PLEASANTLY ENTERTAINED AT THE M'DANIEL HOME

From Wednesday's Daily.
The Euterpean Glee club of the Methodist church last evening entertained the new members of the club at a line party and it was one of the most delightful events in the history of the organization. The members assembled at the Methodist church, some thirty strong, and then journeyed to the Gem theater, where they witnessed the performance, going from there to the home of one of the members, Miss Virginia McDaniel, where refreshments, consisting of oyster stews and the "trimmings" were served and the young ladies enjoyed themselves to the limit. Musical selections added to the pleasures of the evening and it was a late hour when the young ladies departed, feeling that they had had the time of their lives and they are perfectly willing to brave another rain storm to enjoy a similar treat.

Jolly Party Down From Omaha.

From Tuesday's Daily.
A jolly party of Omaha young people motored to this city last evening and were entertained at dinner at the home of Judge and Mrs. H. D. Travis. After enjoying to the utmost the delightful entertainment given them, the party returned to the metropolis. Those in the party were: Misses Janet White, Irene Riley, Miss Spelman, and Messrs. Will White, Raymond Travis and Mr. Burkall. The trip was made in Mr. White's car and was a most enjoyable event for the young folks.

Deserves Promotion.

From Wednesday's Daily.
One of the latest rumored promotions in the local shops is that of Ed Ackerman, now employed as an assistant foreman in the freight car repair department, to be car foreman of car repairs in the Wymore shops. Mr. Ackerman has not fully decided to accept the position, and if he does the company will find they have made no mistake in selecting him for the position.

Mrs. Keffler Still Improves.

From Wednesday's Daily.
Colonel J. H. Thrasher and wife are in receipt of a letter from their daughter, Mrs. Arthur Keffler, who is in the hospital at Lead, S. D., informing them of her improved condition and that she expected to be able to leave the hospital the first of next week and that she was feeling very much improved in health. It is needless to say this is most welcome news to Mr. and Mrs. Thrasher, as well as the numerous friends, who have been anxiously waiting for reports from Mrs. Keffler.

Automobile Licenses.

From Tuesday's Daily.
The county treasurer's office has been issuing quite a number of automobile licenses during the last few days, which indicates that the farmers residing in the county are still enjoying prosperity. Licenses were issued to the following: John Fleishman, Nehawka; John Bauer, city; W. E. Schliebert, Wabash; Andrew Schliebert, Wabash; C. A. Long-acre, Eagle; H. F. Kropp, Nehawka; W. G. Boedeker, Murray; G. M. Minford, Murray; J. W. Thomas, Nehawka.

Frank Gobeiman, painting and paper hanging.

Central Illinois Farmer.

From Tuesday's Daily.
The initial number of a new paper, bearing the above title, has reached this office. Perhaps the publisher has the idea that a publication of this character will fill a long-felt want among the farmers of central Illinois, the garden spot of the world, in the center of which the publication is printed, Clinton. The Farmer is under the management of B. F. Peltz, editor and publisher of the Clinton Daily Journal, and starts out under fine prospects, and if it does not succeed it will be the first enterprise that Ben ever had anything to do with that didn't succeed. Success to Ben and his Farmer.

"THE SLAVES OF THE ORIENT"

Notwithstanding the Downpour a Very Fair Audience Witnessed the Play.

From Tuesday's Daily.
The incessant rain prevented many from attending the play, "Slaves of the Orient," last night, still there were quite a number present, and we believe a big majority in attendance were very well pleased with the rendition of the play, and especially with the Oriental dancing of J. Cleveland Bronner, which was simply grand in every particular. The display of Oriental costumes was nice, and the scenery representing the play was made up in fine shape. The different characters were well rendered and very satisfactory. These sorts of plays are something new in Plattsmouth and should have been witnessed by a large audience. Take it all in all, the Journal considers "Slaves of the Orient" a success.

Tonight the company will present "Boss of Z Ranch," a western play of great interest, in which many exciting events happen. As this is the last night for the Reynolds & Ross players in Plattsmouth, and as the past two nights their attendance has not been what it should have been, we trust our amusement-loving citizens will turn out tonight and give them one good, big house in closing their engagement here.

Depart for Washington.

From Tuesday's Daily.
Mr. and Mrs. John Sharp departed this afternoon for Tacoma, Washington, where they will make their future home. These excellent people have resided in Plattsmouth a good many years and have many friends who regret their removal. Mr. and Mrs. Sharp have three sons living in Tacoma, and they became anxious to have their father and mother near them, as they are getting old and the boys can better look after their welfare. The Journal will follow them, that they may read what is going on at their old home at least twice a week.

At the M. P. Station.

From Tuesday's Daily.
W. H. McDaniel, operator and station agent in the M. P. service, came up from his home in Nebraska City yesterday to take charge of the station here, during the absence of Agent Norton. Mr. Norton was required to take a few days' rest owing to the quarantine being placed on his residence since the death of their little child Sunday morning. The physicians deemed best to place the quarantine on the residence to await developments, as the disease was one of such seriousness, causing the little child's death about twelve hours after the attack.

Geo. T. Craddock, Rubie, Ark., says: "I was bothered with lumbago for seven years so bad I could not work. I tried several kinds of kidney medicine which gave me little or no relief. Two bottles of Foley Kidney Pills cured me and now I can do any kind of work. I cheerfully recommend them to my friends." For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

THE NEW GLEE CLUB AN ASSURED FACT

From Wednesday's Daily.
The new Glee club is now an assured fact, the club having perfected the organization at their meeting last evening. The officers of the club elected last night were: Jennings Seivers, president; Oscar Larson, secretary and treasurer. A committee on membership was also elected, composed of Jesse Perry, Andy Moore and Glen Rawls, and it is expected to increase the membership to twenty-five at the next meeting. Mrs. Mae Morgan has been selected as director and the lessons will commence at the next meeting, which will be held at the Y. M. B. C. rooms in the Methodist church next Tuesday evening. Mr. E. H. Wescott will act as pianist, and with the teaching of Mrs. Morgan the boys will soon be in form to give entertainments which will prove quite a treat during the winter months, both to the members and the music-loving public.

Taken to the Hospital.

From Wednesday's Daily.
Grant Cotner of Stella, Neb., brother of Lee and John Cotner of this city, was taken to a hospital at Omaha, from Stella, Neb., via the Missouri Pacific, last evening. He was accompanied by his wife, his mother and his wife's mother, Mrs. Higley. When they arrived in this city they were met by Lee and John Cotner and his father, John B. Cotner, who also accompanied him to Omaha. Mr. Cotner is suffering with some trouble with his head and it was thought that better treatment could be had at the hospital.

Funeral of Mrs. Wolfe.

From Wednesday's Daily.
The following special from Shubert, Neb., under date of October 8, refers to the death of Mrs. William Wolfe at that place. Mrs. Wolfe was a sister of C. B. Harger of this city, who departed Sunday for Shubert to attend the funeral: "Mrs. William Wolfe, living north of here, died very suddenly Friday evening. A husband four children and a father and mother survive her. Services were held at Prairie Union, in charge of Rev. J. W. Sapp, and burial was in the local cemetery."

Halmes Will Contest.

From Wednesday's Daily.
County court was occupied this morning in hearing the will contest in the Nicholas Halmes estate. George Halmes, a son, residing in California, is the contestant in the case. The personal estate is quite large, being worth some $75,000. Matthew Gering appeared for the contestant, D. O. Dwyer for the estate and Rawls & Robertson for the widow. The case will probably take all day to finish.

Condition Is Improving.

From Wednesday's Daily.
T. T. Wilkinson, who has been suffering from a paralytic stroke for the past few weeks, is reported to be getting along in fine shape and is now able to set up and use his affected left arm slightly, and the prospects are that he will soon be able to be out and again mingle with his old friends.

Proud of New Daughter.

Henry Hirz, jr., and wife are rejoicing over the arrival at their home, west of this city, of the handsomest little girl in the world. The little lady made her appearance in this world Tuesday morning, and it is the wish of the Journal that she may live to be a joy and comfort to her parents.

Swaps for Dog.

W. J. Brown is developing into some trader, according to reports. Monday he drove out into the country and traded a sewing machine for a fine horse, and in addition a fine hound dog pup, which he greatly prizes as a trophy of his ability at swapping.

Mrs. T. A. Town, 107 6th St., Watertown, S. D., writes: "My four children are subject to hard colds and I always use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound with splendid results. Some time ago I had a severe attack of la grippe and the doctor prescribed Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and it soon overcame the la grippe. I can always depend upon Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and am sure of good results." For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

Don't forget! The Journal office is prepared to do all kinds of fancy job work. Give us a trial.

To Undergo Operation.

From Tuesday's Daily.
Mrs. Dick Edwards of Glenwood was taken to Omaha this afternoon, where she will undergo an operation at Emmanuel hospital. Mrs. Edwards has not been enjoying the best of health for several years and Sunday she was seized with a most severe pain in her side and was brought to this city Monday morning and the physician decided that an operation would be necessary in order to give the patient relief.

Back From Baltimore.

From Tuesday's Daily.
Mike Bajec, who has been in Baltimore for the past three weeks as a delegate to the International Cigarmakers' Union convention, returned this afternoon on No. 24. Mr. Bajec had a most enjoyable time, although the convention was in session for about three weeks, adjourning last Friday. Mr. Bajec visited a few days in New York before he started on the return trip.

In Police Court.

From Wednesday's Daily.
Last evening the police gathered in two "tourists" who had been making a short stop, and who had accumulated what the poet would term a "lovely hum," and this morning they were arraigned in police court and the judge finally decided to allow them to go free, providing they would leave the city, which they did in short order, following the Burlington tracks toward the east.

Lightning's Freaks.

During the storm last evening the electric lights on West Main street were burned out by the lightning, and that section of the city left in darkness for the remainder of the night. The lightning was quite intense and it was a surprise that greater damage was not done.

School House Entered.

From Tuesday's Daily.
Some parties broke into the West Second ward school house some time between the close of school Friday and the opening yesterday morning and stole several small articles. The teacher, Miss Hiber, discovered the loss on opening up the school Monday morning, and at once reported the matter to the superintendent. The value of the articles stolen was not very much, but the party should be apprehended and taught a lesson.

J. G. Criswell, a painter, living at 540 North Mulberry St., Hagerstown, Md., states: "I had kidney trouble with a severe pain across my back, and could hardly get up after sitting down. I took Foley Kidney Pills and soon found the pain left my back. I could get up and down with ease, and the bladder action was more regular and normal." Try them. For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.
