MOST ENJOYABLE DINNER PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Roberts Entertain a Number of Their Friends Last Evening.

From Friday's Daily.

One of the most enjoyable dinner parties of the fall season was given last evening by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Roberts at their beautiful home on High School Hill. There were covers laid for fourteen at the seven-course dinner, and the table was most attractive with its handsome decorations. The guests were warned that any mention of the election would result in the one speaking about it being compelled to relate some story, and as a result some forty interesting stories were sprung by the different guests, which were very amusing to all present. Mrs. H. D. Travis and J. W. Newell related some of their experiences as amateur actors here several years ago in the interest of the library. Mr. Rawls was unkind enough to relate the experiences of the company that visited Omaha some years ago presenting "The Senate," and of their great triumph in that city, which caused a hearty laugh, as many were familiar with the circumstances in the case.

The dinner was a very elaborate seven-course affair and was one of the most delightful affairs held here for some time. Misses Gretchen and Marie Donnelly assisted in serving the delicious repast. The guests for this auspicious occasion were: Messrs. and Mesdames J. W. Newell, Chicago, A. G. Cole of Plainview, H. D. Travis, T. H. Pollock, C. A. Rawls and N. C. Abbott.

FINE DANCE AT T. J. SOKOL HALL

From Friday's Daily.

The T. J. Sokol society last night gave a most delightful dance at their hall on West Pearl street to the members of the society and a few invited friends. The evening was one continuous round of pleasure for the crowd of merry dancers and everyone attending felt that they had the time of their lives until the midnight hour brought the home-coming time for the dancers. Ample refreshments were served to the crowd and greatly assisted in making the dance an immense success. The M. W. A. orchestra furnished the music for the dance in their usual excellent manner.

At The Methodist Church.

From Friday's Daily.

The parlors of the M. E. church were the scene of a most delightful occasion yesterday afternoon, at which time the members and friends of the Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church were most enjoyably entertained by Mesdames Barnes, Babbitt and Burkel. The ladies held their regular business session and made further plans for their bazaar. The remainder of the afternoon was very pleasantly passed in social conversation, sewing and the like. At the proper time a fine luncheon was served by the hostesses, and was one to which the large number in attendance could not help but do justice.

Depart for Fort Crook.

From Friday's Daily.

The Second battalion of the Fourth infantry, which has been encamped at the rifle range, north of this city, departed yesterday for Fort Crook, having finished their practice. It is generally understood that the First battalion will return for a week's practice at the range and that the machine gun section of the regiment will follow them in a few weeks for a short practice. If the machine gun men bring their field pieces with them it will make quite a sight for those who are not used to seeing the artillery in action.

He Appreciates the Compliment.

From Friday's Daily.

Charles H. Busch desires the News to return his sincere and heartfelt thanks to the voters of Otoe and Cass counties, irrespective of party affiliations, who placed their confidence in him and gave him such an exceedingly big vote on Tuesday, thereby electing him to the legislature. Mr. Busch assures the News that he will endeavor to carry out every pledge he made during the campaign and will work for the best laws and for the best interests of the people of this part of the state. He has reason to be proud of the handsome majority he received and will endeavor to show the people his appreciation of the confidence which they placed in him.—Nebraska City News.

K. AND L. OF S. ENJOY THEMSELVES

Most Interesting Meeting and Enjoyable Time at Regular Session Last Night.

From Friday's Daily.

Platte Council of the Knights and Ladies of Security held a most interesting and pleasant meeting at their hall in the Woodman building last evening, which was largely attended by the members of the order. Several new members were voted into the order at the business session, after which the evening was given over to the social features of the lodge.

An excellent program had been arranged by the committee, which proved a most delightful feature of the evening's entertainment. Judge Allen J. Beeson gave a short talk to the members that was very instructive, as well as entertaining to the audience. A delightful solo was rendered by A. W. Moore, as well as selections from a quartet composed of B. A. McElwain, R. B. Windham, Mrs. M. A. Dickson and Miss Ellen Windham, which greatly pleased the members who were fortunate enough to be present. Miss Ethel Leyda presided at the piano and gave several pleasing numbers in her usual delightful manner. Miss Ellen Windham also gave a reading, which was very pleasing. After the program the refreshment committee, with Colonel Thrasher as chairman, took charge and treated the members to one of the finest "feeds" that they have enjoyed for many a day, and all voted that the refreshment committee was "there and over" on their part of the entertainment. The members concluded the evening in an informal social manner, with conversation and music. This lodge is constantly growing in membership and these social meetings promote the interest and enjoyment of the members of the order.

MRS. D. C. MORGAN AND MISS OLIVER ENTERTAIN

From Friday's Daily.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. D. C. Morgan and Miss Carrie Oliver entertained a large number of their friends at a most delightful luncheon at the Morgan home on North Sixth street. The house was profusely decorated with chrysanthemums and made a handsome appearance to the eye. The afternoon was a most enjoyable one to the large number of guests and time flew rapidly while enjoying the social time afforded them. The hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Gertrude Morgan, Misses Gertrude and Janette Morgan and Miss Catherine Shrack, served a most delicious three-course luncheon during the course of the afternoon, which added greatly to the pleasures of the occasion. Mrs. William Baird favored the guests with several of her delightful readings. Anyone who is invited to the Morgan home can be assured of a most delightful time, and this was no exception to the rule.

BILLY CLIFFORD AND HIS GREAT SHOW ARTISTS

A Merry Attraction at the Parmele Theater Wednesday Night.

From Friday's Daily.

In "The Girl, the Man and the Game," which is booked for the Parmele theater Wednesday night, November 13, will be seen a play packed full of songs and laughter. The plot is pure farce, and interspersed among the many ludicrous situations are many songs which have the life and go that make them instantly popular. Billy (Single) Clifford, the star of the play, and one who is one of the popular entertainers upon the American stage, is the singer of many of them, among which are: "On the First Dark Night Next Week," "Hands Up," the famous Billy song, "I Want a Berth for Bertha," "That Was All, Nothing More," "Texas Tommy's Dance," "Beautiful Love," "Clifford Dream Waltz," "Mine," "Rose Marie," "I Want a Girl," "Home Run Bill," "Winnie From Winnipeg," and many others equally tuneful and catchy.

Billy is surrounded by an excellent company, headed by Miss Mae Collins, who assumes the role of "The Girl," Jack Trainor, who is "The Cause" of "The Game." A clever prima donna in the person of Miss Marie Welter, Bud Braman, Edward C. Clifford, Lol Marlow and a host of others including his "Famous All Girlie Beauty Chorus."

The scenic and electric effects are beautiful and dazzling, while the costumes are bright, clean and gorgeous.

Nickels, assessor; Ben Beckman, overseer; Second Rock Bluffs, A. F. Nickels, assessor; W. P. Byers, overseer; Plattsmouth, G. W. Snyder, assessor; C. F. Vallery, overseer. In Plattsmouth city P. E. Ruffner and A. D. Despain were re-elected as assessors by large majorities.

To Adopt Child.

From Friday's Daily.

An adoption matter was heard in the county court this afternoon on the application of the Nebraska Children's Home society for the adoption of Jennie Idle, the 12-year-old daughter of J. W. Idle of Elmwood. The father of the little girl has remarried and it was thought that she could receive better training and care in the home of the society than the parents could give her.

BACK TO DAVID CITY.

Back to David City,

Chester Aldrich.

What a pity! What a pity!

Chester Aldrich.

You might have made a good bull moose—

You made the "bull," but what's the use,

Now's the time that you vamoose,

Chester Aldrich.

You took a jab at Mr. Taft,

Chester Aldrich.

Long and loud you laughed and laughed,

Chester Aldrich.

You thought your antics quite a joke—

The last to laugh doth laugh best.

You laughed at first—you know

the rest,

Chester Aldrich.

You talked too much throughout the race,

Chester Aldrich.

We need more head for governor's place,

Chester Aldrich.

And now, henceforth, it can be said,

We'll have less talk—we've got

"Morehead."

While homeward turns your weary tread,

Chester Aldrich.

PROTECTING SEED CORN FROM THE MICE

From Friday's Daily.

O. M. Olson, of the Minnesota Agricultural college, in the Dakota Farmer, explains several methods for protecting seed corn from mice. As they are quite appropriate at this time, we reprint them for the benefit of our readers:

One of the requirements in the winter storage of seed corn is to have it stored beyond the reach of mice. Many a bushel of good seed corn has been completely destroyed during the winter by the depredations of mice. There can be no excuse for thinking that the mice may not find it. They invariably do find it, and unless it is amply protected, serious damage is bound to occur. The only advisable course to follow is to prepare for them when the corn is put in storage.

"If the corn is stored by hanging it up with string or twine, it is a good plan to stretch several lengths of strong fence wire in the store room, and suspend the strings of corn from these wires. Where it is stored on corn trees, the lower portion of the upright should be completely wrapped with tin for a few inches, or a circular piece of tin fitted about this lower portion.

"Another good method of storage is to make up several crates and line them with window screen. They can be made up any size, preferably about two feet by three feet, using four-inch fence board material in making them. By making the sides comparatively open, it permits a good circulation of air through the crate, and still the linings will prevent any damage from mice. Good seed corn deserves ample protection."

YOUNG PEOPLE JOINED IN HOLY BONDS OF WEDLOCK

From Saturday's Daily.

Last evening County Judge Beeson was called upon to unite in marriage at the court house Floyd Richardson and Miss Gladys Vroman, of this city. Both of the young people are well known and possess a host of friends, who will be greatly pleased to learn that the young folks have decided to travel down the stream of life together. The groom is a son of John Richardson of this city, and is employed in the Burlington shops and is highly respected by all who know him. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. C. J. Baker, residing in the south part of the city, and is very popular with a large circle of friends, who will wish her much happiness in her wedded life.

A little ad in the Journal will serve the purpose.

VERY GRATEFUL TO THE PEOPLE

Congressman Maguire Returns Thanks to the Voters of the First District.

From Saturday's Daily.

After thanking the people of the district for the support given him at the election Tuesday, Congressman Maguire, democrat, says this in his statement:

"In every campaign there are differences of opinion and men take various points of view in considering great questions, but by patience and forbearance all of us can contribute to the correct solution of the great problems that confront the nation today. It is a tribute to the good sense and intelligence of the American people that they can fight out a great campaign with practically no bitterness or malice remaining after the sovereign people have spoken through the ballot box.

"The best way a successful candidate for office can acknowledge his gratitude is by rendering conscientious, honest and efficient service to the people who have chosen him, and in my case I renew my pledge to all the people of this district that my best efforts will be devoted to the future as in the past to the fulfillment of every platform pledge in the interest of all the people of my district and of our common country."

FARMERS' INSURANCE COM- PANY VERY PROSPEROUS

From Saturday's Daily.

The Farmers' Fire and Live Stock Insurance company of this county, at their recent meeting, elected the following officers, who will take charge the first Monday in January: President, Jacob Tritsch; vice president, J. H. Becker; secretary, J. P. Falter; treasurer, M. L. Friedrich; directors, John Albert, J. M. Meisinger, Henry Horn, A. A. Wetenkamp, Adam Hild, Philip Schafer and August Ost. This farmers' insurance company is one of the most prosperous in this part of the state and has showed a very flattering increase in their business under the capable management of the efficient officers of the company. The stockholders are among the richest farmers of the county and the company is one of the rock-ribbed financial institutions of this section and have always given satisfaction in their settlements of losses.

MANY FRIENDS SURPRISE MRS. MARVELLA HOWLAND

From Saturday's Daily.

Last evening Mrs. Marvella Howland was treated to a delightful informal surprise from a number of her friends. The party came in unannounced on Mrs. Howland about 8:30, and although completely surprised, she proceeded to make the visitors feel entirely at home and entered into the enjoyment of the pleasant occasion. The guests had come amply provided, and most delicious refreshments were served, which proved one of the enjoyable features of the evening. The evening was spent in social conversation, interspersed with musical selections and also two very pleasing humorous readings by Mrs. A. J. Beeson. Late in the evening Mr. C. A. Rawls, in a short speech, presented Mrs. Howland with a beautiful remembrance in behalf of the friends, and all joined in wishing her much joy and happiness in her new home.

Those who assisted in getting up the surprise were: Messrs. and Mesdames William Baird, E. C. Hill, E. H. Wescott, C. E. Wescott, C. C. Wescott, E. D. Cummins, W. L. Austin, A. J. Beeson, C. A. Rawls, J. M. Roberts, J. W. Crabill, W. J. Streight, R. B. Windham and daughter, Hermia, Mrs. H. D. Travis, Mrs. John Brady and daughter, Leona, and Miss Johnston.

Burlington's Annual Election.

From Friday's Daily.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad company yesterday all of the retiring directors were re-elected with the exception of Norman B. Ream of New York. Mr. Ream tendered his resignation and Hale Holden, assistant to President Darius Miller of the company, was chosen to fill his place. Directors re-elected included George F. Baker, George C. Clark, William P. Clough, James N. Hill, Edward T. Nichols and Samuel Thorne, all of New York; George B. Harris and Darius Miller, Chicago, and James J. Hill and Howard Elliott of St. Paul.

A NEBRASKA BOY COMES TO THE FRONT

E. M. Buckner, Former School Boy in Plattsmouth, Makes Record as Attorney.

From Saturday's Daily.

The October number of the University Journal, the official organ of the University of Nebraska, published at Lincoln, contains a handsome portrait of a former student of that institution who has become quite prominent in the legal profession in New York City. The young man is Emory Roy Buckner, a member of the law class of 1904, and who for several years was a student at the Plattsmouth schools, while his father, Rev. J. D. M. Buckner, was pastor of the Methodist church at this place. E. H. Wescott was a close friend of Mr. Buckner, they being seatmates in school, and a very warm friendship grew up between the two young men.

Mr. Buckner has just been appointed by the investigating committee of the New York board of aldermen as their counsel in the work of investigating the police department of that city, and the honor may be appreciated when the names of such eminent legal lights as ex-Governor Frank S. Black, William Travers Jerome and William M. Ivins were considered as attorneys for the investigation. The leading citizens urged the appointment of Mr. Buckner, including Dr. Lyman Abbott, J. Pierpont Morgan, Jr., and Secretary of War Stimson, under whom Mr. Buckner served as assistant United States district attorney from 1907 to 1909. It was in this capacity in the sugar trust fraud cases that he first began to attract attention as one of the leading lawyers of the New York bar, and his advancement to the front has continued from that time.

As a debater Mr. Buckner won high honors while a student at the state university, representing that school in the debates with Kansas in 1903 and 1904, and was also very prominent in the various college societies. While a student at Harvard law school he was very studious and repeatedly won the praise of the instructors, and it was on the recommendation of the late Dean James Barr Ames and other members of the faculty that he was selected as assistant district attorney of New York in 1907, only three months after he landed in New York.

Dance at Turner Hall.

Next Saturday evening occurs the big dance at the Deutsch Haus in honor of the visiting turners who will be here from Omaha and Fremont. On Sunday, November 17, a turning exhibition will be given at the hall by the visiting members. This exhibition will be one of the best seen here for years and should prove a most enjoyable event for the members of the local society.

Meet With Mrs. C. H. Cobb.

The B. L. C. of the M. E. church met with their president, Mrs. C. H. Cobb, Wednesday afternoon. A very interesting meeting was held, after which refreshments were served by the hostess.
