

Comparative Digestibility of Food

Made with different Baking Powders

From a Series of Elaborate Chemical Tests:

An equal quantity of bread (biscuit) was made with each of three different kinds of baking powder—cream of tartar, phosphate, and alum—and submitted separately to the action of the digestive fluid, each for the same length of time.

The relative percentage of the food digested is shown as follows:

Bread made with Royal Cream of Tartar Powder:
100 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with phosphate powder:
68 1/4 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with alum powder:
67 3/4 Per Cent. Digested

These tests, which are absolutely reliable and unprejudiced, make plain a fact of great importance to everyone: Food raised with Royal, a cream of tartar Baking Powder, is shown to be entirely digestible, while the alum and phosphate powders are found to largely retard the digestion of the food made from them.

Undigested food is not only wasted food, but it is the source of very many bodily ailments.

WEEPING WATER

Eddie Murphy has moved back to old Cass from Central City, and is located now on his father's farm northeast of town.

D. O. Dwyer and his stenographer of Plattsmouth were in town Wednesday on business connected with the Milton Smith estate.

Mrs. Charles Hansen returned Monday from Omaha, where she had been for the last three weeks recovering from an operation at St. Joseph's hospital.

W. C. Norval left Wednesday for Superior, Neb., to make his home there. Walter has many friends here who regret to see him leave the community.

John Newburn and H. T. Tunnel of Gandy, Neb., stopped off here Tuesday night for a short visit with their ranch neighbors, the Philpots. They were on a business trip to Omaha.

In the disastrous fire that swept the town of Heartwell, Neb., last week, Dr. Welch's daughter, Mrs. Towle, and her husband, lost practically all of their property. Mrs. Towle is here staying with her parents.

Last week some of the farmers were in the fields discing. This week they are coming to town in their bobbeds and all seem as well pleased with the snow as the weather of last week. The snow is fine for the ground and wheat, as both were in need of moisture.

In a quiet but beautiful wedding at the home of the bride's parents at Ashland, on Saturday, February 22, occurred the marriage of Miss Vera B. Coffin to Mr. Carroll C. Colbert of Weeping Water. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. Hilton of Lincoln, and was witnessed by friends and relatives to the number of about 55.

Word has been received of the death of Dr. Curtis Fenn of Chicago. Dr. Fenn was a brother of Miss Emily Fenn, now of Ohio; Mrs. Helen Reed, in New Mexico, and Mrs. Geo. Askew of this place. He had been in Weeping Water in former years. Many know of the helpless condition in which Dr. Fenn has lived for the past two years. He was 78 years of age.

LESTER STANDER DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

From Monday's Daily. After long months of patient suffering death came as a relief to Lester Stander, just a little after twilight on Sunday evening, February 23, 1913.

Lester Clarence Stander was born October 2, 1875, on the old home farm near Louisville. On January 12, 1904, he married Miss Bedella Anderson. To this union were born four children, three girls and a boy, the boy dying July 3, 1905. Deceased was a victim of tuberculosis and for seven years this disease had been gradually eating his life away. He comes of a large family, eight brothers and three sisters surviving him, while a brother and sister preceded him to the great beyond. He leaves a sorrowing wife and three little girls, besides hosts of relatives and friends to mourn his death.

The funeral was conducted in the M. E. church, by the pastor, Rev. Wilton, and the remains laid to rest in Riverview cemetery. The pall-bearers were: Oscar Knutson, Andrew Stohlman, Frank Pankonin, Herman Dehning, Richard Carlson and William H. Pankonin.—Louisville Courier.

Shera Farm Is Sold.

From Tuesday's Daily. There was quite a large crowd present at the court house yesterday to attend the sale of the lands south of this city belonging to the estate of Mrs. Annetta Shera, and there were several bids for the farm of 102 acres, which was finally sold by Referee C. E. Teft of Weeping Water to Will Jean, who paid $27.50 per acre for the farm. The total amount realized by the sale was $2,805, which is very cheap for the land.

Bilious? Feel heavy after dinner Bitter taste? Complexion sallow? Liver perhaps needs waking up. Doan's Regulets for bilious attacks. 25c at all stores.

Herman Spies, headquarters for all kinds of pipes, from corn cob up to the meerscham.

The Laying Hen is

The Paying Hen

Get More Eggs Now

When egg prices are high, winter eggs cost no more than at other seasons, but they sell for more. Feed your layers a varied ration and include

Prest's Poultry Regulator

Heavy egg production is assured. "Your money back if it fails."

In packages to suit your needs—25c, 50c, $1; 25-lb. Fall, $2.50

160-page poultry book FREE. Get Prest's Profit-sharing Booklet.

J. V. Egenberger

R. C. CUSHING DIES IN LOS ANGELES, CALIF.

Resided in Plattsmouth for 15 Years, Where He Was Prominent in Public Affairs.

From Tuesday's Daily. The death yesterday at Los Angeles, California, of R. C. Cushing, removed a man who was prominently identified with the business and political life of Plattsmouth in earlier days and who was known throughout the state, as he was engaged extensively in the railroad contracting business. Mr. Cushing during the time he was here served as a member of the city council and was one of the directors of the First National bank while John Fitzgerald served as president, and was also an active member of the Board of Trade in this city. The Omaha Bee gives the following account of his death:

"R. C. Cushing, former mayor of Omaha, died yesterday at Los Angeles, after an illness of six weeks. Mr. Cushing left Omaha in 1894, going to Chicago, Kansas City and Cheyenne and other places where his contracting business called him. Miss Elizabeth O'Keefe and Mrs. J. J. Fitzgerald, sisters of Mrs. Cushing, are now on the way to Los Angeles.

"Mr. Cushing was born December 23, 1843, at Rochester, N. Y. When he was 14 years of age his parents removed to Portage City, Wis., where he attended school, graduating with honor. His parents being poor he sought and found employment as a school teacher, which position he held until the civil war broke out, when, at the age of 21, he entered the army and was assigned to duty in the quartermaster's department. He began at the bottom of the ladder and by his ability and sterling worth was soon promoted to the position of chief clerk of that department. He remained in the service of the government until 1868.

"He was nominated for the legislature by the democracy of Douglas county, and was elected by the largest majority of any man on his ticket. He had never sought office, the nomination for both positions having been tendered him by a unanimous vote of the conventions of his fellow citizens. Mr. Cushing was a member of the firm of Mallory, Cushing & Co., railroad contractors.

"At the time of his retirement by General U. S. Grant he occupied the responsible position of post superintendent at Fort Morgan, Colo. After retiring from the army he settled at Plattsmouth, where for fifteen years he was the moving spirit in the growth and enterprise of that thriving city. He was for ten years a member of the city council of that city, and was elected president of that body several times. Mr. Cushing was well known to the great army of railroad men in the west, he having been engaged in the construction of railroads for many years.

"His fine business education fitted him eminently for the chief executive chair of a great and growing city like Omaha. His nomination for the mayoralty gave every railway man in Omaha a chance to cast a vote for a true friend of the fraternity, and judging by the magnificent majority he received when he was elected to the office which he filled they all accepted the chance."

Death of Little Babe.

From Tuesday's Daily. Cornelius Richard, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Bengen, jr., died on Friday morning, February 21, after an illness lasting seven days. He was 7 weeks, 5 days old. Death came as a great relief to the tiny sufferer, and was caused by the closing of the anterior fontanelle or soft spot on the head.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank our many kind neighbors and friends who so kindly assisted us during the sickness and death of our beloved baby.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Bengen, Jr.

Attention, Farmers!

Clean up your yard now and see O. P. Monroe about buying all old scrap iron at the highest market price.

Matters in County Court.

From Tuesday's Daily. In the county court today final settlement was had in the T. M. C. Patton estate, from Elmwood, and the administrator, Elmer Patton, of Otoe county, discharged from his duties.

The last will and testament of the late William J. O'Brien has been admitted to probate and Mrs. William Morley, a niece of the deceased, named as executrix. The estate consists of money amounting to some $3,500, and Mrs. Morley, who had the care of her uncle for the last few years, is the legatee of the will.

JOINED IN THE HOLY BONDS OF WEDLOCK

Miss Nora L. Martin and Edward Egenberger, Both of This City, Married in Omaha Yesterday

From Tuesday's Daily

An event which has been looked forward to for some time by the friends of the contracting parties, occurred yesterday in Omaha, when Edward Egenberger and Miss Nora L. Martin were joined in the bonds of wedlock. There has been several reports of their wedding before and the young people have kept their many friends guessing as to the date of the wedding, and yesterday quietly left for Omaha, where the ceremony was performed. The young couple will make their home in this city, where the groom has a cozy cottage prepared for his bride on South Eighth street, and they will start housekeeping at once.

Both of the young people are among the most popular in the city, where the groom has grown to manhood and is engaged in the business life of the community and has the respect and esteem of all who know him. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Martin and is a most charming young lady and has, as well as the groom, been reared in this city and her friends are without number, as she is a young woman of most genial disposition and everyone who has met her has been charmed by her pleasant manner. That the newly wedded couple may have all the joy that is possible to cast in their pathway is the universal wish of their many friends.

DEATH OF A FORMER CASS COUNTY CITIZEN IN LINCOLN

From Tuesday's Daily.

The following from the Lincoln State Journal gives the account of the death of a former Cass county citizen at his home in that city:

Daniel Eells, 73 years old, died at 4 a. m. Monday. He was a veteran of the civil war, a member of the G. A. R., the General Custer Circle and the Knights of Pythias. Mr. Eells moved to Lincoln from Elmwood, Neb., in 1909. Funeral services will be held at 11 a. m. Tuesday at the residence, 943 North Twenty-second street. The G. A. R. will have charge of the services. Mr. Eells is survived by four children: G. D. Eells, Herbert Eells, Mrs. J. Eidmann and Anna Eells.

LOUISVILLE COUPLE WILL BE MARRIED TOMORROW

From Tuesday's Daily.

County Judge Beeson yesterday afternoon granted a permit to wed to Louis Peter J. Roebler, aged 23, and Miss Evaline Mable Stander, aged 20, both of Louisville. The young people will be married tomorrow at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stander, near Louisville. The wedding will be a simple home affair, there being only the immediate family of the parties present. These young people are among the most prominent in their locality and their wedding will bring two of the leading families in that section into alliance. The young people will reside in the future on the farm of the groom, near Louisville.

The name—Doan's inspires confidence—Doan's Kidney Pills for kidney ills. Doan's Ointment for skin itching. Doan's Regulets for a mild laxative. Sold at all drug stores.

You Can Prevent Hog Cholera—Kill Hog Worms and Have Fat Hogs.

Don't let Hog Cholera and Worms scare you—it's an easy matter to prevent them. This positive fact is vouched for by thousands of Farmers and Hog Raisers in nearly every state in the Union. Just feed with the daily hog ration a small quantity of

MERRY WAR POWDERED LYE

It renders hogs immune to Cholera; tones them up; keeps them on their feet; makes them fat and sleek; destroys Worms; increases your pork profits.

MERRY WAR POWDERED LYE has proved itself to be the most effective of Hog Cholera, exterminator of Worms and the best hog conditioner and fatteners in the world. Here is evidence that will convince you: Dr. H. H. Unterkircher of Wever, Iowa, writes: "I am recommending MERRY WAR POWDERED LYE to everyone I see, as it is a great hog conditioner and worm destroyer."

Ask us about MERRY WAR POWDERED LYE.

A. W. White,

Dry Goods & Groceries

PLATTSMOUTH, Phones: Ind. 206, Bell 71 NEBR.

A BILL TO PROTECT TAXPAYER

The Adoption of Senator Smith's Bill Will Be a Great Help to the Taxpayers.

Senator W. H. Smith sends the Journal the following explanation of the bridge bill which has already passed the senate and is now up to the house. It is destined to be of great benefit to the taxpayers in every county in the state alike, in the way of protecting them against the bridge grafters:

Senate File No. 43, now pending before the legislature, is a bill providing for uniform plans and specifications for all bridges to be built by the various counties of the state, and is being so strongly opposed by the interests that it is desired to apprise the public of its main provisions, these being as follows:

First—The bill provides for uniform plans and specifications, these to be prepared by the state engineer. The plans for a thirty-foot bridge to be built in Gage county need be no different than those prepared for a bridge of the same size in Boyd county, since there is a state law defining the carrying capacity of all bridges. But under the system in vogue at present in many counties the plans of some certain bridge companies are adopted, and by adopting these plans the company in question is thus given a decided advantage over all competitors in the matter of bidding. By adopting uniform plans prepared by a disinterested party one bidder would stand an equal show with another.

Second—Uniform bidding blanks. Under the provisions of this bill it would be necessary for all bids to be filed on uniform blanks, so that it could be determined at a glance which bid was the lowest.

Third—The county boards would be required to transmit to the state engineer statements showing the cost of all bridges built in the county during the preceding year. If Johnson county should build a thirty-foot bridge in 1913, and Hitchcock county desired to build one of the same size in 1914, the county board in the latter county could obtain from the state engineer definite information as to the cost of a bridge of that size, by simply writing to the state engineer, and it could thus be determined whether or not the bids for the new structure in the latter county were too high.

Fourth—The bill provides that the state engineer shall, if called upon by the county board so to do, check the work when completed.

A duplicate set of plans for all the bridges the average Nebraska county might need, would not cost to exceed $10.

It is apparent why the bridge companies which have succeeded in having their own plans adopted in various counties should object to this bill. It is also apparent why they should object to bidding on uniform blanks, as well as to that provision of the bill which requires the cost of all bridges to be reported to the state engineer where it would be accessible to all other counties which might desire to build similar bridges in the future. It is apparent, I say, why the bridge companies should object to these features and remain on the ground to oppose their enactment into law. But I am at a loss to understand why some other parties should come to Lincoln from distant sections of the state—come at their own expense, I presume, and remain here on their own expense for several days—just for the privilege of opposing the passage of this bill, which, by the way, went through the senate with but five votes against it, and is now up for consideration in the house.

Wm. H. Smith.

Miss Ruehland Sick.

From Tuesday's Daily. Miss Josie Ruehland of this city has been confined to her home for several days with a very severe attack of rheumatism, but is feeling slightly improved and her many friends will hope for her speedy recovery, as she is greatly missed from large circle of friends.

To Our Friends and Neighbors

You know us. You know we would not—that we could not afford to go back on our word. Nor can you afford to ignore this money-back-if-not-satisfied offer on this splendid laxative.

We honestly believe we have the best bowel remedy ever made—the most pleasant-to-take, most permanently beneficial laxative for relief from the miseries and dangers arising from constipation.

We wouldn't say this if we didn't believe it to be true. We wouldn't risk our reputation by making such statements did we not feel sure you would find them true.

Our faith is built both on the knowledge of what Rexall Orderlies are made of and on observation of very many severe cases in which they have proven their merit.

Try them at Our Risk

If we do not abundantly prove their merit with you also—if you are not entirely satisfied with them—we will refund your money—and we will do that on your mere say-so. We don't ask you to risk a penny. Isn't that fair?

Just let the bowels fail in properly doing their work—just let their action be delayed and incomplete and the entire system and every other organ suffers. Wastes that CAUTION: Please bear in mind that Rexall Orderlies are not sold by all druggists. You can buy Rexall Orderlies only at The Rexall Store.

You can buy Rexall Orderlies in this community only at our store:

F. G. FRICKE & CO.

PLATTSMOUTH The Rexall Store NEBRASKA

There is a Rexall Store in nearly every town and city in the United States, Canada and Great Britain. There is a different Rexall Remedy for nearly every ordinary human ill—each especially designed for the particular ill for which it is recommended.

The Rexall Stores are America's Greatest Drug Stores