UNION NEEDS "FIXING" IN CERTAIN RESPECTS

We do not wish to tread upon the toes of anyone in a manner that will make a sore spot, but we beg leave to say that from a moral standpoint this town needs fixing in certain respects. It is a well known fact that at almost any hour of the day and evening there is vulgar and profane language used on the street, making it very embarrassing at times for those who do not indulge in that kind of talk, and especially for ladies and children. It ought to be stopped. Perhaps some of those who thus offend do not do so intentionally or maliciously, while there are some who care little what kind of language they use or who hear it. The man (or boy) who has a wife, daughter or sister, would no doubt resent any profane or vulgar language if uttered in their presence or hearing, and they should show the same respect for others that they would have others show their relatives. By all means, let this habit of using vile language in public be stopped, voluntarily if possible, by the aid of the law if necessary.

The editor of this paper has been requested more than once to "roast" a few offenders, but that is not our specialty. When we think a little "roasting" is required we will attend to it and take the responsibility, and those who want it done for their own satisfaction must do the same—write their "roasts," sign their names, back it up. We stand ready to do our share in the way of making the streets of Union a place where respectable people can pass along without being insulted by foul language and drunks, but we are not ready to make it a personal fight while others choose to let it go on without their implied approval. When the village officials and other citizens say "come on" instead of "go ahead" they will show that they are willing to help with the reform instead of waiting for someone else to lead the campaign for a decent and respectable town.—Union Ledger.

ORDERED TO GO HENCE AND NEVER RETURN

This morning the sheriff made a visit to the Burlington depot and inquired the whereabouts of a certain lady who has been making her home here for the past few weeks, and finding her there, informed her that it would be best for her to remove from the city. The story, as much as can be learned, is that the lady had some differences with her husband about a year ago and separated, but a few weeks ago the husband came to her and agreed to take her with him to this city if she would promise to try and remedy her ways. The couple came here and all went well until a few days ago, when the woman began to resume her actions that had caused the disagreement between herself and husband, and they finally become so flagrant that the authorities were notified and the woman informed to leave the city at once.

MR. THOMAS COMING WITH LECTURE CAR

Employees of Shops To Have Lecture That Will Prove of Benefit to Every One of Them.

Frank B. Thomas, who for years was connected with the Burlington headquarters in Omaha, but who has lately removed to Chicago and is filling the position of safety lecturer for the entire system, will be here tomorrow with his safety lecture car, which will be run up into the shop yards and lectures on the preventing of accidents given each day until the entire force of employees are able to hear them. The lectures will be given at 12:15, 4:15 and 5 o'clock in order that the men employed in the shops can have an opportunity to attend.

Mr. Thomas is not only delivering lectures, but in connection with his talks he is showing stereopticon pictures, each one of which is an object lesson, portraying the correct, instead of the wrong way of doing tasks required of active railroad men in the yards, on the train, in the shops and around the freight houses. For more than one and one-half years he has been doing this line of work and has come to be regarded one of the best safety lecturers in the country.

A little more than two years ago Mr. Thomas went into the safety lecture business for the Burlington and since then he has talked to its tens of thousands of employees at terminals, division points and in the larger cities along the line.

The Burlington was one of the first of the railroads to take up the "Safety First" slogan, which has since been adopted by more than half of the roads of the United States.

When Mr. Thomas first started in the work, his lectures were given in halls and opera houses in the towns along the lines, but to him it soon became apparent that this was not the right way to reach the employees. His lectures and his pictures always drew crowds, but railroad employees were largely in the minority. He discovered that it was too much of a task for the men to dress up and go down town to listen to a lecture after having finished a day's hard work. He called the attention of the officials to the matter and was told to work out a scheme that would meet with his own approval. He suggested the lecture car idea and was told to go ahead and work out his plans. Given a free hand, he secured a large size passenger coach and converted it into a lecture hall, capable of seating fifty persons. Since that time this coach has been the business place of Mr. Thomas and practically his home when out on the lines.

NO REASON FOR IT.

When Plattsmouth Citizens Show a Way.

There can be no reason why any reader of this who suffers the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the pains and dangers of kidney ills will fail to heed the words of a neighbor who has found relief. Read what a Plattsmouth citizen says:

Charles L. Bates, farmer, Ninth and Walnut streets, Plattsmouth, Neb., says: "Kidney complaint seemed to come upon me all of a sudden. I attribute it to a heavy cold, which settled on my kidneys and made them weak, causing the kidney secretions to pass too frequently. I often had pains across the small of my back. When I stooped, sharp twinges darted through me. I felt languid and had little ambition. When someone advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a supply from Rynott's Drug Store. They soon benefited me and two boxes made a permanent cure. I can certainly recommend this remedy to anyone who has kidney complaint."

Mrs. Mary A. Taylor contemplates becoming a resident of this village in the near future, and will have a nice home built on her lots in the central part of town. Other improvements are talked of, but are not yet definitely decided upon.

James Lafta of Logan, Iowa, was here Monday and spent the day with his old soldier friend, Frank G. Kendall, their first meeting in forty years, and this reporter had the laugh on "Uncle Frank" when he helped Mr. Lafta play the role of peddler at Mr. Kendall's expense when they met. Mr. Lafta was a resident of this county a number of years ago, running a mill near Rock Bluffs about the year 1866.

The new brick school building on the hill will be rushed to a finish as rapidly as good workmen can do it. Messrs. Burr and Roach are intending to put on other masons to help them along with the work. The foundations are all laid and material on the ground, so that there will be no delay when the workmen get at it. We have not the data for a full description of the new building, but it will be on modern plans, and when completed and furnished will cost near $14,000.

Miss Edith Abel, who formerly lived west of town with her parents, visited her friend, Mrs. Jas. Johnson, the first of the week. She has been attending school in Chicago and stopped off to visit old-time friends, as she is on her way to her home at Sheridan, Wyoming.

Sam Baker, the 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Baker, living just south of town, met with a painful accident Wednesday afternoon while working with a buzz saw in his father's carpenter shop. In some way he got his hand into the saw and had his thumb mangled so that it had to be amputated by Dr. Welch, who fixed it up so as to save as much of the member as possible. It is an unfortunate injury, but Sam should feel thankful that it was not his whole hand.

MEMORIAL SERVICES IN HONOR OF THE LATE WALTER J. WHITE

St. Luke's parish church was crowded with worshippers yesterday at the memorial Eucharist in memory of the late Walter J. White. The altar was decorated with white carnations, and the parish priest used Redhead's mass in "F," assisted by St. Luke's choir under the direction of Prof. Austin. The Masonic lodge, in full regalia, occupied seats on the north side of the church and the mayor and city council of Plattsmouth on the south side. Promptly at 11 o'clock the vested choir entered the church singing, "The Son of God Goes Forth to War." The beautiful anthem, "The Lord Is My Light," by Henry Hiles, followed. At the conclusion of the proanaphra the choir sang "God Is My Defense." The rector preached an eloquent sermon upon the value of an earnest Christian life to the community, taking as a text St. Paul's words, "For I am persuaded that neither death nor life nor things present nor things to come shall be able to separate me from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus, our Lord."
