THE BIG MUDDY IS STILL RAMPAGING

The Lowland Covered With Almost Two Feet of Water and Still Rising.

The high water in the Missouri river is continuing gaining, and yesterday morning the stream began to flow over the lowlands east of the depot, and this morning the whole bottom is pretty well covered by from one to two feet of water, and with the raise that is reported to be coming down the river the overflow will be much greater.

The water near Folsom and Benton Station, Iowa, continue to give the railroad company considerable trouble, as the danger to the tracks there is increasing and a force of men is kept constantly on hand to watch for any breaking of the river in the protecting works that the company has put up there. Several strings of cars have been taken from this city for the men to stay in during the flood, as the high water has made their former quarters impossible to stay in.

The authorities at Sioux City expect a raise of several feet yet in the river, which will put it at about as near a flood stage as it has been for some years. The danger from the river is not great through this section, but farther south and at Kansas City there is much apprehension over the trouble that may be caused by the stream.

The high water here has forced the family of I. F. Bates, who resides just east of the depot, to remove their effects to this city, as water now surrounds the house and with the prospects of a much higher raise before night, and it was thought best to take no chances in having their goods moved and they will be stored until after the water subsides from the vicinity of the home.

The water has spread out over the Iowa bottoms north of Pacific Junction and several of the farm houses there are entirely surrounded by water and the residents have generally sought shelter on the hills. The reports from Sioux City and Omaha point to the crest of the flood reaching here about night, and then it will only be a short time until normal conditions are restored.

The play has met with success on stages of Germany and in a number of American cities, and whoever is desirous of enjoying an evening of hearty laughs and interesting studies will be well rewarded by witnessing "Der Eintagsprinz." Actors who have an established reputation here and abroad have been brought together in this play. "Der Eintagsprinz" is a farce comedy with music—ein urkomischer Schwank, as the Germans say. Landslaute, come and see your German friends.

A little ad in the Journal will serve the purpose.

BEN RAINEY RESIGNS AS CHIEF OF POLICE

It is to Be Hoped That a Man Equally as Competent Will Be Appointed.

Ben Rainey, who for the past few years has held the office of chief of police of Plattsmouth, this evening will present his resignation to the city council, as he expects to farm the coming summer on the island, southeast of this city, in company with Frank Ashenbrenner. During the time that he has served in the capacity of chief of police he has kept good order throughout the city and there has been no fighting and brawls that were so frequent here before the time that he assumed the office, and it is with regret that his resignation will be received by the majority of the citizens, as he was undoubtedly one of the best men that has ever filled that office.

Mayor Sattler has not as yet announced whom he will appoint to the vacancy, although there are a large number of names mentioned as prospective candidates, among them James Ptacek, Frank Neuman, Howard Newton, John Cory. It is to be hoped that a person can be selected who will be able to continue the work in the same manner that it has been carried under Mr. Rainey, and keep down disorder of all kinds, and, as during the coming summer there will be a large number of strangers and soldiers here, it will require a man of good nerve and judgment to set on the lid.

Why He Was Late.

"What made you so late?" "I met Smithson." "Well, that is no reason why you should be an hour late getting home to supper." "I know, but I asked him how he was feeling, and he insisted on telling me about his stomach trouble." "Did you tell him to take Chamberlain's Tablets?" "Sure, that is what he needs." Sold by F. G. Fricke & Co.

SOME VERY IMPORTANT INSTRUCTIONS FROM WASHINGTON

District Clerk James Robertson has just received from the naturalization bureau of the department of labor some new instructions, covering what is becoming very important, owing to the large number of states that are adopting woman suffrage, that of the naturalization of women. The department has held that any American woman who marries a foreigner shall take the nationality of the husband, but upon the severing of the marital relation may resume her status as an American citizen by registering as such with the representatives of the United States abroad, or by residing in the United States. They have also held that any foreign woman who marries an American can, after the marital relation has ceased, retain her citizenship by residence in the United States. These rulings of the department are made necessary by the growing spirit of woman suffrage throughout the country, and the tests of the women for citizenship will become as strict as that of the men.

MRS. J. R. VALLERY TAKEN TO HOSPITAL IN OMAHA

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. J. R. Vallery of near Mynard was taken to Omaha, where she will be placed in a hospital there for an operation. Mrs. Vallery was taken quite sick several days ago and her condition became such that it was thought advisable to remove her to the hospital at once, while her condition was so favorable. The many friends of Mrs. Vallery throughout the county will be very sorry to learn of her illness, but trust that she may soon be able to return to her home completely restored to health.

WAGNER'S DELICATESSEN IS VISITED BY HUNDREDS

The opening of the new Wagner delicatessen shop and lunch room Saturday afternoon attracted a large number of customers and visitors and all were greatly pleased at the manner in which Mr. Wagner has equipped his home of dainties for the lunch. The store was handsomely decorated with carnations and made a most charming scene. The lunches served were simply out of sight and Mr. Wagner with his new establishment is certainly filling a long-felt want in this city, where dainty cold lunches can be secured, and under his able management there is no doubt that the place will be an immense success.

Dettman Family Leaves.

H. Dettman and son, Ben, left last evening with a car of goods for Imperial, Neb., where the family will make their future home. Mrs. Dettman and the other children are here yet, but will leave as soon as things are in readiness for their coming.

On Friday evening the Dettman family was given a surprise reception at the M. E. church dining parlor by the people of that congregation, and on Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Dettman was honored guest at a reception by the Ladies' Kensington at the home of Mrs. A. W. Neihart. At both of these gatherings the deepest sorrow was expressed over the removal of this estimable family from our midst. It is the sincere wish of their many Elmwood friends that they prosper well in their new home.—Elmwood Leader-Echo.

A. L. TIDD ADDRESSES THE PRESBYTERIAN BROTHERHOOD

At the meeting of the Presbyterian Brotherhood yesterday morning at the church the members and visitors had the pleasure of hearing a very able address by Attorney A. L. Tidd on the subject, "The Transfiguration." Mr. Tidd is a very close student of the bible and has devoted much time to the study of the application of the teachings and statements, and his address yesterday was a very pleasing treat to those fortunate enough to attend the meeting. Mr. Tidd presented the matter in a manner different from that usually given by speakers along religious lines, and his talk was a splendid intellectual treat, delving as he did into the great mysteries of the infinite mind and comparing the human mind and soul to that of the spiritual. There was a large attendance at the meeting, which was one of the most successful that has been held by the Brotherhood, although the movement is beginning to attract the men members of the congregation to the possibilities of the organization.

Holds Good Roads Meeting.

Quite a number of the auto owners of this section of Cass county gathered at the Coates' block Saturday afternoon and were addressed on the subject of good roads by Secretary O. C. Turner of the State Association of Auto Owners on the good roads question, and his talk was right to the point, with the different parties who attended. He also met a number of the prominent auto owners on the street and did quite good deal of missionary work for the association he represents.
