Will Be Held Thursday Evening,
November 21, at Methodist Church.

From Wednesday's Daily.

The second annual young men's banquet, given under the auspices of the Young Men's Bible Class of the Methodist church, will occur on Thursday evening, November 21, at 8 o'clock, in the parlors of the church. The purpose of the banquet is to bring together as many young men as can possibly be accommodated for an evening of pleasure and profit. The splendid precedent established last year will be followed upon the occasion and both the spread and speakers are to be excellent. The banquet will be served by the ladies of the church and the toast list will include several of the professional and business young men of the city and two of the most prominent public men of Omaha.

Owing to the space in the banquet room the sale of the tickets is necessarily limited to 150. The price of the tickets will be 50 cents and they may be secured from any of the following members of the class: A. O. Moore, Hugh Cecil, Elmer Frans, Jesse Perry, Guy Cook, E. H. Wescott, James Rishel, Floyd Stone, Glen Rawls, Jennings Seivers, Fred Hesse, Will Kyle.

The Journal predicts a most enjoyable and profitable event to every young man fortunate enough to attend.

O. P. MONROE'S BROTHER DIES IN MASSACHUSETTS

From Wednesday's Daily.

Mrs. O. P. Monroe received a message last night from her husband at Leominster, Mass., conveying the sad news that his brother, Eugene E. Monroe, had passed away at Worcester yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. Mr. Monroe left here Saturday night hoping to reach his bedside in time to see him alive, but owing to a delay in trains did not arrive in time to see him before he passed away. The doctor visited his brother here about a year ago and made quite a number of acquaintances, who will greatly mourn his loss. For some time he has been suffering from a general breakdown and was finally removed from his home at Orange, Mass., to Worcester for treatment at the hospital there. The sympathy of the entire community will go out to Mr. Monroe in the loss of his brother. The deceased leaves a widow and five children to mourn his loss.

J. G. Criswell, a painter, living at 540 North Mulberry St., Hagerstown, Md., states: "I had kidney trouble with a severe pain across my back, and could hardly get up after sitting down. I took Foley Kidney Pills and soon found the pain left my back. I could get up and down with ease, and the bladder action was more regular and normal." Try them. For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

RUSHING THE PAVING ON PEARL STREET

From Wednesday's Daily.

The grading on Pearl street for the new paving is being rushed along in good shape and the street will be in shape in a few days for the work of laying the new pavement to begin. The curbing is about all in and the street already presents a much improved condition and it will make a mighty nice looking street when completed and will add greatly to the value of the property situated on that thoroughfare. The streets of Plattsmouth are being put in good shape as fast as the city can afford to do the work and is in great contrast to the policy that was formerly employed in the street work. The city administration and the council deserve great credit for the manner in which they have labored for the improvement of our streets.

Geo. T. Craddock, Rubie, Ark., says: "I was bothered with lumbago for seven years so bad I could not work. I tried several kinds of kidney medicine which gave me little or no relief. Two bottles of Foley Kidney Pills cured me and now I can do any kind of work. I cheerfully recommend them to my friends." For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

THE NEBRASKA LIGHTING WIRES MASONIC HOME

From Wednesday's Daily.

The Nebraska Lighting company has just closed a contract with the Masonic Home association for the furnishing of electric current to the Masonic Home in this city for lighting and power purposes. The Home has been running their own power plant, but have come to the conclusion that it will be more economical for them to secure their current from the light company rather than keep up their private plant. The Masonic Home is quite a large institution and they have several hundred lights in the different buildings, as well as using the power for their laundry, and it will make quite a neat item for the lighting company each month. The manager of the company, Mr. Clabaugh, has had this in view for some time and consequently feels very well pleased with the result of his labors towards securing the contract.

Mrs. Peter Holan, 11501 Buckeye Rd., Cleveland, O., says: "Yes, indeed, I can recommend Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. My little boy had a bad case of whooping cough, some times he was blue in the face. I gave him Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and it had a remarkable effect and cured him in a short time." Contains no harmful drugs. For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

WHAT ABOUT THAT SEED CORN?

Some Pointers on the Seed Question That Will Prove Beneficial.

From Wednesday's Daily.

Is that seed corn picked yet? Really, it should have been picked three weeks ago. But during the last two weeks the germinating power has probably not been injured in the least, and if you put the ears in a dry, cool, airy place, where the ears will not touch each other, and where rats and mice cannot get at them, you will almost surely have seed corn which will germinate 98 to 100 per cent next spring.

Over much of our territory the fall weather has been unusually wet. It is especially important, therefore, that the seed corn, as soon as picked, be placed where it will dry out rapidly. An airy attic is a splendid place, the windows being kept open on the warm, dry days, and closed on the cold, wet days. The corn is not put in piles in this attic, but immediately on being picked is hung up, each ear to itself, or put in seed corn racks or on a seed corn tree. A seed corn tree is easily made by nailing a five-inch post, or a 4x4 to a two-inch board about two feet square, or any other platform which is large enough to hold it upright. Then every few inches on the upright post, finishing nails are driven in rows. The seed corn is then hung up merely by pushing the butts over the finishing nails.

Usually it is not necessary to use a fire to dry out seed corn. But sometimes in the cold, wet season, it may pay to keep a small fire going part of the time. Do not let the temperature run much over 60 degrees, or you may spoil the germination by causing the moist, new corn to sprout.

Remember that after corn is once thoroughly dried out, it will stand any amount of freezing, but that while it is wet, a few degrees below freezing will often destroy the germinating power. Especially is this true if the corn has been kept in a warm, moist place, and the germ has just started to sprout. By looking at the outside of the kernel, you cannot tell whether or not this has happened. You can be sure that it has not happened by keeping the corn in a dry, cool, airy place where the ears do not touch each other.
