FAREWELL RECEPTION TENDERED MRS. EVERETT EATON

From Saturday's Daily.
In appreciation of the delightful times that have been enjoyed at the private assemblies of Mrs. Everett Eaton during the winter, the young ladies who have taken part in these affairs got together and decided to give a farewell for Mrs. Eaton, who leaves tomorrow for her future home in California. The affair was given last evening at the Woodman hall and was one of the most delightful affairs of the winter and was attended by some forty young people, who spent a most enjoyable time, although the evening's festivities were tinged with regret over the fact that they were to lose Mrs. Eaton from their circle, as she has been one of the leaders in the dancing society of the city and her departure leaves a place hard to fill. The hall for the occasion had been decorated most charmingly with red streamers, and with the large crowd of joyous young people made a most charming scene to the eye. Dainty refreshments were served by the young ladies in the ante-room, which added greatly to the delight of the evening, which was spent in dancing until a late hour, when the guests departed, wishing Mrs. Eaton much happiness and joy in her new home in California.

Already Preaching.

From Saturday's Daily.
Up at Plattsmouth they are becoming so pious they do not want anything but a puritanical Sabbath and those who do not want that kind of a day and want to attend the picture shows and theaters, or perhaps take a "nip" go to Omaha, spend their money and their Sundays. It has been intimated that Col. Bates is going to give up the newspaper work and go to preaching.—Nebraska City News.
The Colonel has been engaged in preaching for fifty years already, but it has always been for the straight Jeffersonian democracy "at all times and under all circumstances!" And will continue so to the end.

Returning From California.

From Saturday's Daily.
Mrs. A. C. Dean of South Haven, Michigan, who has been spending the winter at San Bernardino, California, came in last evening and will visit for a time with her nieces, Mrs. Oscar Gopen and Mrs. Will Jenn, near this city. Mrs. Dean is en route home to Michigan, and decided to make a short visit here before resuming her journey.

HAS ROUNDED OUT SOME FIFTY YEARS IN NEBRASKA

From Saturday's Daily.
Fifty years ago today, April 5, 1863, Mrs. E. G. Dovey first set foot on the soil of Nebraska, at this city, where she has been a resident since that time, and everyone in the city has grown to respect and love this worthy lady, whose years have been spent here, and who, with her husband, had such a large part in forming the city of Plattsmouth. Mrs. Dovey had resided in St. Louis until her husband, who had gone west to Nebraska in March, 1863, accompanied by her two small sons, George E. and Oliver C. Dovey, she boarded the steambowl at St. Louis to start on the trip up the river to Plattsmouth, where her husband had embarked in business. The trip required two weeks, and it was on Easter Sunday that the party landed in their new home here. The space of fifty years is long to think about, and the years that Mrs. Dovey has spent here filled the time of the greatest development of this part of the west, and it is to be hoped she will be able to celebrate the seventy-fifth anniversary of her arrival in Nebraska.

DIPHTHERIA CLAIMS TWO VICTIMS AT WEEPING WATER

From Saturday's Daily.
Death has again entered one of the homes of Weeping Water, that of Mr. and Mrs. A. Fredrickson, and claimed for its victim their youngest daughter, Ruth, aged 13, who died March 27, after only a few days of illness of diphtheria. The grief-stricken family have the sympathy of the entire community. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. L. F. Townsend and the remains were interred in Oakwood cemetery on March 29.
Since writing this account it becomes our painful duty to record the death on Wednesday night of Edith, the 16-year-old sister of the above. It was thought that she was convalescing, but she suffered a relapse and the community was shocked when the news came of her death.—Weeping Water Republican.

Still Very Ill.

From Saturday's Daily.
Miss Josie Reuland, who has been suffering for the past five weeks with a severe attack of rheumatism, is still confined to her home. She is almost helpless, as her entire right side is affected and she is unable to move either the right limb or arm. Her suffering has been very great for the past five weeks. She seems some better today.

Mrs. Rawls Will Sing.

From Saturday's Daily.
At the regular morning hour of the Y. M. B. C. tomorrow Mrs. R. Glen Rawls will favor the young men with one of her very pleasing musical numbers. The event will be a most pleasing treat to the young men, as Mrs. Rawls is one of our leading vocalists.

Case Is Filed.

From Saturday's Daily.
In the district court yesterday afternoon petition was filed asking permission to sell real estate belonging to Joseph Elton Ryan and Archie J. Ryan, minor heirs. The application is filed by George E. Ryan of Yamhill county, Oregon, guardian of the boys.

Mr. and Mrs. I. S. White.

From Saturday's Daily.
Mr. and Mrs. Mark White, from near Rock Bluffs, and Mr. and Mrs. I. S. White, from Murray, were in the city a few hours today visiting with county seat friends and doing some trading. This is the first time the senior Mr. and Mrs. White have been in the city for several months, owing to sickness during the winter. We are indeed pleased to see these excellent old people able to be with us again. While their health is still very poor, they are gaining.

Undecided as to What He'll Do.

J. D. Shrader of near Union was in the city yesterday, having driven up from his home to attend to business matters. Mr. Shrader reports that his father is undecided just what he will do in the future, as the death of his wife and helpmate in the tornado was a very severe blow to Uncle George at his age, and he feels greatly broken up.

FUNERAL OF CHARLES FREDRICK BRANDT

Large Concourse of Sympathetic Friends Attend to Pay Tribute—Interment in Oak Hill.

From Saturday's Daily.
The funeral of the late Charles Frederick Brandt was held yesterday afternoon from St. Paul's Evangelical church and was attended by quite a number of the friends of the family, who gathered to pay their last respects to their departed friend. The rector of the church, Rev. J. H. Steger, spoke words of consolation to the grief-stricken wife and children and friends and held out to them the future meeting in other worlds where the bitterness of partings and death would be unknown.

Charles Frederick Brandt was born July 17, 1869, in Hamburg, Germany. He learned the carpenter trade in his native city and for several years was employed as a ship carpenter, traveling on different vessels plying out of Hamburg. He was united in marriage in 1895 with Miss Auguste Eekers, in Germany, and to this union four children were born, two boys and two girls, who, with the mother, are left to mourn his death. The family emigrated to the United States about five years ago and settled near Louisville, where they resided until a short time ago, when the family removed to this city, where they have since resided.

Last fall the condition of Mr. Brandt's health forced him to seek a milder climate and he departed for Texas, where he was employed at his trade until last January, when he met with an accident that caused him to be laid up and he grew steadily worse until his death at Houston, Texas, on March 29. He was a man highly respected by all who knew him and his death came as a great shock to his friends. The interment was made in Oak Hill cemetery in this city.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to return our most heartfelt thanks to the many friends for their assistance in the death and burial of our husband and father and especially to Rev. J. H. Steger, who conducted the burial service. May the blessing of heaven rest on all of them.

Do You Know

THAT AT THE DRUG STORE OF

Weyrich & Hadraba

you can buy Wall Paper for a whole room from 75c up?

Remember, this is for 1913 stock, not remnants or old stuff, and we are figuring on a basis of wall, ceiling and border for a 10x12 room, 9 feet high with three openings.

You know we charge the same price per roll for the border as the wall and ceiling. If you buy paper at 10c per roll, the 9-inch border costs 10c per roll of 48 feet.

MRS. ELIZA SEXTON, MOTHER OF MRS. SCOTTON, DIES IN LINCOLN

From Saturday's Daily.
Mrs. Eliza Sexton, mother of Mrs. William T. Scotton of this city, passed away yesterday afternoon at 3:15 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Emrick, in Lincoln, with whom she had been making her home for some years. Mrs. Sexton had reached the advanced age of 90 years and was unable to withstand the attack of pneumonia with which she was taken down a few days ago.

Mrs. Sexton was an early resident of Plattsmouth, having come here in the early seventies, residing here until a few years ago, when she removed to Lincoln, where she had since resided. She was well known to the older residents of the community here, where for so many years she was a prominent figure in social and church work, being a devoted member of the Roman Catholic church. She is survived by one son, John R. Sexton, of LaJunta, Colorado, and three daughters, Mrs. Mary Willis, Cripple Creek, Colorado; Mrs. G. P. Emerick, Lincoln, and Mrs. W. T. Scotton of this city. Mrs. T. L. Murphy of Omaha and Mrs. F. C. Weber of this city are granddaughters of the deceased.

The funeral services will be held in Lincoln at 9 o'clock Monday morning, from St. Theresa's cathedral. The body will be brought to Plattsmouth for interment, arriving on the 1:12 train over the Burlington and taken direct to Holy Sepulcher cemetery.

ELKS HOLD CONCLAVE AND INSTALL NEW OFFICERS

From Saturday's Daily.
The local lodge of the Elks last evening held their installation of officers at their lodge rooms in the Coates' building, before a large attendance of the membership of the order. The following gentlemen were installed in their new offices by Dr. J. S. Livingston, retiring exalted ruler:

Exalted Ruler—Emmons J. Richey.
Leading Knight—James K. Pollock.
Loyal Knight—Guy C. White.
Lecturing Knight—R. Glenn Rawls.
Tyler—Emil J. Weyrich.
Secretary—E. G. Dovey.
Treasurer—R. F. Patterson.
Trustee—J. P. Falter.

Following the session of the lodge the members adjourned to the banquet room, where an elegant "beef lunch," which had been prepared in an elegant manner, was served, and made a great hit with the members, who were loud in their praise of the chef who had prepared the repast.

There are a few boxes of stationery on our bargain counter. You will have to hurry if you want some while the price is so low.
