

BOOSTERS MEET ANOTHER DEFEAT

J. S. Cross Team of Omaha "Put It Over" the Boosters by a Score of 3 to 2.

The Plattsmouth Boosters yesterday afternoon were defeated by the J. S. Cross team of Omaha in a contest that should have been theirs but for a mix-up in racing after a long fly by Mason and Arries in the eighth inning, which allowed the Crosses to bring in the winning run. Plattsmouth at this stage of the game was in the lead by a score of 2 to 1, but the accident brought the visitors to the front, 3 to 2, and they maintained this lead until the end of the game. Connor pitched a good game for the Boosters, but his support from the infield was very poor, although everything knocked to the outfield was handled in splendid shape, and one William Mason was the bright star in this department, as he made several difficult catches, and if he had not been run into would have saved the day in the eighth, as he was in the act of taking the ball when Arries bumped into him. The Omaha pitcher was not particularly effective, although his support was much better than that given Connor.

The visitors started right after the bacon in the first inning, when, after Kelley had been retired, C. Smith to McCauley, McKee placed a safe one to shortstop and beat out the throw to first. Gilham, who followed McKee to bat, put a two-bagger over second base that brought McKee home with the first score, but Grossman and Overman, who followed, were both struck out by Connor. In Plattsmouth's half of the inning Salsburg secured a safe one to the pitcher. L. Smith retired, Beber to Grossman, and then McCauley placed a hit to the pitcher and was thrown out at first. Salsburg, who had reached third, ventured too far off the base, and before he was aware of it was caught between home and third, retiring the side.

There was nothing more doing in the scoring line until the lucky seventh, when the Boosters began to show their real game. Cecil Smith made a good drive down the third base line and was safe at first. Mason, who followed him, was out on a fly to short. Then the fireworks were started by Connor, who hit safe to center field. Carle was put out on a little pop-up to shortstop. About this time Mr. Jefferson Salsburg advanced to the plate with his little willow in his hand and laid down on one of Mr. Beebe's slants for a two-bagger that brought Smith and Connor home and placed the Boosters one to the good and made the hearts of the fans beat joyfully, but the joy was short lived, as in the eighth the Crosses, largely through luck, succeeded in bringing two scores over the plate. Beebe, the first man up, flew out to short and Kelly was retired, C. Smith to McCauley, but McKee succeeded in getting a pass to first, the only one presented during the game by Connor. Gilham hit safely to left field, and owing to the collision between Mason and Arries, his hit was good and McKee came across with the score that tied the game, and Grossman hit one to third that brought Gilham across with the winning run. Overman, the next man up, was retired by a grounder to McCauley. This ended the scoring for either side, and although our boys were defeated, it was due largely to their bad luck and not to the superior work of the Crosses, and everyone felt they had seen the best game that has been pulled off this season on the home grounds. The line-up was as follows:

J. S. Crosses.	Boosters.
Johnson.... Catcher	Mann
Beebe..... Pitcher	Connor
Grossman... First	McCauley
McKee..... Second	C. Smith
Gilham... Shortstop	L. Smith
Kelley..... Third	Salsburg
Overman... Right	Carle
Bowen.... Center	Arries
Jarush..... Left	Mason

Manager Johnson has consulted with the different lodges and the Grand Army, and there being no objection, will have the Crosses here Decoration day, next Friday, for a game in the afternoon, starting at 3 o'clock.

EDGAR STEINHAUER MEETS WITH A SERIOUS ACCIDENT

Last evening about 7:30, while Edgar Steinhauer and Leland Briggs were out enjoying a spin on a motorcycle they met with an accident that may prove quite serious for Edgar and will lay him up for some time. They were riding out Washington avenue, and seeing a team ahead of them, slowed down to pass, when as they were opposite the team one of the horses became frightened and kicked out, striking Edgar on the side of the face, knocking him off the machine, as well as his companion, and the machine was dumped over to the side of the road, but was uninjured. The injured boy was at once taken to the office of Dr. E. W. Cook, where an examination was made, but no serious fractures or injuries could be discovered beyond several bruises, and he was able to walk home, although he seemed rather dazed. He was very poorly during the night and this morning had not fully recovered his faculties and seems to still be in a rather dazed condition. It is most fortunate for the boys that the accident did not occur on one of the paved streets, as it would have probably resulted in most serious injury from the fall.

MRS. ARTHUR C. HELPS VICTIM IN CALAMITY

The untimely death of Mrs. Arthur C. Helps in the terrible accident that swept away many lives at Long Beach, California, Saturday, will cause a deep feeling of grief here, where Mr. and Mrs. Helps were for many years among the popular residents of this city. The collapse of the great pier, the pride of Long Beach, occurred in the twinkling of an eye and in a few minutes some 36 were killed, while the list of injured will reach a much greater number, and in the list of the dead, as published yesterday, appeared the name of Mrs. Helps. Mr. and Mrs. Helps removed from this city about ten years ago to the Pacific coast, where they have made their home. Mr. Helps being engaged in the real estate business at Long Beach.

TRAGIC DEATH OF LITTLE SON OF J. RUMMEL

Further particulars of the tragic death of Teddy Rummel, the little 4-year-old son of Jacob Rummel, of Beaver City, have been received in this city. It seems that the little boy had in some manner evidently procured some matches without the knowledge of his parents and proceeded to the barn, where he evidently started a fire in the hay loft and soon the whole structure was a mass of flames. The mother of the boy and his sisters were at the house at the time of the fire, while the father and an older brother were working in a field. When the fire was discovered it was not thought that the lad had been in the barn, as it was supposed he was playing somewhere around the house, and a search was started for him when he failed to appear in a short time. One of the neighbors of the Rummel family made the discovery of the little charred body lying beside that of a horse in the burned barn and broke the sad news to the heart-broken parents. The many friends of the Rummel family in this county will extend their deepest sympathy in this their hour of bitter grief over the loss of the beloved son and brother. Will Rummel departed yesterday morning for Beaver City to attend the funeral, which will be held from the home this afternoon.

L. F. LANGHORST OPERATED UPON FOR APPENDICITIS

L. F. Langhorst was taken to Lincoln on the late morning train Wednesday to be operated upon for appendicitis, being placed on the operating table soon after arrival in the capital city. Mr. Langhorst was absent from his store Tuesday afternoon with a fishing party over on the Platte river, and it was during this trip he was taken with the terrible malady. The automobile the party were using was pressed into service for a rapid return home, and the sufferer was given immediate medical attention and made as comfortable as possible with loving hands attending. The operation Wednesday noon came in great relief and we are glad to hear at this writing (Thursday evening) that Mr. Langhorst is doing nicely and bright hopes are entertained for his ultimate recovery.—Elmwood Leader-Echo.

The Journal regrets to learn of its friend's serious illness, with the hope that he will soon be himself again. There are no better men than Lou Langhorst, and such men are very hard to find in any community, and this is why his many friends in every section of Cass county entertain great hopes for his speedy recovery.

Promotion of Louis Trimpe.

Today a change in cashiers was made at the Burlington station in this city, Mr. Louis Trimpe, who for the past two years has held the position, having been promoted to a position in the freight department at Omaha, and his place here will be taken by Mr. E. P. Stuart of South Omaha. Mr. Stuart was employed here about two years ago as a telegraph operator. It will be a matter of general regret that it is necessary for Mr. Trimpe and his charming wife to leave our city, but they will take with them the best wishes of a host of friends for their future happiness and good luck in the metropolis.

PICNIC FOR THE WOODBINE SCHOLARS SUNDAY

The pupils of the Woodbine school, west of this city, yesterday enjoyed a most delightful picnic to celebrate the closing of the school year and the event was largely attended, not only by the pupils, but the parents and friends as well. To Leave the Hospital.

Mrs. Frank Ohm, who was operated on in Omaha a few weeks ago at one of the hospitals there, is getting along fine and expects to be able to leave the hospital on Tuesday and Friday she expects to return to her home in this city. She is feeling much improved in health and the news of her recovery will be most pleasing to her host of friends here, who have missed her greatly during her sickness.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE C. L. BULGER

The funeral of the late C. L. Bulger, who died in Chicago Friday afternoon, was held this morning at 11 o'clock from the residence of his father-in-law, V. V. Leonard, and was attended by old friends of the deceased, who gathered to pay their last respects to their departed friend. The services were conducted by Rev. Turner of Omaha, who held the prayer service in the Episcopal church. Several of the favorite hymns of the departed were sung at the services at the home. Interment was made in Oak Hill cemetery, the following old friends of the deceased bearing the body to its last resting place: R. H. Patton, W. E. Backstrom, L. B. Egenberger, Val Burkel, William Heinrich, Joseph Hadraba.
