"THE GIRL AND THE TRAMP" NEXT

The Theatrical Event of the Season at Parmele Theater on Christmas Night.

Manager Shlaes of the Parmele theater announces that the date of the laughing comedy success, "The Girl and the Tramp," will be December 25. In the coming of "The Girl and the Tramp" to the opera house our local theatergoers can look forward to the theatrical event of the season. This company is the original city company, the same that was seen in all the larger cities during the past season, and one of the theatrical sensations of the year. Miss Mayme Gardner will be seen in the title role of the Girl and Mr. George C. Vokes as the Tramp. Both Miss Gardner and Mr. Vokes originated these two roles. The supporting cast is also the same as seen last season.

"The Girl and the Tramp," aside of being one of the greatest laugh producers, has a story of heart interest and is interwoven with musical numbers, an attraction that is entirely away from anything of its kind that has ever been attempted.

Messrs. Hottenstein and Barton, under whose management this attraction is touring the country, have spared nothing in making this one of the very best attractions intour this season.

Taken Sick in Omaha.

Mrs. N. H. Isbell departed this morning for Omaha, where she was called by the sickness of her sister, Miss Gertrude Beeson, who was seized with a severe attack of gastritis while on a visit with her cousin, Mrs. Bloose. Miss Beeson was confined to her room yesterday and Mrs. Isbell hopes to be able to bring her home today. This will be very startling news to the many friends of Miss Gertrude who have greatly missed her smiling face for several days from the county judge's office.

ANOTHER WEDDING NEAR UNION, NEB.

Mr. John Hoback and Miss Grace Taylor United in Marriage Last Wednesday.

From Saturday's Daily. The Union Ledger contains the following in reference to another happy event that occurred near that village recently:

Miss Grace Taylor and Mr. John Hoback were united in marriage at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Hoback, four miles southeast of this village. It was a real "home wedding," the guests being only a very few friends in addition to the relatives. They were attended by Miss Leon Taylor and Mr. Charles Hoback, and the beautiful wedding march was played by Mrs. W. R. Cross. Rev. W. A. Taylor was the officiating minister, his words being blessings and counsel along with the beautiful ring service, in which little Miss Florence Cadwell was ring-bearer. After the ceremony an excellent wedding supper was served and greatly enjoyed by the guests in attendance, and a part of it found its way to this office.

The bride is the adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Taylor, loved by them as their own. She is a most estimable young lady and merits the favoritism shown her by her many friends. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Hoback, and is a young man of exemplary habits, an energetic farmer and good citizen. We are informed that they will make their home on a farm near here, and their many friends wish them a long and happy life as residents of the "old home."

Member of Legislative Committee.

From Saturday's Daily. At the meeting of the State Sheriff's association, which has just closed in Fremont, Sheriff Quinton of this county was selected as one of the legislative committee, as was also Sheriff Gus Myers of Lancaster county and Sheriff McShane of Omaha. This committee will look after matters pending before the legislature that might aid the sheriffs in the enforcement of the law.

A HOME COMPANY VERY PROSPEROUS

Platte Mutual Insurance Company In Fine Condition, With No Outstanding Indebtedness.

From Saturday's Daily.

An enthusiastic meeting of the board of directors of the Platte Mutual Insurance company was held Thursday evening at the office of Dr. C. A. Marshall. The reports from several committees showed that the company is in a highly prosperous condition. Not a suit pending or unadjusted claims or any outstanding indebtedness and with more money on hand per thousand insurance in force than is possessed by the average old line fire insurance companies. The Platte Mutual is a home company and has been in business over fourteen years, and during all that time has only charged for insurance one-half the old line or hoard rate, never yet having made an assessment.

However, in order to avoid the argument that is often made by representatives of old lines companies, the Platte Mutual amended its by-laws at this meeting, limiting the liability of its policy-holders for assessments to one and a half times the premium charged at the time of writing the policy, in conformity with the statutes of the state enacted since the company was organized. There seems now to be no reason why all property owners of the city should not turn in and boost a home company by insuring their property in it, and especially in this, when the cost of insurance is less than in any other company. A fine office with ten or fifteen clerks constantly employed would be a big advertisement for this city, as insurance companies, from the very nature of their business, are constantly communicating with the surrounding cities and towns, thereby advertising their home town.

The management of this company is progressive, and as soon as all property at home that it can write is upon its books it contemplates procuring reliable agents in all cities of this size and smaller throughout the state where good sufficient fire protection is maintained. The people of Plattsmouth should wake up and see that this company is writing your insurance. It will help the town. It not only costs you nothing extra, but less for the protection. The quantity of business done can and should be doubled during the coming year right here at home.

Returns From Hospital.

From Saturday's Daily. Miss Anna Egenberger returned this afternoon from Omaha, where she has been for several weeks recovering from an operation. She is feeling much improved in health and it is hoped she will speedily recover all of her former health. Her mother, Mrs. J. V. Egenberger, accompanied her home from the hospital.
