

NO MEAT

—DELIVERED AFTER NOVEMBER 1st—

This is notice to the people of Plattsmouth, customers of Kunsman & Ramge:

We have come to the conclusion and completely convinced that on account of the high prices of meats, we can make it an object for you and everyone to come for your product. We have fully decided to quit delivering meat to anyone after November 2nd. We are satisfied you will be more pleased to select your meats and save yourself from 3 to 5c per pound on most of the cuts. The high price of stock and meat and the expense of delivering has compelled us to discontinue the delivery business after Nov. 2.

Pictures Failed to Arrive.

The manager and patrons of the Majestic theater were greatly disappointed last evening over the failure of the Omaha parade pictures to arrive, only the Woodmen dedication pictures being sent. This is the fault of the film exchange and Manager Shlaes will endeavor to secure the remaining series of pictures later. The other pictures were of the usual high standard that have been shown at this play house.

Hen Roost Robbed.

A. J. McNatt, who resides south of this city, near old Kenosha, is mourning the loss of about forty very valuable fowls, which someone lifted from his hen roost several nights ago. The parties they had better fight shy of the McNatt place in the future, as A. J. has the old shotgun loaded up and will give the next visitors a reception that will make them set up and take notice.

A NEW COMPANY ORGANIZE TO MANUFACTURE ENGINES

Articles of Incorporation Filed and Some of Our Best Citizens Compose the New Company.

"The Chopie Gasoline Engine Company, Limited," filed their articles of incorporation yesterday with a capital stock of $200,000. The officers of the new corporation are as follows: President, John A. Chopie; vice president, Edward Rynott; secretary and sales manager, Sam G. Smith; treasurer, H. M. Soennichsen. The above, with the addition of Adolph Geise, constitutes the board of directors.

This factory opens up a great possibility for the city of Plattsmouth and the entire county, as with the co-operation of the citizens of the county the project can be made a winner and the community will receive the benefit of having a manufacturing concern of this kind in our city. The city of Waterloo, Iowa, is an example of what a concern of this sort can do when it has the united support of the people of a community at its back. There the gasoline engine works started on a small scale, and as the business grew and expanded the number of men employed was increased and other manufactories were attached to the city and today Waterloo is one of the leading manufacturing points in that state, and the result has been solely brought about by the support the citizens gave to the first little gasoline engine factory.

The engines that have been manufactured by the Chopie company have undoubtedly made good, as is demonstrated by the testimonials of those who have used them. The laundry here is one example of what these engines can do. The laundry has a 7½ horse power engine which they are using to pull machinery that formerly required a 10-horse engine to do the work, and at a less cost than was formerly required. The farmers who have used these engines in their work on the farms are more than satisfied with the result of the work performed. H. W. Baughman, living west of this city, possesses a 2½-horse power Chopie and recently he borrowed the twenty-four-inch wood sawing outfit of one of his neighbors and the little engine sawed easily large logs of two feet. This is certainly a splendid demonstration of what the engines can do and will be appreciated more by those who are familiar with the amount of work that it is necessary to do in order to saw wood of this size. This is a repetition of the stories of those who have used these engines and it speaks eloquently of the power of the Chopie engines on the farm and as power for manufacturing purposes.

It is the intention of the new company to place their stock in as many hands as possible, as this is a co-operative concern and the more small stockholders that can be secured will create a greater interest among the people and bring them to a realization of the fact that the project is for the benefit of the whole community. The stock is to be in shares of $10 each, and already a large number of the farmers of the county have signified their intention of assisting in the corporation by the subscribing of stock, and it is the policy of the company to dispose of the stock as the enlarging business of the factory demands.

This factory is a proposition that our citizens cannot afford to pass up without serious thought; it can be made the biggest thing in the history of the city, but it cannot be expected that it will be possible to employ a large number of men at the start, as the company expects to proceed along conservative business lines and expand as the business demands, and this is the proper move and gives the stockholders and citizens in general a feeling that the business will be carried on in a safe business-like manner. We should lend our encouragement to the project, as we do not care to see some other city step in and take away what in time will prove a priceless boon to the city and its business interests.

In the past the old company has been unable to advance as it should, but with the new financial assistance the corporation will be able to start in at once on the realization of their projects, and with the assistance and boosting of our citizens will be able to build up a business that will make Plattsmouth a manufacturing city second to none in the state.

The company intends in the future to sell the engines to the dealers and they to sell them to the retail trade. The sales manager, Mr. Sam G. Smith, is well known throughout the county and his ability as a salesman cannot be questioned by anyone, and being in charge of the sale of an article of which there is no doubt that it is the cheapest and best on the market today, will make an undoubted success. The shop interests will be looked after by Mr. Chopie, who has made a life work of this kind of business and has no superior as a workman, which makes a guarantee that the engines will be all that is claimed for them.

Give this gasoline engine factory your hearty encouragement and endeavor to put it in a position where it will be a valuable asset to the city. The engines will be built from 2½ to 20 horse power and are today the greatest labor and gasoline-saving engine on the market, and this fact is acknowledged by all who have used them.

"THE PRINCE OF TONIGHT" ON SATURDAY NIGHT, OCTOBER 26

A Musical Comedy Commended by the Amusement-Loving People in All the Large Cities.

Something different from the usual run of the musical comedy, which contains froth and folly, intermingled with some musical jingles, will be seen when the gorgeous musical spectacle, "The Prince of Tonight," comes to the Parmele theater on Saturday night, October 26.

The froth is there and some folly, yet there is something substantial about the story, the music and the characters, that has elevated "The Prince of Tonight" above the plane of the ordinary musical offering. It has been termed by many critics a musical fantasy, with all the merit of high-class opera. Certainly it has proved the greatest surprise in years. It is an alluring conceit, full of pretty solos and chorus numbers rendered by attractive girls in fanciful costumes.

Adams, Hough and Howard, who are also well known for their clever work in a score of musical successes, have been credited with their best effort in the writing of "The Prince of Tonight." The story, consistent and of original trend, tells of a poor but resourceful college youth who has been badly snubbed by an heiress whose flirtations he mistakes for real love. At the magical moment of the blooming of a century plant, he is transformed into a prince, for the one night, of the mythical land of Lunitania. He is enabled to win the girl who snubbed him, after all manner of adventure, in the midst of fairyland scenes lavishly presented.

Among the many song hits are: "Her Eyes Are Blue for Yale," "It Is a Dear Old World After All," "The Best Thing a Waiter Does Is Wait," "I Can't Be True So Far Away," "Tonight Will Never Come Again," and "I Don't Want to Marry Your Family."

BOLD, BAD BURGLARS ENTER THE METHODIST CHURCH

Tuesday night some party or parties forced an entrance into the Methodist church, the entrance being effected through one of the windows. The miscreants broke the locks off all the lockers and desks in their effort to secure some plunder, but their efforts were futile, as there was nothing of any value taken. The parties evidently were new to the job, as a church is not usually rolling in wealth and they do not keep valuables laying around loose.

In the Lincoln Star of last evening we note that Miss Marie Robertson of this city has been selected as one of the committee to have charge of the sophomore hop. This hop is one of the main social events of the university life and the selecting of the committee is eagerly sought after, and we are delighted to learn that Miss Robertson is placed on the committee.

Married in Omaha. A marriage license was issued in Omaha yesterday in Eugene D. Mayfield and Miss Goldie Eager. The groom is a son of L. J. Mayfield, editor of the Courier at Louisville, and is a fine young man. The bride the Journal is not acquainted with, but we will wager she is one of the handsomest and most popular young ladies in Louisville. The Journal extends congratulations.

IN HONOR OF THE BRIDE-TO-BE

Mrs. C. S. Johnson Entertains for Her Niece, Miss Fern McBride, of South Omaha.

One of the most pleasant social events of the season in this city was the "at home" given by Mrs. Charles S. Johnson in honor of her niece, Miss Fern McBride, of South Omaha, whose engagement to Howard Holmes of Omaha has just been announced.

The Johnson home was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and their gorgeous coloring made the rooms seem a woodland scene. The afternoon was spent at cards, interspersed with vocal and instrumental music, many of the guests being talented musicians. At an appropriate hour Mrs. Johnson, assisted by Mrs. W. A. Robertson, served a most delicious two-course luncheon, which added greatly to the pleasures of the afternoon. Near the departing hour the guests surprised not only the bride-to-be but the hostess as well by tendering Miss McBride a miscellaneous shower, the young lady receiving numerous handsome presents. One of the pleasing features of the afternoon was the contest, in which each guest was to give three answers to the question, "How to Be Happy—Though Married," Mrs. R. C. Rawls winning the prize.

The invited guests were: Misses Margaret Scotten, Madeline Minor, Bessie Edwards, Helen Spies, Ethel Ballance, Florence White, Opal Fitzgerald, Alice Tuey, Esther Larson, Marie Fitzgerald, Fern McBride, Mesdames W. A. Robertson, R. G. Rawls, Marietta Grey and C. S. Johnson.

EXPERIENCE SOCIAL BY THE LADIES' AID SOCIETY

The experience social given by the members of the Ladies' Aid society yesterday afternoon was one of the most delightful occasions of the season and certainly one of the most successful in a financial way. Several weeks ago, at their regular meeting, the ladies decided that each would earn a dollar and it was at this time that each was to bring their dollar and relate as to how they raised the said amount. Mrs. W. L. Austin was hostess and this enjoyable afternoon's entertainment was held in the church parlors. There was a very large number in attendance, there being about 75 ladies present, and they realized over $70. Most of the time was spent in listening to the ways and means the ladies had used in raising their dollar, which was told in rhyme. Many of the rhymes were very humorous and the experiences related as to how they made their dollar was any way and every way from a speckled hen to a loaf of bread. During the afternoon delicious refreshments were served, which were likewise thoroughly enjoyed. The ladies are very much pleased over the success of this affair.

For Representative.

John J. Gustin is a candidate for representative from Cass county in the legislature. Having been reared on a farm, and having received a very fair education, I feel that if elected I can serve the people honestly and to their satisfaction. I will endeavor to do my best for the people I represent. I therefore solicit the votes of all who believe "in equal and exact justice to all."

John J. Gustin.

Wilson Club Tonight.

The Wilson and Marshall club will meet this evening at 8:30 at the council chamber and a full attendance of all those interested in progressive ideas is urged. The time is growing short now until election and every friend of the Wilson ticket should get busy.
