THE BEAUTIFUL HUES OF AUTUMN ARE HERE NOW

Every stranger who visits our city remarks upon the beauty of the hills that are garbed now in all the beautiful hues of autumn. The sight is quite a treat to those who spend the greater part of their lives in the cities, where they only occasionally see a few straggling trees, and when they get to view the beauties of nature such as is afforded in Plattsmouth they are enchanted with the sight. To those who reside here these sights are so common as to excite no comment, and the residents here do not really appreciate what a beautiful little city they have until they are reminded of the fact by some visiting stranger. There is no more pretty sight than the hills that line the river-bank from the Burlington station to the bluffs below the bridge, and a great many of our people have gathered their friends and taken their suppers in the sight of these lovely inspiring hills along the old Missouri river.

REMODELING INDEPENDENT TELEPHONE BUILDING

Workmen are engaged in remodeling the telephone building on North Sixth street and putting it in shape for the use of the consolidated telephone companies. The partitions are being torn out and two large rooms are made of the smaller rooms in the west end of the building, which will be used as the central exchange. This move will place the entire plant where it can be in constant touch with the management and will lessen the operating expenses of the exchange considerably. This move has been in contemplation ever since the Lincoln Telephone company became the owners of the Plattsmouth and Nebraska Telephone companies. L. G. Larson has the contract for the remodeling of the building and the workmen are hurrying the work in order to have it completed before the cold weather sets in.

SOUTH OMAHA CASE ADVANCED

Tinley Home Protest Comes Up Again Before State Board of Health—Historical Parade Draws Great Crowd at Lincoln.

I have farmed for over fifty years; bought and sold many horses, cows and steers. Because of the many furrows I have turned should make me a judge of the value of farms. Now, if you really want an assessor, I will follow the law to the letter; a man that sells drugs can do no better. On account of the sickness of my daughter will not get around to see the voter. But believing you will in me find an assessor of the right kind. I am your friend, W. R. Bryan. My name is on the Democratic ticket. And if you look you will surely see it. So lay aside the party spirit; think before you fold your ticket. With kindness to all and malice to none, I am, W. R. Bryan, candidate for county assessor.

Weak People.

Two German physicians made scientific experiments in order to determine the main course of bodily weakness and of the premature decline of strength. After several years of hard work they reached the conclusion that we should eat more food containing lime than we are doing now. Their theory will be tried by many scientists now. We always advised a mixed diet, which, to our belief, is the best for the nourishment of every part of the body. The first condition, however, is a good, healthy appetite. Where there is lack of appetite, Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine will soon help. This excellent remedy will regulate the work of all organs having anything to do with the digestion of food in the body. It is a great help in diseases of the stomach, of the liver and of the intestines; it will purify the blood in a natural and pleasant way, will strengthen the nerves, allay internal pains, prevent constipation. At drug stores, Jos. Triner, 1333-39 S. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Seed Corn Week Great Success.

Three times as much corn has been stored away for seed this year than ever before in the history of Nebraska, declares C. W. Pugsley of the Nebraska state university experiment station. "Seed corn selection week, Sept. 25 to Oct. 5, was a greater success than we had expected," he says. "More than 40,000 bulletins were distributed through the state asking the farmers to care for their seed corn and store it, and requests still are coming in for more of the bulletins."
