MASONIC HOME IN A FINE CONDITION

A Journal Reporter Visits the Institution and Finds Everything in Fine Shape.

From Saturday's Daily.

One of the institutions in this part of the state is the Nebraska Masonic Home, located in this city, and very few people who have not been over the Home can realize what a large institution it really is. The original building was the home of Hon. F. E. White, but since the Masonic order purchased the building two large additions have been added to the original, making a magnificent home for the old and helpless members of the order. The total cost of the buildings was something over $50,000. There are some sixty rooms in the building, all but ten of them being furnished, most of them through donations of the different lodges of the Masonic order, and several by individual members. The parlors in the main building are furnished most handsomely and are the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haller of Omaha. Among the decorations in these rooms are a number of beautiful paintings taken from the famous Liniger art gallery in Omaha. Mr. Liniger also donated a large sum of money to the Home, and his daughter, Mrs. Haller, has always shown great interest in the Home and its inmates. In the parlor is also the fine Victrola, presented to the Home by the state grand chapter of the Eastern Star.

The dining room, on the second floor of the Home, is a beautiful room, being light, airy and comfortable, and over a hundred persons can be seated at dinner in this spacious room. The individual rooms of the patients are all furnished in neat, substantial manner, and the name of the lodge or member furnishing the room appears on the door, together with the name of the patient occupying it. There are at present forty-two members enrolled, some of whom are quite feeble from advanced age, while others are affected with different complaints.

On the second floor are kept the patients who require the care of a nurse, and there are several nurses kept on hand to look after the sick and ailing members of the home. There are about ten employed around the Home, outside of the superintendent and family and the inmates of the Home, which is a pretty good showing for the Home to make. The health of the patients at the Home is also remarkable, only six deaths occurring there in the last three years, and it must be borne in mind that most of the members are quite old and in delicate health when brought to the Home for treatment.

The Home has its own light plant and laundry and they are kept in spotless condition, as is the whole institution. The laundry does all the rough washing for the Home, and it is hoped in the near future to install a new mangle, which will do the ironing of shirts and collars for the members of the home. The light plant furnishes a good, strong current of electricity for the Home and they are able to have electric light at any hour of the day or night and at a great saving of money to the association.

During the four and a half years that Superintendent Askwith has had charge of the Home conditions have been constantly growing better and the superintendent is a hard worker for the advancement of the Home, and to him and the board of control are due the splendid conditions prevailing there. The grounds surrounding the Home are among the most beautiful in the city and are kept in excellent condition by the management of the Home, and the handsome cannas planted by the superintendent adds a touch of beauty to the handsome lawn that is hard to equal.

REV. ALLAN G. WILSON BEGINS HIS PASTORATE TOMORROW

From Saturday's Daily.

Tomorrow morning the Rev. Allan G. Wilson begins his pastorate at St. Luke's church in this city, and that church, which has been without a regular rector for so long a time, will again be able to have a resident minister. Rev. Wilson has been in the missionary service in northern Kansas and will be greatly pleased to be able to have his family with him, as heretofore he has had to be on the road a good deal and has been kept away from home. We are glad to welcome Rev. Wilson and his family to this city and trust that their stay here may be full of bright and happy days.

Saved by His Wife.

She's a wise woman who knows just what to do when her husband's life is in danger, but Mrs. R. J. Flint, Braintree, Vt., is of that kind. "She insisted on my using Dr. King's New Discovery," writes Mr. F., "for a dreadful cough, when I was so weak my friends all thought I had only a short time to live, and it completely cured me." A quick cure for coughs and colds, it's the most safe and reliable medicine for many throat and lung troubles—grip, bronchitis, croup, whooping cough, quinsy, tonsillitis, hemorrhages. A trial will convince you. 50 cts. and $1.00. Guaranteed by F. G. Fricke & Co.

MISS FOSTER FINDS THE SCHOOLS IN FINE SHAPE

From Saturday's Daily.

Miss Mary E. Foster returned last evening from a tour of the western part of the county in the interests of the schools. Miss Foster visited all the schools in that part of the county and reports them to be in a flourishing condition and the attendance being kept up in good shape. The teachers of the county find a great aid in Miss Foster in their school work, as she is always alive to the best interests of the schools, and the pupils and the country schools have taken a great advancement since she assumed the office of county superintendent.

SIMON OBERNOLTE, AN OLD CITIZEN, DIES SUDDENLY

From Saturday's Daily.

Simon Obernolte, a well known Cass county citizen, 75 years of age, died suddenly of heart failure Tuesday evening at the farm home northeast of Wabash, on which he had lived for the past thirty years. He had eaten a hearty supper and was out of doors doing some little chores when the sickness came upon him and he died within a few minutes. Previous to moving to Wabash Mr. Obernolte was a resident of Plattsmouth and in an early day drove an ox team freight wagon between that city and Denver.

He is survived by a wife 66 years of age, and by six sons and one daughter. One of the sons, who lives at Silver Lake, California, will be the only one that will not be able to attend the funeral, as the others live in Nebraska and several in this vicinity, being well known here. The funeral was held Thursday at the home and interment made at the German Lutheran cemetery northwest of Mantley.—Weeping Water Republican.

Buys Car of Apples.

From Saturday's Daily.

John Murray of Alva, Okla., who has been visiting with friends and relatives in and near Murray for the past few days, was in the city today, and while here paid the Journal office a brief call, renewing for his paper for another year. He tells us that he expects to depart tomorrow evening for the southern part of the state, where he has bought a carload of apples that he will ship to Oklahoma. The apples will be loaded at Falls City, from which point he will start for his home at Alva.

Saves Leg of Boy.

"It seemed that my 14-year-old boy would have to lose his leg, on account of an ugly ulcer, caused by a bad bruise," wrote D. F. Howard, Aquone, N. C. "All remedies and doctors' treatment failed till we tried Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and cured him with one box." Cures burns, boils, skin eruptions, piles. 25c at F. G. Fricke & Co.

You may be a clothes expert—know woollens, making, etc., "from the ground up;" but the chances are you're not. And you really needn't be: you'll find only the kind of clothes here that an expert would choose; we've eliminated mistakes so that you can't make them. The proof is waiting for you now.

COL. W. L. WILSON, OF NEBRASKA CITY, DEAD

From Saturday's Daily.

Col. W. L. Wilson of Nebraska City, a pioneer citizen of Nebraska, died at 5:45 p. m. yesterday of paralysis. He will be buried from his home Monday afternoon.

Colonel Wilson was one of the best known bankers of Nebraska. He came to the state in 1870 and for more than thirty years has been president of the Nebraska City National bank. He had won his spurs as chief officer of a Pennsylvania volunteer regiment in the civil war. Since coming to this state he has been actively identified with the Loyal Legion and with the Masons. He has not been in good health for a considerable period, and one week ago was stricken with the malady which caused his death. He was 73 years old.

Colonel Wilson was well known in this city and has visited here on numerous occasions H. N. Dovey and family, who were intimate friends of the Wilson family.

REMOVE FROM COLORADO TO ARKANSAS

From Saturday's Daily.

The Journal is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. William Gingery, at Lincoln, Arkansas, ordering the Journal sent to them there. The Gingery family is now located on a small fruit farm in northwest Arkansas and have plenty of fruit and timber on their land. The property is situated on the mountain ridge and is about five miles from the beautiful little town of Posie Grove. The Gingery family have just recently moved to Arkansas from Colorado, where they proved up on their homestead and enjoyed bounteous crops of all kinds. The climate in Arkansas does not please Mr. and Mrs. Gingery as well as Colorado, but their crops are turning out in good shape.
