JOHN SPECK LAID AT REST

Last Sad Rites Attended by Large
 Concourse of Near and Dear
 Friends of the Young Man.

The funeral services of the late John Speck were held yesterday from the home of his mother, Mrs. Claus Speck, sr., on Locust street, and was attended by a great crowd of sorrowing friends, who gathered to pay their last tribute to their worthy young friend, whose life had been cut down while yet in the dawning of his bright young manhood.

The services were conducted at the home of Rev. J. H. Steger of St. Paul's church, who spoke briefly of the life of the departed and gave the grief-stricken relatives consoling words of the meeting in the future, where partings and griefs will be unknown. He spoke in part as follows: "Death always comes veiled in mystery and draped in sadness, but in the dispensation which has gathered us together, there are elements of peculiar sorrow. A brief, bright earthly life, radiant while it lasted with sunshine and joy for all around, and to human view full of promise for the future, has come to a close. A beloved son, who brought so much gladness in the home, has closed his life, his work is done. Over and above the natural buoyancy of youth there was in him the bright sparkle and effescence of a mind which was singularly quick to its apprehension. For years he worked for business men of our city, who, without desiring to flatter, unanimously declare that the deceased was a very active and industrious young man."

A quartet from the church sang several of the old, well-loved hymns during the service, which were so appropriate to the gentle, kindly life of the departed friend. The Burlington band and Modern Woodmen, of which John was a member, attended the services in a body, and acted as an escort for the casket to the grave in Oak Hill cemetery, the band playing the funeral march. The floral tributes were lavish and expressed the universal high opinion that was held of this most worthy young man, and his departure will leave a place hard to fill among the circle of his friends.

At the home the Sons of Herman were present to pay their last respects, and many of them accompanied the cortage to the grave, where a short prayer service was held by Rev. J. H. Steger, after which the Modern Woodmen of America gave their beautiful ritual service for the dead as the casket was lowered to its last earthly resting place. The pall-bearers were selected from members of the Woodmen and the Cosmopolitan club, of which organization the departed brother had been a very loyal member, and were as follows: Glen Scott, Fred Jess, Frank Smith, Earl Geise, William Heinrich and Alvin Murray.

John Mumm Speck was born at Plattsmouth, Neb., October 13, 1893, and has resided in this city during the period of his lifetime. He attended the public schools of this city until he entered the employ of the firm of Kunsmann & Range, where he was employed as a butcher for a number of years, leaving that place to go to work in the Burlington shops, where he was employed in the brass foundry until he was stricken down with appendicitis about five weeks ago and was taken to Immanuel hospital in Omaha, where all that was possible was done for him, but pneumonia setting in after the operation, it became impossible to save his life and he passed away Friday morning at an early hour. The young man leaves, besides his aged mother, to mourn his loss the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. A. Roberts, Omaha; Mrs. Gus Pein, Plattsmouth; Mrs. Amanda Ewing, Hopkins, Missouri; Claus Speck, Miss Alma Speck, Plattsmouth; Walter Speck, Hannibal, Missouri; Henry Speck, Weeping Water.

FIRST BALL GAME OF THE SEASON

A Fair Crowd Present to Witness
 Game, Notwithstanding the Threatening Weather.

The event of the year that has been looked forward to with much interest by the base ball fans of the city occurred yesterday afternoon, when the Boosters opened the season of 1913 at their park by going up against the team representing the Dundee Woolen Mills company of Omaha.

Despite the disagreeable weather, there was a very fair turnout of the lovers of the game and they were greatly pleased with the showing made by the local boys. Connors and Mason officiated on the slab for the Boosters, while Mann was on the job back of the bat. The opposing pitcher was touched up quite lively in the first inning, when the Boosters brought home a score, repeating the feat in the fourth inning. At the close of the game the score stood 2 to 0 in favor of Plattsmouth.

The Boosters are starting out in far better shape than last year, and all of them are showing much better batting ability, and if they continue in the same good form they will make a ball team of which any town can feel proud.

The team have secured Saulsbury for the third sack this season and he is going to make some third baseman, too—you can set this down in your dope book, and with the regulars of last season to furnish the coaching, the new material in the team can be depended upon to show up in fine shape.

Coughs and Consumption.

Coughs and couds, when neglected, always lead to serious trouble of the lungs. The wisest thing to do when you have a cold that troubles you is to get a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. You will get relief from the first dose, and finally the cough will disappear. O. H. Brown, of Muscadine, Ala., writes: "My wife was down in bed with an obstinate cough, and I honestly believe had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery, she would not be living today." Known for forty three years as the best remedy for coughs and colds. Price 50c and $1.00. Recommended by Ed Rynott & Co.

GEORGE W. THOMAS PURCHASES RESIDENCE ON VINE STREET

The brick residence property on Vine street, which has been occupied by N. K. Peoples and family, and which recently had a very narrow escape from destruction by fire, has just been purchased by George W. Thomas of this city from Mrs. Stamm of Havelock. Mr. Thomas will have the property greatly improved and fitted up in a modern manner and probably will occupy the same as a residence in the future for himself and family. The purchase of this place by Mr. Thomas will be the source of much pleasure to residents of that section, as that excellent family will prove valuable additions to that portion of the city.

APPLIES FOR HIS SECOND NATURALIZATION PAPERS

This morning Carl Richert, one of the industrious young farmers of near Wabash, appeared at the office of District Clerk James Robertson and applied for his second naturalization papers. Mr. Richert arrived in this country from Germany in February, 1907, and his application was the first here to come under the new law that requires a certificate of landing from the emigration authorities at the port of entry. His first papers were made out in Saunders county and he will undoubtedly prove a most worthy citizen of this great land of the free.

MRS. MARY ANN STREIGHT FILES SUIT FOR DIVORCE

A suit for divorce was filed in the district court by Mrs. Mary Ann Streight of South Bend against Thaddeus A. Streight. The plaintiff, in her petition, states that they were married in May, 1862, at Frankfort, Iowa, and that in 1884 the defendant, without just cause, willfully abandoned her and has since that time failed to provide for her maintenance. She has accumulated considerable property since her husband abandoned her, and asks that an absolute divorce be granted her and that he will have no claim on any of her property. The defendant is now a resident of Kemmer, Wyoming.

Miss Barkhurst Ill.

J. M. Barkhurst from near Union, was called to this city this morning, owing to the sudden illness of his daughter, Miss Dovie, who has been in Plattsmouth for the past few days attending reading circles and county examination at the office of County Superintendent Miss Foster. It was at first feared that Miss Barkhurst might be suffering from an attack of appendicitis, but she is improving and may be able to return home with her father today. She is teaching in District No. 12, what is known as the Taylor school. While in the city Mr. Barkhurst paid the Journal office a brief call, and will in the future be a reader of the Evening Journal in place of the Semi-Weekly.

Why He Was Late.

"What made you so late?"
 "I met Smithson."
 "Well, that is no reason why you should be an hour late getting home to supper."
 "I know, but I asked him how he was feeling, and he insisted on telling me about his stomach trouble."
 "Did you tell him to take Chamberlain's Tablets?"
 "Sure, that is what he needs."

T. E. TODD AND HIS NEW STUDEBAKER AUTOMOBILE

T. E. Todd, one of Cass county's most successful farmers, with his wife and niece, motored in from his farm, west of the city, Saturday afternoon in his new Studebaker car. Mr. Todd drove the car from Omaha Tuesday of last week. The auto is a five-passenger car and of the latest pattern. Mr. Todd had no difficulty in operating it, he having spent several weeks the past winter in the Thomas & Helps' garage at Long Beach, California. There he worked daily with Ernest Wurl, Walter Thomas and his son, former Plattsmouth citizens. By the way, Mr. Todd speaks highly of the immense business done by the Thomas & Helps garage; also of Senator S. L. Thomas, who, with one of his grandsons, is engaged in the dye works there, and doing a very profitable business. Both concerns employ about six or eight men constantly and have all the business they can do.
