"THE HOME OF GUARANTEED VALUES"

WE HAVE A FINE LOT OF CHRISTMAS TOYS

MYNARD.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson of Plattsmouth spent Thursday at the home of Sherman Cole.

Gillespie & Snyder are shipping a fine bunch of hogs to the South Omaha market this week.

Fred Beins and family of Havelock ate Thanksgiving dinner with the family of John Livingston.

C. H. Shopp is installing a new gas engine in the Gillespie elevator. The old engine has given service for about 15 years.

P. H. Mahoney and daughter, Leynell, and Ross Mitchell visited over Thanksgiving at the home of R. L. Propst and family.

W. B. Porter and family motored to Nebraska City last Sunday and were guests of Mrs. A. L. Cox, formerly a merchant of our town.

Colder weather has given the town a new appearance, as most everybody is seemingly in a hurry to get on the warm side of a well-heated stove.

Mrs. O. J. Davis of Syracuse, Neb., who has been visiting with Mrs. William Wetenkamp for the past week, returned to her home Friday morning.

The M. E. parsonage will be one of the nicest and most convenient dwellings in town when completed. The carpenter work is about completed and it is ready for the painters.

John Livingston visited the South Omaha market for sheep last week. John has several carloads of fat lambs that he will ship as soon as the market hits where he wants it.

Mrs. M. Ronsoville, of Denver, who has been a guest at the home of Roy Howard and family for several days, departed on the morning train for an extended visit among relatives in the southern part of the state, before returning to her home.

The box social given by the school of District No. 45 was largely attended at the Woodman hall and an enjoyable time was had by all, and the well-filled boxes brought prices that netted a nice little sum which will be expended in beautifying the school room.

W. T. Richardson and family spent Thanksgiving in South Omaha at the home of his brother, Frank. They spent a pleasant time and partook of a dinner that could only be surpassed by something better, and that something would be hard to find, for the writer knows. He has had his feet under Mrs. Frank Richardson's table.

Harold Tool and Miss Mina Goehry were guests of Fred Gorder and family of Weeping Water at supper last Thursday evening.

Several of our young people attended the dance in Weeping Water Thanksgiving night, among them were: Harry Gillespie, Harold Tool, Max and Paul Goehry, Edgar Moomey, Will Boelter, Frank and Charles Glaubitz, Misses Leata McDonald, Mina Goehry of Omaha, Etta Sorick of Lincoln, Martha Goehry of Valley, Anna Glaubitz and Mr. and Mrs. John Amgwert.

Read the advertisement of Hiatt & Tutt in another column of this page, and then attend their Big Removal Sale. You will find they have some bargains to offer you.

George O. Dovey returned yesterday to Lincoln, where he is attending the state university.

MURDOCK.

Miss Grayce Lawton has been on the sick list for the past ten days.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kuehn on Friday, November 29.

William Monroe and family ate Thanksgiving dinner with Frank Coyne and family.

Miss Belle Davison spent the week-end with relatives and friends in Weeping Water.

Harry Gillespie and Miss Helen Moomey ate turkey at the H. V. McDonald home last Thursday.

Max and Paul Goehry and Edgar Moomey left Friday for Iowa, where they will shuck corn and see the country.

William Rush and family entertained Rev. and Mrs. Cole and family of Lincoln at Thanksgiving dinner.

23 Days to XMas

MEANS MORE FOR EASTERN NEBRASKA

Opening the Way for Greater and More Extensive Development for the Country.

The state board of irrigation has rendered their decisions in the conflicting claims on the part of syndicates for use of the Loup and Platte river waters for industrial development purposes. Evidently the board, in its decisions, tried to make it possible for all claimants to go ahead and do business. They permit the original Babcock filings covering the taking of the water from the Loup river at Genoa and dropping it back into the stream near the point where that river moves into the Platte. They gave to the syndicate represented by Lincoln Traction stockholders, and the Moore interests of Michigan, the right, under their application, to take the waters from the mouth of the Loup river and use it, requiring its return to the Platte at a point above the in-take of the Fremont proposition, which is in the hands of Fremont parties and the Kountze interests of New York City, says the Lincoln Trade Review.

As to the merits of the different contending interests seeking the use of the Loup and Platte river waters, and as they are effected by the decision, the question is a too intricate one in legal and engineering lore for newspaper discussion, but as practically all parties seem to feel that the decision is largely their way, it is not improbable that all three interests may proceed with their development. The Babcock-Doherty interests, the first on the river, are working at present; the Fremont-Kountze proposition, it has been given out, is entirely financed ready for development work next year. President Sharp of the Lincoln Traction company has stated that the decision was a victory for their company and so that being the case, there seems to be no reason why it, on its part, cannot go ahead and finance their proposed power canal and be into the game next year.

It is going to mean more to eastern Nebraska if these developments, one or all of them, materialize than any improvement that this state has made in years; the handicap to Nebraska in developing manufacturing business and interurban traffic has been because of the high cost of power. If these water projects shall give this state prices that will bring power down to its cost to consumers in Wisconsin and Illinois, or even in Iowa, there will be an impetus given to state development along these lines for which we all have been patiently waiting.

Entertains Most Pleasantly.

One of the most delightful Thanksgiving dinners held in this vicinity was that given by Mrs. George E. Sayles at her home in Cedar Creek, to which a number of relatives and friends were invited. The dinner was all that the heart of the epicurian could crave and was served in Mrs. Sayles' most charming manner. Those who were present to partake of the delicious repast were: W. H. Seybert, wife and family; A. Thomsen and wife and Mr. and Mrs. John McNurlin of this city.

THE RIFLE RANGE ROAD BEING PUT IN GOOD SHAPE

The new road to the rifle range, north of this city, is being put in good shape and will make a splendid driveway, as it is being widened and will now permit the passage of teams, where before it was so narrow in places that it was impossible for them to pass each other. The new road has been constructed by the county and will be one of the biggest improvements that has been made on the roads in this locality for some time and will afford an easy way for the government to get to and from their rifle range. The road has been graded up to the railroad tracks north of the city and now the city can carry out their plans of fixing up the streets connecting with the road and make it an ideal road to the government range.

JUDGE TRAVIS TO TRY WOODMAN RATE CASE

District Judge H. D. Travis departed this morning for Hastings, where he will preside in the hearing of the Modern Woodmen of America rate case that comes up for hearing in the district court there. Judge Travis takes the place of Judge Dungan, who is unable to preside at the trial. This is the case where the insurgent Woodmen seek to prevent the head camp from raising the rates of their insurance, as was outlined at the meeting held recently. The Illinois courts have held against the head camp of the Woodmen and the raise in rates has temporarily been passed over by the officers of the lodge until an opinion can be had on the Illinois decision by a higher court.

New Cottage at Cedar Creek.

Jake Schneider has almost completed a mighty fine new cottage in Cedar Creek, that is just as near modern as can possibly be made in that little village. It is complete in every particular. The work was all done by contractors of this city. Tom Isner having the general contract, John Bauer the contract for the heating and plumbing and John Kinser, the veteran menter man, putting on the plastering. When such men as the above do the work there is no question about Mr. Schneider having a fine home.

To Be Married Tomorrow.

County Judge Beeson today issued a marriage license to Will H. Meisinger and Miss Louisa Hennings, who will be married tomorrow at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Hennings. The groom is a son of J. H. Meisinger and wife, and both of the young people are among the most popular in this part of the county.

Soon to Return Home.

L. W. Lorenz was a visitor in Omaha yesterday, spending the day with his wife at Immanuel hospital. Mrs. Lorenz is improving rapidly and will probably be able to return home next Sunday, feeling very much improved in health. Mrs. Lorenz has a host of friends throughout the county, who will be delighted to learn that she has recovered so nicely from the operation, and they will be more than pleased to see her return home.

Returns to Kansas.

Miles Standish of Garnett, Kansas, who has been visiting relatives and friends here for several days, departed Saturday for his home. Miss Myrtle Standish, who has been here for several months, departed this morning for her home and was accompanied by her aunt, Mrs. Mary Ball, of South Omaha, who will visit with the Standish family for some time. While in this city Miss Standish was the guest of her uncle, John McNurlin and wife.

DEATH OF A FORMER PLATTSMOUTH CITIZEN

O. B. Polk, Prominent Attorney of Lincoln, Dies From Effects of Operation Saturday.

Another former Plattsmouth citizen passed away Saturday in Lincoln, in the person of Orpheus Beecher Polk, a prominent attorney of the capital city. Mr. Polk had just undergone a very serious operation and he never rallied from the effects of it and soon sank into the sleep that knows no awakening.

O. B. Polk was born November 23, 1863, in Henry county, Indiana, and came west with his father in 1872, the family locating in this city, where the young man attended school and grew to manhood. He graduated from the university in 1888. In 1892 he removed to Lincoln, where he engaged in the practice of law. Mr. Polk was married to Miss Alta B. Scott in 1895. Besides his immediate family he leaves three brothers to mourn his loss, as follows: L. L. Polk of Lincoln, Milton D. Polk and C. S. Polk of Boise, Idaho.

Mr. Polk was very well known in this city, where he had been a frequent visitor since his removal to Lincoln, on legal matters, and possessed a host of friends throughout the county who will learn with regret of his death.

The funeral will be held tomorrow at the late home, 600 North Twenty-seventh street, Lincoln.

SERVICE AT ST. LUKE'S CHURCH YESTERDAY

The first Sunday in Advent was observed at St. Luke's church yesterday. The Advent season is the penitential season of the church preparatory to the feasts of the nativity. The principal thoughts of which this season is emblematic are the fewer last things—death, judgment, heaven, hell. At the morning service the rector baptized the following children: Louise Harris, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Harris of Omaha; Jane Gade Fricke, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fricke; George Earl Miller, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. George Henry Miller of this city. A large congregation was present, in spite of the weather.

DR. T. P. LIVINGSTON THE HAPPIEST MAN IN TOWN

This morning the stork visited the home of Dr. and Mrs. T. P. Livingston and left with them one of the finest little boys in the world, and to say that the parents were delighted is unnecessary. The little man is getting along in fine shape, as well as the mother, and it is the sincere wish of their friends that he will grow up to be a joy and comfort to the doctor and his charming wife.

H. J. Streight Improving.

Henry J. Streight, who has been at one of the Omaha hospitals for some time undergoing an operation, is reported as being on the highway to recovery and the doctors have decided that if his present rate of improvement continues he will soon be able to return to his home in this city. W. J. Streight and family visited Mr. Streight at the hospital yesterday and they were delighted with the improvement shown by the patient.

THE MOORE GREEN HOUSE UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

The Plattsmouth greenhouse, which was under the management of L. A. Moore for years, has just been taken charge of by Messrs. R. E. Andrews and T. L. McDonald, who will operate it in the future. Both of these gentlemen are experienced florists and will give the people of Plattsmouth an up-to-date place where they can secure a supply of cut flowers for any occasion that may come up. The new firm will make a special effort to serve the Christmas trade and will have some of the finest cut flowers that have been in this city for years. Mr. McDonald, the junior member of the firm, has had a life-long experience in the florist business, and prior to coming to this city was connected with the large Wilcox greenhouse in Council Bluffs, which is one of the largest in the west. The new firm contemplates a number of changes in the interior of their greenhouse, which will place it in a more modern condition and enable them to handle the business, which has been allowed to run down in the past few years.

Son at Ray Beaver Home.

A little son was born this morning to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Beaver and there is nothing but sunshine around the Beaver home today. The babe and all concerned are doing nicely. The news of the birth of the new son to Mr. and Mrs. Beaver will be pleasing to their many friends throughout the city.
