

PLACE YOUR TROUBLES IN THE HANDS OF PROPER AUTHORITIES

Mr. Editor:
I noticed a communication in the Journal a few days since in which the writer takes the city officials to task and "rakes them over the coals" for the condition of some of the small bridges and culverts. While in one respect the writer may be right, but in another he is all wrong. The bridges he speaks of should be repaired, and were it the duty of the city to make such repairs, the work would have been done several weeks since. But it is not, and if the writer is so much interested in the matter he should make his complaint to the county commissioners, instead of endeavoring to blame the city government with something over which it has no control. The present administration has tried very hard to please the people in respect to keeping up the streets and crossings, and have enough to do to attend to our affairs in this respect without meddling in to that which the county commissioners should look after.

John P. Sattler, Mayor.

Attend Demonstration.

Eight of our farmers north and east of town autoed to the state farm at Lincoln today to attend a demonstration of the value of feed for cattle. The cattle will be weighed and the results announced as to the different rations of feed. Those going in the two cars were: Ed Ganesmier, Adam Schaffer, Jake Hild, Louis Fredrick, Fred Hild, George Hild, Albert Schaffer and Gus Hansen.—Weeping Water Republican.

Governors Back Boy Scouts.

Ten governors of the United States are behind the scout movement and are doing everything in their power to help it. They like its principles and the manner in which it supplies fun for the boys. Those men are: Governors Eugene Foss of Massachusetts, John Tener of Pennsylvania, Ben W. Hooper of Tennessee, O. A. Eberhart of Minnesota, Look Craig of North Carolina, Luther E. Hall of Louisiana, Woodbridge N. Ferris of Michigan, Tasker L. Oddie of Nevada, Wm. Horace Mann of Virginia, and Wm. C. McDonald of New Mexico.

BETTER TRAIN SERVICE ON MISSOURI PACIFIC

Henry A. Schneider, chairman of the Commercial club of Plattsmouth, accompanied by Attorney A. L. Tidd, yesterday filed a complaint with the railway commission asking for better train service on the Missouri Pacific railroad. The citizens of Plattsmouth who signed the complaint allege that people in most of the towns in Cass county are unable to come to Plattsmouth and return to their homes the same day. To permit persons living in the south and eastern portions of the county to reach Plattsmouth and return the same day the complaints suggest a motor car or a train to leave Union at 9:20 a. m. to connect with train 634 on the Lincoln branch and to arrive at Plattsmouth between 10 and 10:30 a. m., and leave Plattsmouth going south about 2:45 p. m. to connect with a train of the Lincoln branch.

It is said in the complaint that this service is needed by the people of Wabash, Eagle, Elmwood, Weeping Water, Union, Murray and Mynard. From Mynard to Plattsmouth there is no train except train 103, which leaves Union at 4:25 p. m. by which a person at Mynard can reach Plattsmouth without going to South Omaha.—Lincoln Journal.

Mrs. William Cooledge of Rosalie, Neb., returned home this morning on the early Burlington train, after a visit here with the family of Mrs. J. T. Baird. Her mother, Mrs. Washington Smith, remained for a more extended visit.

MISCELLANEOUS

SHOWER IN HONOR OF MISS ETHEL BALLANCE

Thursday evening Misses Gretchen and Marie Donnelly entertained at their home on Vine street at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Ethel Ballance, one of the June brides. The evening was most pleasantly spent by the company of young ladies at cards, and several very pleasing musical selections were given by the different talented members of the party, which were very delightful features of the enjoyable occasion. The hostesses served a very tempting two-course luncheon at an appropriate hour, which further augmented the pleasures of the evening, as only those who have been guests at the Donnelly home can appreciate. After the luncheon the bride-to-be was requested to guess the different articles presented to her before they were unwrapped, and much pleasure was derived from the different guesses made. The invited guests of the evening were: Miss Ethel Ballance, Esther Larson, Catherine Dovey, Edith Dovey, Madeline Minor, Grace Newbranch, Claire Mockenhaupt, Margaret Scotten, Marie Fitzgerald, Amelia Martens, Opal Fitzgerald, Violet Dodge, Nora Rosencrans, Marjory Agnew of Lincoln, Gertrude Morgan, Mrs. R. G. Rawls and Mrs. J. L. Richey.

DR. J. T. JONES
CENSURES PARENTS

In Memorial Address at Council Bluffs, Iowa, in Memorial Day Sermon.

Unless parents take to heart the necessity of teaching self-control and wise restraint the coming generation will be a collection of giddy and soulless beings. Dr. J. T. Jones told an audience at the high school auditorium, where he preached the baccalaureate sermon for the class of '13 Sunday afternoon. "We need," said Dr. Jones, "to have dinned into our ears until we heed it 'the simple life.' The present mania to follow the goddess of fashion bodes ill. The weakest can float with the stream, but it requires womanly effort and manly valor to go against the current. Some of the dresses worn now by young women in places of business, on the street, in the schoolroom and in social circles are a travesty on good taste, a mockery of modesty and a menace to morals. The growing love of vulgar display is fast becoming a reproach on our civilization."

The minister declared, "We pamper our children and are so sentimental in our affection for them that we gratify every wish, whether wise or unwise. If we do not know how to say 'no' to demands made upon us by our children, how shall we expect them to say 'no' to the more dangerous overtures that will come to them from others?"

QUESTION WILL BE SETTLED BY COUNCIL AND COMMISSIONERS

The Journal has received another communication from "Taxpayer," in reply to Mayor Sattler's article in last evening's issue. The matter was up before the city council last night and the same was placed in the hands of the streets, alleys and bridges committee, who will confer with the county commissioners in reference to the whole business. Pending this conference we do not think further dispute over the matter will bring forth any quicker results than the meeting of the committee and commissioners, at which time it will be determined whose duty it is to repair the bridges and approaches. As soon as this is done work on the bridges in question will commence. As "Taxpayer" and Mayor Sattler have both had their say, the Journal will have to refuse any further communication on the subject, and await patiently for further action.

REPORTED DEATH OF A. C. HELPS UNTRUE

Through a copy of the Los Angeles Evening Herald of May 24, received at this office, the account of the terrible disaster at Long Beach, when the large pier at that place collapsed, is given. The Herald also gives the story of the sudden death of Arthur Helps, formerly of this city, when told of the death of his wife in the pier wreck. The death of Mr. Helps occurred just a few minutes after the fact of the identity of his wife was established, and the shock proved too great and heart failure brought the husband to join his wife in death.

Mr. and Mrs. Helps had only recently returned from a long visit to England, where they had been visiting relatives. Both of the unfortunate people were quite prominent in Long Beach, Mrs. Helps being identified with the woman clubs of that place, while Mr. Helps was a member of the real estate firm of Helps & Gundy of Long Beach. This double tragedy will be a great shock to the friends of the family here, as there had been no intimation given in the press dispatches of the death of Mr. Helps.

Parties who have received letters from Long Beach since the date of the accident fail to give any account of the death of Mr. Helps and it is thought that the report in the Herald may be a mistake, made in the hurry and excitement of the terrible disaster.

Returns From Hospital.

Mrs. Frank Ohm, who for the past several weeks has been in one of the Omaha hospitals recovering from the effects of an operation, was able to return home yesterday feeling very much improved in health and her many friends were delighted to again see her in their midst, as she has been greatly missed during her enforced absence at the hospital.

DECORATION DAY VERY QUIETLY BUT APPROPRIATELY OBSERVED

Decoration day in this city yesterday was not observed by as large a turnout of the old soldiers and the Relief Corps as usual, and no program of speaking was given but the turnout of citizens was quite large and the floral display at Oak Hill cemetery was very profuse and beautiful and showed the deep manner in which the spirit of the day was observed by almost everyone in the city. From early morning until late at night the road to the cemetery was thronged with carriages and automobiles conveying parties there to place a floral tribute on the graves of their loved ones. The Grand Army and Relief Corps were conveyed to the cemetery in carriages to decorate the graves of the members of their orders, and it was very saddening to notice the rapidly thinning ranks of the old veterans.

Have you tried the Forest Rose flour? If not, why not? It is the best flour on the market and is sold by all dealers.

Last Trip for Veterans.

On July 4 the survivors of the battle of Gettysburg will be entertained by the government on the battlefield. The legislature appropriated $4,000 to pay railroad fare for the Nebraska veterans who participated, but as the fare is $45 and there are about 260 entitled to go the state officers are making an appeal to the citizens of the state to take up collections at Memorial day exercises to assist in raising the amount necessary. The amounts collected are to be forwarded to Captain A. M. Trimble, Capitol Building, Lincoln, Neb.

ENTERTAINED AT HOME OF MRS. WILLIAM HASSLER

Saturday afternoon Mrs. William Hassler entertained in a most charming manner at her home on North Fifth street the Kensington club, and as is always the case at the hospitable Hassler home, the guests were delighted with the pleasant afternoon spent with their friend. The rooms of the home were decorated most handsomely with the flowers of the season and the table in the dining room was decorated with pansies, presenting a most charming scene. The ladies spent the afternoon with their fancy work and in social conversation until a late hour, when some most tempting refreshments were served by the hostess, which brought the afternoon of enjoyment to a close, and the guests departed feeling it was a rare treat indeed to enjoy the hospitality of this pleasant home.

Gets Hand Mashed.

While engaged in his duties at the Burlington blacksmith shop Thursday August Havir got his right hand in the way of the air hammer as it was descending and will be compelled to wear that member in a bandage for some time as a result of having it severely mashed. It is very fortunate for the young man that the full force of the air was not on, as if it had been he would have had the hand mashed to a jelly.

ART AND PENMANSHIP EXHIBIT IN RILEY BLOK

The art and penmanship exhibit that is being held in the Riley block by the pupils of the public schools is a splendid chance for the parents and all others interested in the work of the school children to call and view the handiwork of the scholars.

The penmanship exhibit is in charge of Miss Marie Kaufmann, who is instructor in this department of the public schools, and the fine showing made by the children is due largely to her splendid work along the line of instructing them. The muscular system of writing has just been installed in the schools in the past year, replacing the former stiff finger method, and the children are rapidly grasping the advantages and ease of the new over the old style of writing and their development in the past few months has been something wonderful and their specimens shown at the exhibit speak well for the work of the little folks ranging from 4 to 13 years.

The art department has a large collection of different sketches made by the pupils under the direction of Miss Ellen Windham, and her talents along the line of art work has brought out a really wonderful showing from the pupils under her, and the beauty of the different exhibits would do credit to much older and advanced students in the work. The exhibit will be open the rest of the week and the public is cordially invited to call and inspect the work of the young folks, as their showing is one that the school should feel proud of, and they will after they view the exhibit in the Riley block. Prizes will be given in the penmanship department Friday after the judges selected view the different specimens.
