SATURDAY, 16th November

ONE NIGHT ONLY

One of the CLEANEST, PUREST and MOST WHOLESOME PLAYS on the Stage Today is being presented by —The Locke Theatrical Enterprise—

-The Girl-

and

-The Gawk!-

(By Will H. Locke)

Does the title strike you as a peculiar one? Well, it is a peculiar play. You never saw one like it. So do not be misled by a wrong impression. Or you will miss seeing a really clever and meritorious performance.

PRICES—25c, 35c and 50c—NO HIGHER
Seats on Sale NOW at the Riley Hotel—Get Them Early!

Another Pioneer Citizen.

John W. Urwin of Louisville was in the city today looking after some business matters at the court house. Mr. Urwin is one of the pioneer residents of the county and recalls well the organization and departure of the First Nebraska regiment from this city at the outbreak of the civil war, although he was only a small boy then.

Now Taking Orders.

P. E. Ruffner, the old reliable fruit tree man, has begun to take orders for next spring's delivery for the famous Stark Brothers nursery of Louisiana, Missouri, which company is one of the oldest in the west and has a host of satisfied customers through this section of the country, and as Mr. Ruffner is an experienced man with fruit trees it would pay prospective purchasers to see him.

Bazaar November 29 and 30.

The ladies of the M. E. church will hold their bazaar on November 29 and 30, in the room formerly occupied by A. L. Henry in the Riley block. They will have all kinds of fancy work and aprons for sale and anyone desiring anything along this line had better wait until they see what the ladies will have. 11-14-3td.

Gets Toe Mashed.

While engaged in loading a small car with iron at the shops Tuesday Peter Carlson was so unfortunate as to have the car run over one of his feet, mashing one toe in bad shape and causing him to have to take an enforced lay-off for a few days from his duties in the shops.

Dance at German Hall.

Don't fail to attend the splendid social dance to be given Saturday evening, November 16, at the German Turner hall. The M. W. A. orchestra will furnish the latest and most up-to-date music and a good time is assured all who attend.

May Term Adjourned.

The May term of the district court was adjourned sine die by Judge Travis and the matters before the court closed up, preparatory to the assembling of the jury for the November term, which opens Monday, November 25.

Mynard now has a new blacksmith in the person of Mr. C. Davis, who has taken charge of the shop of R. L. Probst in that village. Mr. Davis comes very highly recommended as being sober and industrious and a first-class mechanic. He has moved his family into a cottage close to the shop and will be found attending strictly to business from Monday morning until Saturday night.

Henry Hinz, sr., was in the city yesterday afternoon attending to some matters of business.

T. W. Vallery of the precinct was in the city yesterday afternoon looking after some trading with the local merchants.

Mrs. H. J. Streight and granddaughter, Miss Beth Jackson, returned last evening from Omaha, where they had been visiting Mr. Streight at the hospital.

Miss May Richey departed yesterday afternoon for Louisville, where she will visit her brother, Charles Richey and family, for a short time.

Mrs. Luke Wiles returned last evening from Omaha, where she had been to look after some business matters.

Wash A. Young and A. L. Todd were passengers this morning for Omaha and Council Bluffs, where they looked after some business matters.

AT THE PARMELE THEATRE LAST NIGHT

"The Girl, the Man and the Game" Draws a Large Audience and Pleases the People.

The Parmele theater was crowded last evening with a delighted audience to witness the presentation of "The Girl, the Man and the Game," with Billy (Single) Clifford in the leading role, and the show certainly was made for laughing purposes only, as the audience was kept in a continuous laugh by the comic situations depicted by the actors.

There were some very pleasing musical numbers given and the members of the company have some excellent voices in the cast. Especially noticeable was the singing of Miss Marie Welter, who sang the selection, "Rose of Killarney," which was one of the hits of the show. Ed C. Clifford, as George Livingston, gave a number of baritone solos and made the hit of the evening in his song, "Bring Back My Bonnie to Me."

The company was very good in their presentation and made an evening of enjoyment to all who attended the show. Mr. Billy Clifford is one of the best farce comedians that has appeared here this season. Jack Trainer, as the grouchy uncle, was delightful in his rendition of the part and it would have been a great pleasure to the audience if he could have held the stage during the entire show, as his acting was finished and very laughable.

Manager Shlaes is to be congratulated on securing this company for last night, and the fine attendance certainly shows that the theater-going public appreciates his efforts to serve them and it is to be hoped that he can secure more shows as good as "The Girl, the Man and the Game" for appearance at the theater this season.

"THE GIRL AND THE GAWK" COMING SATURDAY NIGHT

The next attraction at the Parmele is "The Girl and the Gawk," next Saturday night. It is said to be a beautiful southern play that does not depend on murder, stolen papers, wills, mortgages or any such hackneyed and threadbare ideas for a plot. There is no shooting, killing or crime depicted, but still there is such an intensity in the story that it holds the audience in a spell of excitement until the happy finale. It is a play that has been witnessed and approved by clergymen of every denomination. It is a wholesome, clean and pure play. You never saw one like it, so don't be misled by a wrong impression, or you will miss a really meritorious performance. It has plenty of ginger and fun to make it interesting, and also plenty of romance. Don't fail to see it at popular prices. Remember—Saturday night.

BUSY DAY IN JUDGE ARCHER'S COURT TODAY

W. L. Miller and August Fickel, who had been found in a very bad state of intoxication in the village of Cedar Creek Tuesday, were brought in this morning by the sheriff and brought before the court, who, after hearing the evidence in the case sentenced them to thirty days in the county jail and to pay the costs in the case amounting to $9.35, and the men will probably have to lay out the costs in the jail. This is a somewhat expensive spree for the boys and they will probably hesitate the next time before indulging so heavily in the drink that cheers.

To Visit in Oklahoma.

G. W. Homan departed today for Oklahoma City, where he will visit for about a month and will then return home for a short time and then go to Corning, Iowa, where he expects to spend the winter with his brother, who resides near that place, and who is in poor health. Mr. Homan expects to return to Plattsmouth in the spring, as he thinks there is no place as good as the old town, but his brother's health makes it necessary for him to assist him during the winter.

Journal for fancy Stationery.

Stork Visits Hayes' Home.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Hayes was made much happier last evening by the arrival of a handsome new daughter, who will make her home with them in the future. The mother and little one are getting along nicely and the general foreman of the shops was able to be around at his duties today, though still in a very excited condition. This is the first child in this family and consequently there is nothing in the world too good for the little lady.

COMING TO THE PARMELE SOON

"The House of a Thousand Candles," a Play That Takes With the People.

The management of the Parmele theater announces as the attraction coming soon the original New York production of "The House of a Thousand Candles," a play founded upon the novel of Meredith Nicholson, by George Middleton, and produced at Daly and Hackett theaters in New York city for nearly an entire season.

The dramatist has succeeded in translating to the stage the story, without loss of dramatic interest or value. It has been extremely successful from the first performances. The action moves at a rapid pace, and the scenes succeed one another in logical and progressive order; it is a strong, virile drama, with a plausible, consistent, convincing plot, that can be as easily understood and enjoyed by one who is a stranger to the book as by one who has read the fascinating tale of the house of mystery.

The most made of every dramatic situation in Mr. Nicholson's novel and a play has been modeled upon it as clear and interesting as the novelist's story. To the plot as revealed in the novel, more substance has been added, and this, in turn, has lent weight to the drama, built a stronger story for stage purposes around each character and assisted in developing to their fullest extent all the dramatic qualities of the book. Bates, the silent, inscrutable butler, steps into the position of hero, and though it is by no means easy to make a hero of a valet, the dramatist has succeeded admirably. Moreover, the elevation of Bates is accomplished without detracting appreciably from the prominence of young Glenarm, the hero of the novel, and in one scene still the hero of the play. But behind the footlights Bates gets the prominence which is really his due and which the story of Mr. Nicholson allowed him by suggestion, rather than by emphasis. This adjustment of the characters' values is less a liberty than a development of the novel's possibilities, and not only does it modify the story to any material extent, but assists as a matter of fact in making the stage version clearer than it might otherwise have been, and the scenes and situations more effective and more plausible.

WHAT IT COST THE VARIOUS CANDIDATES TO RUN FOR OFFICE

The expense accounts of the central committees and candidates of the different parties in the recent campaign indicate that the voters of the county were not corrupted by the use of money. The democratic committee received $55 from the candidates and expended the sum of $45, while the republicans did not receive any money and the secretary of the committee expended the sum of $8.75. William Weber, republican candidate for commissioner, spent $31 in the race for that office; W. B. Banning, democratic nominee for state senator, expended $96.75 in the campaign in this and Otoe counties; J. J. Gustin, the newly elected representative, spent $37 to win his seat in the legislature; W. R. Bryan, the successful candidate for assessor, spent $20, while his opponent, L. A. Tyson, expended $54.15 in the race. The laws against the spending of large sums of money in campaigns is evidently not in danger of being violated by any of the candidates in this county.

AT THE HIGH SCHOOL TONIGHT

Art Exhibit and Program of Entertainment for Patrons and Everybody.

This afternoon at 4 o'clock the H. P. Whitmore art exhibit from Omaha, without doubt the most magnificent one ever shown here, will open in the Plattsmouth High school, and the public of the city should see the exhibit, as the pictures shown there are copies of some of the world's greatest masterpieces and it is well worth the price of admission, regardless of the good cause in which it is given.

The auditorium at the High school will be open this evening at 7 o'clock for the inspection of the artistic pictures. It will remain open until 10:30, and everyone is urged to take time to look the exhibit over thoroughly.

At 8 o'clock the following program, lasting about one hour, will be rendered by pupils of the High school:

- Piano Duet
- Elsie Rossler, Sophie Hild, '15
- Piano Solo
- Blanche Sayles, '16
- Song
- Mabel Adams, '13
- Piano Solo
- Emma Cummins, '14
- Mandolin Duet
- Sophie Ulrich, '14, and Josie Ulrich, '15
- Piano Solo
- Heljen Hadraba, '14
- Song
- Kate York, '15
- Reading
- Myra Stenner, '16
- Piano Solo
- Mae Barker, '13
- Song
- Ferris York, '13

The tickets for the art exhibit have been going like hot cakes, each of the children striking friends to purchase. The money received by each room from the sale of tickets by the pupils in the room will be expended by the teacher, advising with her pupils, for a beautiful picture to be hung in the room. The children will appreciate these pictures the more, knowing that they have been secured largely through their own efforts.

LIVED IN CASS COUNTY THIRTY YEARS AGO

Charles Tracey of Richfield, Idaho, who has been visiting at the home of Frank Moore, near Murray, was in the city yesterday afternoon en route to Omaha. Mr. Tracey formerly resided in this county, about thirty years ago, living in the vicinity of Rock Bluffs, and has a warm spot in his heart for his old home. There were many of the old friends left in this vicinity whom Mr. Tracey recognized, but the boys and girls of those days have grown up and the older people have, to a large extent, passed away. Mrs. Tracey accompanied her husband back to the old home and is visiting with friends at Murray.

PERPETRATORS SHOULD BE APPREHENDED

There has been reports of several occasions of late where parties have visited some of the residences in the north part of the city and thrown rocks and other missiles. At the residence of A. W. Dawson two windows were broken, while at the other places visited they contented themselves with pelting the houses with different missiles. These acts may have been done in a spirit of fun, but if anything serious should result, the perpetrators of the deed may get into very serious trouble.

Gets New Contract.

Frank Gobelman has just closed a contract to paint the Metzger homestead, near Cedar Creek, and will begin the work in a short time. Mrs. Metzger is to be congratulated on securing the services of Mr. Gobelman, as he is one of the leading painters in this section of the state.
