WIRELESS EXHIBITION AT STORE OF WARGA & CECIL

From Saturday's Daily.
There has been a great deal of comment expressed by the citizens here over the wireless exhibition that is being given at the store of Warga & Cecil in connection with the demonstration of the Mazda lamps, and the store has been crowded with parties who have become interested in the matter. The stock of the wireless is sold for $1,000 a share, and up to date, while none of the shares have been sold, great interest is being taken by the public in the matter, as well as the wonderful lamp which this firm is handling. The Mazda lamps that are sold by Messrs. Warga & Cecil are without a doubt the best put on the market today and give a better light for the least current of any that have been shown in this city. The large Mazda arc light, which the firm has in front of their store, consumes less current than a much smaller lamp and at the same time gives a very bright and intense light, and the smaller candle power lamps will illuminate a room with all the brightness of day and leaves no dark corners, and a person can read a book or paper without straining the eyes, as sometimes is necessary with the usual electric light. Those who have electricity in their homes should call and see this exhibition, as it is something out of the ordinary.

Installing New Signals.

Yesterday M. J. Fox of Lincoln, supervisor of signals of the Burlington, was in the city looking after the installing of the new signal system at the Burlington passenger station. The remodeling of the depot makes it necessary to change the semaphore from the top of the depot to a new steel signal post that sets just out from the depot on the platform, but which can be operated by the operator from the inside.

THE INSANITY BOARD

PAROLED JOE PERRY

From Saturday's Daily.
This afternoon the county board of insanity examined Joe Perry, who is charged with being an inebriate, and after an examination of the matter it was decided by the board to parole him and see if he could get along without drinking. If the experiment is a failure he will quite likely be sent to Lincoln for treatment.

THE HISTORY OF MAN FROM BABYHOOD TO MANHOOD

Man comes into the world without his consent and leaves it against his will. During his stay on earth his time is spent in one continuous round of contraries and misunderstandings by the balance of our species. In his infancy he is an angel; in his boyhood he is a devil; in his manhood he is everything from a lizard up; in his duties he is an utter fool; if he raises a family he is a chump; if he raises a small check he is a thief, and then the law raises the devil with him; if he is a poor man, he is a poor manager and has no sense; if he is rich he is dishonest, but considered smart; if he is in politics he is a grafter and a crook; if he is out of politics you can't place him, as he is an undesirable citizen; if he goes to church he is a hypocrite, if he stays away from church he is a sinner and damned; if he donates to foreign missions he does it for show; if he doesn't he is stingy and a tightwad. When he first comes into the world everybody wants to kiss him—before he goes out they all want to kick him. If he dies young there was a great future before him, if he lives to a ripe old age, he is simply in the way and living to save funeral expenses.

A little ad in the Journal will serve the purpose.

LANE IS NOW A BLACKFOOT CHIEF

Indians Bestow Title of "Lone Chief" on Secretary.

ALSO SMOKE PIPE OF PEACE

Head of Interior Department Promises to Keep Pledge With Red Men—Crow Chief Brings Present to Miss Nancy Lane—His Features on New Five Dollar Bank Notes.

Washington.—Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior, has been made an Indian chief. In his office he has had bestowed upon him the title of "Lone Chief" by a delegation of Blackfoot Indians from Montana, who called to present to him a pipe of peace and a buckskin tobacco bag.

After the pipe had been handed to him Chief Curly Bear, a tall, heavy mountain chief, stepped forth and said: "Hereafter we will call you Lone Chief. That was the name of our most famous chief. You will be Lone Chief to us now."

Then, turning to Acting Commissioner of Indian Affairs Abbott, he said:

FRANKLIN K. LANE

"And you, too, must have an Indian name. You are short of stature, so we will call you Little Chief."

"I take your pipe," said the secretary, "as a pledge between us. I know what it means. It is a promise on your part that you will bear faith to me, and when I shake your hand and take your pipe it means that I bear good faith and good will toward you. I have spoken to the great father in the White House about you. You have a good friend in him, one who will always keep his word. I speak for him and promise that we always will try to do justice to you."

To the secretary's little daughter, Miss Nancy Lane, who has become much interested in Indians, Chief Little Dog of the Blackfeet presented a pair of moccasins decorated with beadwork.

Chief Plenty Coups, head of the Crow Indians, gorgeously arrayed for the occasion in red trousers and an immense headpiece of feathers, presented to Miss Nancy a beautiful pair of buckskin gloves covered with fine beadwork as a token of his friendship.

"I give these to you," he said, "as the daughter of our father, who will look out for the Indians' interests."

Plenty Coups is the Indian whose strong features are seen on the new five dollar bank notes.

USE OF OIL AS WARSHIP FUEL.

Expect to Use 30,000,000 Gallons During 1914 Fiscal Year.

Washington.—Naval officials estimate that at the end of the present fiscal year 20,000,000 gallons of fuel oil will have been consumed in naval vessels, or 6,000,000 gallons more than were used last year, and more than three times the amount used in 1911.

These figures are considered important as indicating that the amount to be consumed during the fiscal year 1914 will reach a total of 30,000,000 gallons, or an increase of 500 per cent in three years. Already six battleships and twenty destroyers are burning oil, and this number will be increased by two battleships and eight destroyers next year.

In addition to the many advantages which naval experts claim for oil as fuel, it is pointed out that America is the only nation in the world with an almost inexhaustible supply.

Million in Gold by Dog Sleds.

Seattle.—More than a million dollars in gold was brought down by the steamer Mariposa from Cordova, Alaska, having been more than two months in transit from the Iditarod district. From Iditarod to Chitina, more than 2,000 miles, the gold was hauled on dog sleds. At Chitina it was placed on a train and caught between two snow slides that tied up traffic more than a month. During that time the express company's guards, heavily armed, watched over the treasure.

PURE UNADULTERATED FALSEHOOD NAILED

Has Tied Up With No Click or Clan, Never Did and Never Will as Long as He Is Mayor.

There has been several stories circulated around on the streets for the last few days concerning Mayor John P. Sattler and a reported tie-up he had made with parties interested in having an ordinance passed by the city council, whereby he was to try and influence the councilmen to vote for the passage of the ordinance.

The story is false in every particular, as the mayor has made no promises to anyone in regard to this matter and does not propose to under any circumstances, as this is a matter in which the city council has the right to either pass or reject the ordinance, and the attempt to drag the name of the mayor into the case is unwarranted and done to try and influence a few voters. The mayor was approached by the parties interested in the matter of the ordinance and told them plainly that he would not promise them anything, and if they desired to get anything through the council they could see the councilmen themselves, as he would not take the matter up.

Anyone who knows John Sattler knows that he would not pull anybody's chestnuts out of the fire and the story is a base fabrication on the face of it and will not be considered seriously by anyone.

Has Ribs Broken.

From Saturday's Daily.

J. D. Shrader, residing near Murray, was in the city this morning for a few hours en route to Omaha. Mr. Shrader is suffering from the effects of the two ribs which he had broken during the tornado last Sunday. He was caught out in the storm and the wagon in which he was riding was carried some distance, and in the shaking up he received the broken ribs.

Card of Thanks.

We take this method of returning our heartfelt thanks to our neighbors and friends for their many acts of kindness in our distress over the suddenly taking away of our beloved wife and mother. Words are inadequate to express our gratefulness to these kindly people who so liberally and humanely contributed to our every want in our great sorrow and the calamity which caused the sudden taking away of one who will be so greatly missed by us all. It is with great sadness that we express these words of thanks, but they come from the very depth of our hearts. May heaven's choicest blessings rest upon each and every one of you, and may He who rules the universe, guide your destinies in such a manner that you may never be called upon to mourn over such a great calamity as has befallen our household—the killing of a dear wife and mother. Again, we say, accept our sincere and heartfelt thanks. George W. Shrader and Children.

To Bring Over Coaches.

From Saturday's Daily.

Some twelve or fifteen employees of the shops were taken to Pacific Junction this afternoon by the switch engine, where they will secure several passenger coaches that got off the track yesterday at that place when No. 23 was going around the "Y" at that place, and they will be brought to this city for repairs at the shops.

THE QUESTION OF SUNDAY BASE BALL PLAYING

From Friday's Daily.

The following timely article on the Sunday base ball question appeared last evening in the Omaha News' contributed editorial column, and it appears to hit the nail on the head:

Editor Omaha Daily News:

Writers who try to say something against the Sunday baseball bill simply gag at a goat and swallow a camel. Steamship lines, railroads, telegraph and all other public concerns take in as much gold on Sunday as any other day, and it is necessary. The clergyman earns his salary on Sunday and nobody kicks.

If Christ were here today and the laboring class told him that they could not see a ball game unless they went on Sunday, and if they went any other day they would get fired and their children would go hungry, I think he would tell them to go to the ball game.

A church rule is not necessarily God's law. Go to the Sunday ball game, if you want to, and if that is the only crime you have to take before Peter, I will say to you that he will not send you to shovel coal. P. O. Mullikin, Somerset, Neb.

Tornado Insurance.

Government Lets Contract.

From Saturday's Daily.

The contract for the erection of the permanent targets, target houses and range house at the government rifle range, north of this city, has been awarded by the government officials to J. L. McLaughlin & Son of Red Oak, Iowa, the lowest bidders. The contract will amount to about $45,000 and calls for completion in thirty days. The work at the range will probably call for the employment of a good number of men from this city and will mean quite an amount of money expended here.
