FOR AN OCEAN-TO-OCEAN ROAD

A Move for Good Roads Through Otoe and Cass Counties and the State.

There has been a good roads movement on for some time for an ocean-to-ocean road. The road is to start from New York City or Boston and come to Chicago. Then it is direct to Omaha. Here an effort is being made to have the road strike along what is known as the Platte Valley road, which is virtually along the U. P. railway west.

A strong effort is going to be made to have the road come south and thence west from Kansas City. Over in Iowa the various towns are rivaling each other in the matter of getting the road and are not only fixing up the roads leading to and from their towns, but beyond. As yet this state has not taken any active part in the move. About July 1st some three or four hundred automobiles will start from New York City to make the run, and on their decision will be chosen the ocean-to-ocean route.

To show what interest the people all over the country are taking in this matter the cement manufacturers have agreed to give ten million dollars' worth of cement to be used in making the road, which is to be sixteen feet wide with a concrete base, of either cement or brick. It may be the road will be a concrete base with brick for paving. The auto builders and accessories manufacturers have agreed to give 1 per cent of their gross sales for this fund. The government is to be petitioned for $100,000,000 for the aiding in the building of this and other roads. As soon as this main trunk line is built then branch lines are to be built to connect with it from all points.

R. A. Duff of this city and T. H. Pollock of Plattsmouth are greatly interested in the movement, not only because they have a bridge on the proposed line, but because they are live wires and are interested in many other things that would be benefited by this good roads movement.

This road and others connected with it would bring thousands of automobiles with their loads to this city, not only for supplies and food, but would enable all of the farmers and others to come here at all seasons of the year.

Poor roads, bad weather or anything else would not prevent the auto owner or the owner of any other vehicle coming to this city, it mattered not how bad the weather was or how muddy it might be on the dirt roads.

Messrs. Duff and Pollock are going to call a meeting of the citizens of the cities and towns along the proposed road to meet in the near future and take the matter up in the proper form. In the meanwhile it might be well for the commissioners and others to get busy and put the roads through the eastern part of the county in fine shape, so the big auto touring and inspecting party who come in July would find the best of roads through this part of the state and select this eastern Nebraska route for their permanent route. This movement means more than it would seem on the face and if we are equal to the emergency we may be able to land one of the biggest things ever offered to this part of the country. Just think of what it would mean to have one paved road through this county and what a big territory it would open up to our merchants and others. It would mean much to the trade at this point each year. Railroads haul loaded passenger trains through this city every day in the year, but they only stop long enough to enable the people to get off and on the train. A string of automobiles come to town, the machines need oil and other supplies, the people need something to eat and things to wear. In their stay here, if for an hour, it means they will spend money, because they cannot help it. It means that in the course of a day, the year round, that more people will pass through or stop in this city than all that travel on the trains. It has become an automobile age and people are traveling in them, all for a short distance and many of them for a long one. Will our people take up this matter and aid in one of the best things ever offered them? This same appeal applies to all of the towns and the people along the proposed line. It is up to them to move and that without delay.—Nebraska City News.

Has Very Fine Alfalfa.

From Wednesday's Daily. County Surveyor Fred Patterson yesterday brought in from his farm near Rock Bluffs a bunch of alfalfa which is 35 inches in height and the field from which it was taken has a splendid stand of this valuable hay, which will make a big crop. The specimen of alfalfa is one of the finest we have seen and a field like this will turn out lots of valuable hay.

HELD TO DISTRICT COURT FOR CARRYING CONCEALED WEAPONS

From Wednesday's Daily. In Justice Archer's court today Hjalmer Johnson, a native of Sweden, but who for a few weeks has been working around Louisville, was arraigned, charged with carrying concealed weapons. It seems he became very threatening at that city recently, and as he carried weapons it was decided to put him where he would do no damage to anyone. The justice decided to hold him over to the coming session of the district court and he was removed to the Hotel de Manspeaker, where he will languish until his case is called. The law is very severe on the carrying of concealed weapons and the man may be successful in drawing a sentence in the penitentiary.

"CHRISTIANITY IN A RAILROAD MAN'S JOB"

From Wednesday's Daily. Mr. J. H. Waterman of Galesburg, Illinois, who visited in this city over Sunday, has given the promise to our people that he would return in the near future and deliver his address here, entitled "Christianity in a Railroad Man's Job." Mr. Waterman has delivered this lecture a number of times at different railroad points and it has always proven a great success and has proved of much benefit to all who have heard it, and the citizens here are to be congratulated upon having the privilege of hearing this gentleman and his pleasing address. The exact date for the lecture has not been set.

MANSPEAKER TEAM HAS A LIVELY RUNAWAY YESTERDAY

From Wednesday's Daily. Yesterday afternoon while Prof. Lee, a spectacle man from Omaha, was out in the country about eight miles south of this city, driving one of the teams belonging to the M. E. Manspeaker barn, he had occasion to go into a farm house to sell some glasses, and when he returned the team was not there, but their trail was easy to follow, as pieces of the buggy were scattered for two miles along the road. The team was stopped by Mrs. Will Weherbein near Murray and held at her home until a man from the livery stable could go out and bring them in. The buggy was completely wrecked and the harness torn almost to pieces. It is supposed that they were left unhitched and becoming frightened at something proceeded to move on leaving pieces of the buggy along the road. The top of the buggy was found nearly two miles from where the horses were stopped.

TWO CASS COUNTY GIRLS GRADUATE WITH HIGH HONORS

Misses Matilda and Fredonia Quellhorst, Both Accomplished Young Ladies.

Misses Matilda and Fredonia Quellhorst, two talented young ladies from Cass county, Nebraska, graduated with high honors at McPherson college, McPherson, Kansas, May 23, 1913. They have spent the past two years in that institution doing some excellent work in the class room, also very good work in public.

Miss Fredonia completed the piano and vocal music courses. She has an unusually beautiful voice, infinitely sweet and mellow, which responds to the emotions of her selections. Competent judges agree that she has a future as well as a fortune wrapped up in her voice, which is a high soprano. She graduated with the highest honors in her class. Those who attended the programs during the commencement week were very fortunate in hearing her. She will teach vocal music during the summer and return to the college in the fall.

Miss Matilda also finished in music. She has a mezzo-soprano voice. She has done excellent solo work in the past year, but her best work is in expression. She graduated in the expression class of fifteen young men and women and all who saw the work of the class agree that she did the best work without a shadow of doubt. She is also one of the best readers that has ever appeared before an audience in McPherson, and with her very pleasing personality and ease of speaking has complete control over her hearers. The constant demand for her selections for public programs proves the popularity and worth of her readings. The college and city deeply regret that she must so soon leave the locality in which she has displayed her unusual talents so effectively, but congratulate whatever place she may locate in. Miss Quellhorst will take a graduate course in Columbia college, Chicago, this summer, and in September go to Daleville, Virginia, where she has accepted a position in a college where she will have charge of the expression department.

Besides being effective in their professional work the young ladies are both splendid Christian young women and will be a credit to whatever community they may decide to locate in, as well as a great addition to the social life of the town so fortunate as to secure these charming young ladies.

BIG TENT FOR REVIVAL MEETINGS HAS ARRIVED

The big tent that will be used during the revival services to be started in this city next week, has arrived and it is one of the largest of its kind that was ever brought to this city. The seating capacity of the tent will be 1,000 and will be able to hold very large meetings in it. The tent will be erected on the north court house lawn and as soon as the evangelist arrives the meetings will be started in full blast. Special musical services will be arranged for and the different choirs of the city will be called upon to furnish the talent to carry out the work as outlined, and anyone who knows the exceptionally strong organizations of the different church choirs can appreciate that there will be some very fine musical work in connection with the meetings. The evangelist, C. E. Smith, is one of the most eloquent and talented men in his line of work and doubtless will be able to do some very effective work for the cause of the churches who have inaugurated the revival services. The revival will be participated in by the Methodist, Christian and Presbyterian churches.
