

TRIBUTE OF ESTEEM TO MRS ROSE JENSEN

Loved by All Who Know Her—The Casket Was Littered Buried in Wreaths of Flowers.

The high esteem and deep affection in which Mrs. Frank Jensen was held in her home at Newman Grove will be shown by the following account of her death, which appeared in the Newman Grove Reporter. Mrs. Jensen was formerly Miss Rose Patton of this city, and her untimely death, while still in the sunshine of young womanhood, caused a feeling of deep grief here among those friends who had known her so long and well:

All Newman Grove was surprised and shocked Tuesday morning when the news got around town that Mrs. Dr. Jensen was dead. It was known that her health was very poor, but no one realized that the end was so near. It seemed impossible to believe that the report was true. Death was due to the perils of motherhood, perils which all women must face and against which science sometimes is powerless.

Mrs. Jensen was one of the most lovable and popular women in town. Naturally, she was of a quiet, even, retiring disposition, but her many good qualities were so apparent, her nature so sympathetic, her mind so bright that one could not help being attracted by her pleasing personality and sunny disposition. Even casual acquaintances treasure pleasant memories of her. Death indeed loved a shining mark when he removed from the midst of her duties and from those who loved her so well and were beloved in return.

A great wave of pity and sympathy goes out to the doctor in this the darkest hour of his life, more to him than to the average man because he devotes his life and his skill to relieving the suffering and sorrows of others and he has a greater claim upon the sympathies of his friends than the average man can ever get. Nothing that can be said or done now will lighten his burden of grief or remove from him the black pall of sorrow, but in the time to come he will appreciate the deep feelings of sympathy and sorrow that his friends have for him.

Little Russell, too, must go through life without the care and counsel of his loving mother.

All considered, it is one of the saddest deaths that one can record. When an old person is called home one thinks the sands of life were about run and, while there is grief, it is not so lasting. When a little child is called, or a young person, there is great sorrow, but still one thinks of the trials and tribulations of life and is glad that they are missed.

But when a young wife and mother is called it seems almost impossible to spare her. Her life means so much. Her cheery presence and tender, sympathetic help means so much to the husband who is battling with the world for her protection and comfort. No difference how hard the world uses him, how discouraging the outlook may be, he is always assured of her sympathy and love, and when he retires to the sanctuary of the home he can forget all else. Without her he is troubled and alone. His greatest stay and comfort is taken from him and he knows not what to do. Life is but an empty void, a burden which he must carry and of which he would gladly be free.

To her children, also, she is a tower of love and strength. This world has no more beautiful picture than a young mother and her child. No one can cure their little sorrows and rejoice over their little triumphs like she can. She is a constant source of love and inspiration to them as she is to her husband.

No words can express the sorrow of her taking away and only that Christian faith, in which we must all believe, can reconcile the bereaved ones to her departure. The thought that she still lives and that in a little while they will be with her again enables them to bear the crushing load that has been cast upon their hearts.

The funeral was held at 2:30 this afternoon from the Methodist church and interment was in Hope cemetery. The casket was literally buried in floral tributes from her many friends.

L. H. Heil and wife came in this morning from their farm in Eight Mile Grove precinct and were passengers for Omaha to spend the day.

Mrs. White Doing Well.
Mark White, that prince of good fellows, was in the city Saturday attending to some business matters. Mr. White reports that his wife, who was operated on recently at one of the hospitals in Omaha, is getting along nicely and the doctors believe she will be able to return home in a short time in good health. The friends of this worthy lady in this city and county will be greatly rejoiced to learn of her recovery.

BOY MEETS WITH FEARFUL ACCIDENT

As a Result of Carelessly Handling Gun He Loses an Arm.

A terrible accident occurred across the river from this city yesterday afternoon, which resulted in Homer Read, a young lad, having to have his left arm amputated about three inches below the elbow.

The boy was driving along in a wagon and was holding a loaded shotgun in his right hand, when, on the team stopping suddenly, the weapon was discharged in some manner and the shot entered the left hand and arm of the boy, maiming it in such a manner that it was impossible to save it.

He was brought to this city last evening and the arm was taken off about 7:30 o'clock. The boy was very brave under the operation and walked to the depot this morning to return home without assistance. This ought to be a forceful lesson to the boys who have a habit of handling firearms in such a careless manner, and there is no telling when a person is liable to be wounded or killed by the premature discharge of a weapon.

T. J. SOKOL SOCIETY ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The T. J. Sokol society of this city held their regular election of officers for the ensuing year at their hall on West Pearl street yesterday afternoon. The officers chosen were: President, Louis Jiran; vice president, V. Vejvoda; recording secretary, Frank Kalasek; financial secretary, Emil Ptak; treasurer, Anton Kanka, jr.; trustees, V. Pilney, Charles Hula, M. Bajek; theatrical manager, Louis Jiran; turning instructors, V. Pilney and Louis Jiran; custodian, V. Pilney. This society has had a very successful year financially and the members are feeling very well pleased over the prospects for the coming year.

MRS. A. L. TIDD MEETS WITH BAD ACCIDENT

Mrs. A. L. Tidd is suffering from a badly dislocated shoulder, as a result of an experience she had with an irate cow Saturday evening. The cow was trampling the lawn of the Tidd home when Mrs. Tidd noticed her, and she went out of the house to drive the cow away, but the animal refused to go and turned and started toward Mrs. Tidd, who became alarmed and started to run back to the house, but in some manner tripped and fell, dislocating her left shoulder in a very severe manner. Medical assistance was at once summoned and the dislocation set and the lady made as comfortable as possible, although the injury was quite painful. She is reported as resting easily this morning and is doing nicely.

Here From Twin Falls.

Mrs. Susan Smith of Twin Falls, Idaho, who has been visiting with friends here for several days, departed this afternoon for her home. Mrs. Smith and family removed from here about seven years ago and this is her first visit back to the old home. Her daughter, Mrs. Birdella McCann and family, reside on a farm near Twin Falls and are doing nicely and they have two children to brighten their home. Mrs. Smith greatly enjoyed her visit and was delighted to meet all her old friends.

C. R. Bengen, jr., of Mynard was in the city Saturday and called at this office for the purpose of renewing his subscription for this paper.

ONE OF THE GREAT- EST SHOWS FOR YEARS

"Bought and Paid For" Commended by Everyone of the Big Audience Present.

"Bought and Paid For," which appeared at the Parmele theater Saturday evening, was undoubtedly the finest production that has appeared here for several seasons and was presented by a splendid company, who gave a most artistic rendition of the powerful play of modern life.

Miss Julie Herne, who appeared in the role of Virginia Blaine, was most charming, and as the outraged wife was simply great, and throughout the progress of the play the sweetness and charm of her acting took a deep hold on the feelings of the audience. The leading male role, that of Robert Stafford, was portrayed by Charles Millward and he deserves all the praise that the metropolitan press and playgoers have given him and he is among the finest actors who ever appeared in this city and it was a rare treat to be present to see him in this part, which was so well suited to his style of acting. George A. Wright and Miss Dorothy Davies, as James Gilley and Fanny, his wife, were the fun-makers of the show and they were very clever in their parts and Mr. Wright provoked many hearty laughs by his clever and clean comedy.

The play is a very powerful one, dealing with some of the great problems that confront the married life and showed just how far the woman may be driven by her husband and her revolt for her own self-respect and how in the end it brought the husband back into the proper path and made their future life secure from any repetitions of the scenes that caused their parting. The company carried all their own scenery and properties with them and the play had some beautiful settings which added greatly to the masterful manner in which it was presented. The audience was quite large and everyone was delighted with the splendid treat that Manager Shlaes had secured for their enjoyment.

The orchestra that furnished the music for "Bought and Paid" is one of the best that ever played in the house for any entertainment, and received great praise from the audience for the excellency of the music. Prof. Kolbaba is one of the finest violinists in Nebraska, and his assistants remarkably well trained.

CELEBRATE FOURTEENTH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Many Neighbors and Friends Present Themselves at the Home in Honor of Event.

Saturday evening being the fourteenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Barrows, who reside on a farm south of this city, a number of their friends and relatives decided to give them a pleasant reminder of the event, and accordingly proceeded to their home and gave them the surprise of their lives.

The guests were royally received and a most enjoyable evening was had by the jolly crowd with various social amusements, and the enjoyment of the evening was rounded out by a most sumptuous two-course luncheon, which added greatly to the pleasure of the large crowd present.

Those who participated in the event were: Misses Winnie Hutcherson, Lillian Wheeler, Beulah Sans, Jessie Barrows, Isabel Shrader, Kathryn and Elizabeth Wurl. Messrs. Ernest Hutcherson, Charles Clayton, Percy Wheeler, John and Charles Sans, Ernest and Kenneth Wurl, Charles Barrows, Glen Hutcherson, Harlan Sans, Berber Burbee, Messrs. and Mesdames J. D. Shrader, Walter Sans, W. D. Wheeler, Albert Whigeler, Ed Wurl, Charles Creamer, Will Hutcherson, Will Casey and Mrs. Joseph Sans.

John Nemetz Down Town.

John Nemetz was able to come down town yesterday for the first time since October 14, when he was taken down with pneumonia. It was certainly a mighty pleasant sight to see John able to be around again and it is to be hoped that in a few weeks he will be able to be around as lively as ever.

Do your Xmas shopping early. See Eastwood.

Nineteenth Annual Ball.
The T. J. Sokol society of this city will give their nineteenth annual grand mask ball Saturday evening, January 18, 1915. These mask balls have grown to be looked forward to by the dancing public, as they always have a most enjoyable time at them. The music will be furnished by the M. W. A. orchestra and a number of very handsome prizes will be given.

SURPRISE MR. AND MRS. CHARLES CREAMER

And Assist Them in Celebrating
Their Nineteenth Wedding Anniversary.

Last Friday was the nineteenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Creamer, of the vicinity of Kenosha, and a number of intimate friends being aware of this fact were very secretly at work planning a surprise party. On Friday evening the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Creamer was invaded by a large number of their neighbors and friends. When the victims had somewhat recovered from the shock, as they had not even suspected anything of the kind, the merry invaders informed them they had come to show them how to and to assist them in properly celebrating their nineteenth wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Creamer soon made their guests feel at home and a most enjoyable evening was whiled away in social conversation and games, interspersed with some excellent selections by the Shradler-Lewis orchestra. The invaders had come well armed with many good things to eat, and at the proper time an elegant luncheon was served. The large number of guests wished Mr. and Mrs. Creamer many more happy anniversaries and declared them splendid entertainers.

Those in attendance were: Messrs. and Mesdames Henry Creamer, W. D. Wheeler, Dee Shrader, Ted Barrows, Albert Wheeler, Walter Sans, Homer Shrader, Mrs. G. W. Shrader, Misses Winnie Hutcherson, Lillian Wheeler, Beulah Sans, Bertha Long of Omaha, Isabel Shrader, Marie Shrader, Margery Shrader, May Shrader, Messrs. Forest Shrader, Wayne Lewis and Alex Campbell.

JOINED IN THE HOLY BONDS OF WEDLOCK

Father M. A. Shine of St. John's Catholic church this morning performed the ceremony that united Roy J. Irwin of this city and Miss Cecelia Sheehy, of Sutton, Neb., in the holy bonds of wedlock. Mr. Irwin has just started a barber shop on South Sixth street, and the newly wedded pair expect to make this city their future home. Clyde Dare, a cousin of the groom, drove to Sutton Saturday evening in an automobile and brought the bride to this city, where the wedding ceremony was performed. The groom came to this city from Fairmont, where he was very highly respected, while the bride is one of the most charming young ladies of Sutton, and Mr. Irwin is to be congratulated on securing such a worthy helpmate.

WILL REMOVE TO NEBRASKA CITY

A deal has just been closed whereby Jesse Blunt of this city becomes the owner of a restaurant in Nebraska City and he will close the Ruby restaurant here, removing the furniture and fixtures to Nebraska City, where he will consolidate the two into one large up-to-date cafe. Mr. Blunt has done a good business here, but does not feel that he can operate two places with good results and will devote his time to the Nebraska City cafe, which is to be fixed up in good shape.

Famous Stage Beauties

look with horror on Skin Eruptions, Blotches, Sores or Pimples. They don't have them, nor will any one, who uses Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It glorifies the face. Eczema or Salt Rheum vanish before it. It cures sore lips, chapped hands, chilblains; heals burns, cuts and bruises. Unequalled for piles. Only 25c at F. G. Fricke & Co.

FOR SALE OR TRADE—3-stroke, self-feeding hay press,
C. C. Barnard, Mynard, Neb.
42-42-4twkly

MRS. LEW RUSSELL ATTACKED BY DOG

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Lew Russell received some very severe wounds while endeavoring to separate two pet bulldogs that were fighting. The dogs had gotten into the kitchen and at once started to fight, when Mrs. Russell endeavored to drive them out, with the result that they attacked her and inflicted several bites on her hands and arms that required the services of a doctor to attend to. The dogs were finally driven out by Mrs. Russell, with the assistance of Mrs. Ruhland, a neighbor, and the lady's wounds were attended to. Mrs. Russell is reported as resting easily today.

DEATH OF WASH- INGTON DELIHAY

Sunday evening Washington Delihay, the little 11-year-old son of Ed Delihay, passed away at his home on the Dannier farm, near Murray. The boy had been making his home with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Delihay, for some time. The lad was struck in the face with a base ball early in the fall and continued to grow worse until a cancerous growth developed, which finally caused his death. The funeral was held Monday afternoon from the home and interment was made in the Horning cemetery. Washington was a very bright little fellow and his untimely death will fall very heavily on the relatives and playmates, who have been hoping for a more favorable outcome.

A Merry Christmas.

Last Saturday was the largest day the Variety Store has had in its six years of business success. There's a reason—being a member of the Southern Association of 5c, 10c and 25c stores, a chain of over 300 stores, connected together in such a way that it enables us to purchase merchandise for less money than any single firm could ever hope to buy, and buying for less enables us to make the lowest prices possible. You do save money when you make your purchases at the Variety Store. Should you in any way doubt the above statement you can address P. H. Rose, president Southern Association 5c, 10c and 25c stores, Littleton, North Carolina.

The Variety Store,
Third Door East of Bank of Cass County.

MRS. J. F. STULL MEETS WITH ACCIDENT

A most painful and serious accident befell Mrs. J. F. Stull yesterday at her home, north of this city. Mrs. Stull had gone out to gather up the eggs from the hen house and was engaged in this when a large ram which was loose in the yard, caught sight of her and proceeded to charge, knocking the lady down, fracturing her right shoulder and bruising her quite badly. The aged lady was taken to the house and a physician summoned to set the injured member and she was made as comfortable as possible. Mrs. Stull is quite advanced in years, being 77 years of age, but the brightest hopes are entertained that she will recover in a short time. The accident will be the source of a great deal of regret on the part of the many friends of the worthy lady in this community, of which she is a pioneer resident, she and her husband having come here in an early day.

Kills Large Grey Wolf.

While out hunting yesterday afternoon Joe Ashenbrenner, Jr., succeeded in killing a large grey wolf that measured seven feet from the tip of his nose to his tail and was one of the biggest animals that has been seen in this section for many years. The animal was started up by a hunting dog, who drove it to where young Ashenbrenner was waiting, and he brought Mr. Wolf down at the first shot. The animal was killed just west of the poor farm and it will be a great relief to the farmers in that vicinity, who have been suffering from the depredations of the animals.

Mrs. C. M. Manners and son, Herold, and daughter, Miss Josephine, were passengers this morning for Omaha to spend the day.

Local News

Root for Plattsmouth December 20th.

Fresh lobsters at the Ruby Restaurant.

Fresh lobsters at the Ruby Restaurant.

The White Co.—magicians and ventriloquists—at Majestic tonight.

If you want to sell your property a little ad in the Journal will bring a buyer.

Jake Minnear of Murray was in the city last evening visiting with friends for a few hours.

Herman Spies, headquarters for all kinds of pipes, from corncob up to the meerschbaum.

Char. McGuire was a passenger this morning for Omaha to attend to some matters of business.

For all kinds of furniture repairing, see O. P. Monroe, the furniture doctor. 'Phone 305.

E. H. Schulhof was a passenger this morning for Glenwood to attend to some matters of business.

Mrs. Philip Becker was a passenger this morning on No. 15 for Omaha, where she will spend the day.

Mrs. Ed Tritsch departed this morning for Omaha to look after some business matters for the day.

Miss Grace Lushinsky was in the metropolis today, being a passenger on the early Burlington train.

A large line of Sanitary Steel Couches and couch pads just received by O. P. Monroe. 'Phone 305.

A. L. Todd was a business visitor in the metropolis today, being a passenger on No. 15 this morning.

George Poissall was a business visitor in Omaha today, going to that city on the early Burlington train.

Mrs. Frank Dunbar was a passenger this morning for Omaha to visit with friends for a few hours.

Mrs. T. B. Bates returned this afternoon from Omaha, where she was visiting with relatives for a short time.

Miss Helen Spies spent Sunday in Auburn, Neb., with friends, returning last evening on the Missouri Pacific.

Mrs. T. L. Murphy came down from Omaha this afternoon to visit for a short time with her parents in this city.

A handsome pipe makes an excellent present for any gentleman. Herman Spies is headquarters for them in all grades.

Attorney Will C. Ramsey was in the city yesterday for a short visit with his parents, Judge and Mrs. B. S. Ramsey.

P. E. Tritsch was a business visitor in the metropolis today, being a passenger on the early Burlington train.

Major Hall and wife of near Murray were in the city today for a few hours attending to some matters of business.

Miss Seva Johnson returned to Omaha this morning, after spending Sunday here with her parents, Gus Johnson and wife.

Mrs. E. G. Ackerman was among those going to the metropolis today, being a passenger this morning on No. 15.

An Edison Phonograph or a number of records would make a handsome Christmas present. See O. P. Monroe. 'Phone 305.

Mrs. Henry Born and children were passengers this morning for Omaha to attend to some business matters for the day.

A. Hedengren, master carpenter of the Omaha division of the Burlington, was in the city today looking after railroad business.

Henry O'Donnell of Union came up Saturday to attend the play at the Parmele theater, and while here called at this office and had his subscription to this paper extended a year in advance.