made in last week's paper, has developed a case of typhoid fever, and while his condition is not any more serious than the average case of this kind he is realizing that the typhoid is no joke. He had been under the weather for some time before he came down with it and for that reason it will probably go rather hard with him. So far his temperature has not been abnormally high and no unfavorable symptoms have developed. His friends sympathize with him and hope for his speedy recovery.—Nehawka News.

The Weeping Water Republican.

The above-named paper comes to us this week under the new management, I. N. Hunter & Son. The paper presents a very neat appearance and is filled to the brim with local news. The son, E. L. Hunter, is editor, and the two Plattsmouth boys, W. P. Siltzman and Fred H. Speck, will be retained in the mechanical department. The Republican starts out under its new management under most favorable auspices, and no doubt will receive the support it justly deserves. The Journal wishes the Messrs. Hunter & Son all the success imaginable in the publication of the Republican.

CHARLES HITT INJURED COASTING WITH WAGON

From Saturday's Daily.

Charles Hitt, a lad of about 12 years of age, while coasting in a wagon near the Turner hall on Washington avenue yesterday afternoon, met with quite a painful accident. Just as he was going around the corner the front end of the wagon twisted around in an awkward direction, running the tongue of the wagon into Charles' left leg, making an ugly wound. Charles was hurriedly taken to Dr. Cummins' office, and it required seven stitches to close the gash.

Former Resident of Cass County.

William Jasper, who had been here to attend the funeral of Jacob Heinrich, returned this morning to his home at Holyoke, Colorado. Mr. Jasper is a former resident of Cass county, coming here in 1880, and lived here until 1890, when he removed to Pierce county, where he engaged in farming until four years ago, when he decided to remove to Colorado, where he has since resided and owns a fine farm of 160 acres in the vicinity of Holyoke.

On Way to India.

Plattsmouth was honored this morning by a visit from Bishop Warner of the Methodist church. Bishop Warner has been in this country attending the conference of the church and is now en route to the Pacific coast, from where he will sail for his home at Lucknow, India, where he has been stationed for the past twenty-five years. He is visiting as many churches as possible while on his return trip to India.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to express our most sincere thanks to the neighbors, friends and also to the members of the A. O. U. W. lodge for their kind assistance during the illness and death of our husband and father. Also for the many beautiful floral tributes.

Mrs. J. Henrich and Family.

Running up and down stairs, sweeping and bending over making beds will not make a woman healthy or beautiful. She must get out of doors, walk a mile or two every day and take Chamberlain's Tablets to improve her digestion and regulation her bowels. For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

Petition to Sell Real Estate.

Petition has been filed in the office of the district clerk for permission to sell property in the estate of Grace L. Stapley, deceased, by the executor, C. S. Aldrich of Elmwood. The property consists of real estate in and near the village of Elmwood. D. O. Dwyer appeared as attorney for the petitioner.

"Generally debilitated for years. Had sick headache, lacked ambition, was worn out and all run down. Burdock Blood Bitters made me a well woman."—Mrs. Chas. Freitoy, Moosup, Conn.

Three of Plattsmouth's youthful sports yesterday concluded to start something, so started out at 9:30 a. m. for the metropolis, where they arrived at 2 p. m. It is not necessary to state that they came back on the train. George Dovey, Milton Austin and Henry Herold comprised the party.

Farmers, mechanics, railroaders, laborers, rely on Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil. Fine for cuts, burns, bruises. Should be kept in every home. 25c and 50c.

Nick Halmes, jr., the Weeping Water miller, was in the city today looking after some business matters at the court house.

F. W. Ethridge of Greenwood was in the city over night, the guest of his cousin, B. A. McElwain, departing this morning on No. 6 for Pleasantville, Iowa, for a short visit.

WILL FIGHT FOR STATE TICKET

Republican Candidates Hold
Meeting at Des Moines.

HEADQUARTERS TO BE OPENED

National Banks Report Gain of Two Millions in Deposits in the Last Year in City of Des Moines—Mad Dog Scare in Capital.

Des Moines, Sept. 7.—Republican candidates for state and congressional office at a conference here decided that the committee should at once open up headquarters and begin an active campaign for the state ticket and all candidates and make the fight without regard to national troubles.

The conference was well attended, and the candidates and committees discussed matters in secret and went over the whole ground of the troubles of the party and the candidates.

Carroll Replies to Kelly.

Governor Carroll made public a letter that he has written to John C. Kelly, editor of the Sioux City Tribune, concerning editorials in which Mr. Kelly scored the governor about his veto of the Oregon plan bill. The editorials held the governor responsible for the lack of presidential preference primary law in the state. The governor denies the accusation. Senator Cummins also comes in for a grilling in the letter. Governor Carroll says that Cummins has been misinformed regarding the testing of the constitutionality of the Oregon plan bill, which he vetoed.

Iowa Fair Excels Others in Live Stock

A. R. Corey, secretary of the state board of agriculture, returned from Minneapolis, where he had been attending the Minnesota state fair. He also attended the Nebraska fair at Lincoln. "Both these fairs had better agricultural exhibits than the Iowa fair," Mr. Corey said. "Their stock departments do not compare with those of our fair, however. They have state laws which give the counties permission to appropriate money to be used for state fair agricultural exhibits. The result is that more attention is paid to the agricultural end."

Mad Dog Scare.

Discovery as a result of the extreme heat of the last few days rabies had become prevalent among Des Moines dogs caused the chief of police to issue an order for the extermination of all stray dogs. A mad dog was reported at large in the neighborhood of one of the schools of the city and the alarm quickly spread all over the city.

Des Moines Boy Fatally Cut.

Thomas Watkins, aged nineteen, was slashed several times in the back with a razor while he slept in a room at his boarding house in Des Moines. The wounds, it is said, will prove fatal. The police are looking for the relative of a girl with whom Watkins is said to have kept company.

Big Gain in Deposits.

Under a call for a statement from the national banks it was found that the four Des Moines national banks have made gains of $2,000,000 in deposits in the last year, though losing $73,000 in the last three months to the state banks.

MAY SUE TO RECOVER

Grand Jury Recommends Civil Actions Against County Officials.

Clinton, Ia., Sept. 7.—In addition to the indictments against county and ex-county officials and a number of other men, a special Clinton grand jury investigating the charges of irregularities filed a supplemental report recommending that the board of supervisors authorize the county attorney to start action to recover money illegally paid out.

It is recommended by the grand jury that the data compiled for the investigation by expert accountants could be used as a basis for these civil suits. The object, it is claimed, is to reimburse the county for sums alleged to have been wrongfully paid out.

Hughes Addresses M. E. Conference.

Newton, Ia., Sept. 7.—The Methodist conference heard an address on evangelism by Bishop Hughes and then took up the conference business. The feature of the morning session was a jubilee hour. Three members present were admitted to the same church in 1887. Bishop Hughes, T. S. Pool and W. H. Jones. The latter presided. Dr. C. L. Stafford of Oskaloosa presented a loving cup to Bishop Hughes, who made an impressive response.

Wild West Stunt Fatal to Iowa Boy.

Centerville, Ia., Sept. 7.—Performing the wild west acts depicted on the show billboards, the eleven-year-old son of J. J. Hanrahan accidentally hanged himself with a lasso in a tree near his home here. The body was found after an all-night search.

Killed in Attempt to Board Train.

Davenport, Ia., Sept. 7.—Wyatt Saunders, a colored man, was instantly killed while trying to board a Rock Island train. His body was caught between the train and a girder on a bridge over a street.

Oats Record Broken.

Marshalltown, Ia., Sept. 7.—Another exceptional yield of oats is reported from Minerva, in this county, where Albert Chapman threshed 812 bushels from ten acres, measured by weight.
