MAYOR AND COUNCIL ENTER UPON NEW YEAR

A Large Number of Claims Al- lowed and New Councilmen Sworn In.

From Saturday's Daily.

The city council last evening enjoyed a session, which for length almost broke the record made by that legislature, but it was productive of a little more results than the meetings of the Nebraska legislators. It was, in addition to the large amount of business handled, inauguration day for the new city officials and the new members of the council were fittingly inducted into the offices they were elected to, after the old council had disposed of its business.

When the mayor called the old council to order there was only one absentee, Mr. Dovey of the First ward, who was detained at his place of business and was not able to take part in the closing scenes of the council.

Mayor Sattler announced as there was a vacancy existing in the Fifth ward, due to the resignation of J. M. Vondran, he had weighed the matter in his mind and had decided to appoint L. E. Vroman to the position, which appointment was confirmed without a dissenting vote by the members of the council, and after the presentation of the bond of the new councilman for $1,000, signed by H. M. Soennichsen and C. C. Westcott, he was sworn in and took his seat to represent the ward in the city legislative body.

The city clerk had on hand several communications, which he read to the dads, which covered several different lines of street work and improvements. One from G. W. Homan, residing on Chicago avenue and Tenth street, asked that the city prepare the grade near his place, as he was ready to put down a permanent walk, and the work was ordered done at once. Another petition that was presented was for permission to use the alley and streets along several blocks on Pearl and Tenth streets, as well as Ninth, for the placing of a private sewer system, which will prove a great improvement to that section of the city. The petitioners were granted the permission and are to put up a bond for $500 to the city to see that the work is done in a satisfactory manner.

The finance committee of the council had on hand a large number of claims, which they had carefully examined and found to be correct, and recommended the payment of the following: C. W. Baylor & Co., coal and labor at library, $7.50; Ben Rainey, salary, $65; Henry Trout, salary, $50; R. A. Bates, printing, $75; H. M. Soennichsen, merchandise, 90c; James Andrews, nozzleman, Peoples' fire, $1.50; Ed Kruger, same, $1.50; Gus Carlson, nozzleman, Jennings' fire, $1.50; George Iraskey, nozzleman, $1.50; William Sitzman, hauling hose, $1.50; Gus Carlson, nozzleman, $1.50; Ed Snodgrass, street work, $36.80; Mike McCool, same, $11.80; John P. Sattler, trustee German Home, room for election, Second ward, $6; judges and clerks of election in the five wards, $15 for each ward; M. McCool, burying one dog, 50 cents; George Sayles, agent Phoenix Insurance company, policy, $17.40; Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co., rent for phone, $1.50; August Tartsch, putting up voting booths, $6; J. H. Donnelly, salary, $4.50; Olive Jones, salary, $33; public library, expense for March, $3.49; J. F. W. Darroum Co., dog tags and punch to clerk, $3.50; M. Archer, salary, $30; Kanka & Hesse, making four ballot boxes, $1; Mari Sheldon, raising manhole, $8.25; D. B. Eberson, financier, A. O. U. W. No. 8, room for election, $6; Nebraska Lighting Co., light at library, $2.50; same, street lighting, $12.75; B. G. Wurl, expense for March, $2.30; Platts Mout Water Co., fire hydrant rental, $8.10; D. J. Major, street work, $1.60; John Fitzpatrick, salary, $10; Paul Wohlfarth, drying hose, $1.50; George Forbes, same, $1.50; George Schantz, room for election, Fifth ward, $5; Cosmopolitan club, room for election, Fourth ward, $5; Nelson Renner, street work, $10; George Sitzman, same, $10.80; W. B. Rishel, same, $4; Mural Parmele, same, $14.

The report of Chief of Police Rainey for the month of March, showing seven arrests, was read, and on motion referred to the police committee.

Chairman Kurtz of the streets, alleys and bridges committee reported that there had been considerable work done in the past month, but owing to the unsettled weather there had been considerable trouble in getting around, and that it would take some time to handle all that had been ordered. Councilman Butterly asked concerning the tiling that had been ordered placed near the green-house on West Locust street, and Mr. Kurtz stated that the committee had viewed the place, but the condition of the street had been too muddy to permit the work being done at this time.

City Clerk B. G. Wurl reported that during the month just ended he had collected the sum of $20 for occupation tax, which had been turned over to the city treasurer.

The report of the chief of the fire department and the various foremen were referred to the fire and water committee for inspection to report at the next meeting.

The judiciary committee, to which had been referred the matter of the application of Sam G. Smith for a 99-year lease on a strip of ground three feet wide surrounding his barn on Vine and Sixth streets, reported that under the law the city had no right to grant such a lease and that if it was granted it could be annulled by the protest of any freeholder of the city. On motion of Hallstrom the report was adopted and placed on file.

The claims committee reported favorably on the bills of Cass county for $7.75 for boarding prisoners, and J. H. McMaken for $4 for hauling fire bell to city hall.

The cemetery committee, which had been looking into the matter of buying the brick school house in Mercerville for a residence for the sexton, reported that the city could not buy it or put up a building until an appropriation had been made at the beginning of the fiscal year. The board of education has not definitely decided whether they will sell the building or not.

The chief piece de resistance of the evening was then brought forth and placed before the city fathers for their consideration, it being the moving picture show regulation ordinance, which had been passed from meeting to meeting for over a month. The amendment to allow the show to remain open from 1 to 5 p.m. on Sunday was introduced by Councilman Richey, but died for want of a second, and the ordinance in its original form was then placed on its third reading, and on the vote to pass the same the members voted as follows:

Yeas—Kurtz, Hallstrom, Johnson, Vroman, 4.

Nays—Patterson, Butterly, Lushinsky, Shea, 4; Richey passed.

As it is necessary for an ordinance to receive a majority of the council or six votes, the measure was lost. A great many people are under the impression that the mayor can cast a deciding vote in the passage of an ordinance, but it is necessary that it receive the majority vote of the council.

The mayor then appointed a canvassing board to inspect the election returns of the recent election, and they reported the result to be as published in this paper, except for the office of city clerk, where Ed Donat had received two votes in the Third ward, cutting Wurl's majority to 668.

The bonds of the newly elected city officials were read and approved. The only bond of any size was that of City Treasurer Cook for $25,000, with G. E. Dovey and G. C. Parmele as security.

On motion of Richey the old council then adjourned and passed away into the records of the things that were.

City Clerk Wurl, in a clear and ringing voice, then administered the oath of office to Mayor John P. Sattler, after which the mayor called the new councilmen and the city clerk to the desk and administered the oath of office to them, and the new city council cleared the decks for business. On motion of Councilman Hallstrom, the late president of the council, George Lushinsky, was elected to that position for another term, as he is one of the leading and able members of the body.

Mayor Sattler then announced the standing committees for the year as follows: Finance, Pat-

EFFECTS OF FLOODS ON THE RAILROAD TRAFFIC

Floods in the east have had some effect on business, according to local railroad traffic men, who estimate that it will run from 10 to 15 per cent less now than a year ago. They look for a change to the better as soon as normal conditions prevail there. This is the period of the year when freight traffic is lighter than common. Soon, it is pointed out, binding twine will be shipped in large quantities to the mid-western states where there is considerable grain raised.

In the last few weeks the Burlington has had a fair run of sheep from the feeding districts of the west, but that is about over now.

Here for Short Visit.

Elias Atwood of Albion, Neb., was in the city today for a short visit with his niece, Mrs. Fred Morgan and family, returning to his home on the afternoon Burlington train. Mr. Atwood brought a car of cattle to the Omaha market and took advantage of the occasion to run down for a short visit.

"PRINCESS CHRYSANTHE- MUM" AT THE PARMELE THEATER LAST NIGHT

ANOTHER BOOM IN THE MATRIMONIAL MARKET

From Tuesday's Daily.

The Japanese opera, "Princess Chrysanthemum," was given last evening for the second time by the Players' club before a good-sized audience at the Parmele theater, and the show was given in the same able manner that characterized the previous performance. The auditors were well pleased with the way the different parts were handled. The company expects to go tomorrow evening to Nebraska City, where the Commercial club of that city have taken the matter in hand and the proceeds will go to the Berlin sufferers.
