News.

Lee Carper, who had been here over the holidays, left Saturday for his home at Fairfax, Mo.

Miss Sue Stout of Cheyenne Junction, S. D., spent New Year's day with her sister, Mrs. Vilas Sheldon.

The snow has shut the quarry work down for a time and the usual exodus for Omaha has been taking place.

Miss Mary Trotter, who has been spending the holidays at home, left Friday evening for Frontier county, where she is teaching school.

Wednesday morning the mercury got down to 24 below zero, almost as low as last winter. Nothing suffered much in this latitude.

John Johnson lost a brand new never-been-spent $40 bill on the street Wednesday morning and will reward the one returning the bill to him.

Uncle Jimmie Stone says the cold weather has no terrors for him. He is wearing a beaver cap and mittens that came from his son, Charley, in Colorado, and they were warm.

B. W. Bates was out Wednesday in his brand new sled. This will be a great help to Mr. Bates during the winter months, enabling him to make trips to and from the business part of the city on short notice.

John Opp, who had his ankle broken so badly last summer, will have to go to a hospital soon for surgical relief. An X ray picture of the break has been taken which shows that two pieces of the splintered bone never healed properly, and it is thought it will be necessary to cut down on the fracture and get these together before John can have good use of that leg. He has been unable to work for over six months as the result of his accident, but it is hoped that the proposed operation may give him relief.

Mrs. John Kopp and daughter, Miss Benna Kopp, were passengers this morning on No. 15 for Omaha, where they were called to look after some business matters.
