ABSENCE OF CONTAGIOUS DISEASES IN PLATTSMOUTH

There is one thing for which the citizens of Plattsmouth may be truly thankful and that is the absence of contagious diseases in the city at the present, and the health rate was never better than it is today. Several months ago there were a few cases of scarlet fever and diphtheria in the city, but the authorities took hold of the matter promptly and stamped the diseases out before they got headway, as they did in some sections of the county, and as a result a condition of good health prevails throughout this city. No party residing outside of town need have any fear in coming to Plattsmouth to visit or trade, as the conditions here are the best and the utter absence of disease shows the natural healthful condition surrounding us as compared with other communities, which have been swept by contagious diseases. If you are looking for a place to get well and stay well, you ought to come to Plattsmouth.
