THE OBJECT OF THE BOY SCOUTS

Non-Sectarian, and Objects Are Specially Beneficial to the Boys Who Become Members.

From Tuesday's Daily.

St. Luke's Rectory, June 2.
 Editor of Journal:

Owing to a misunderstanding on the part of some people regarding the aim and intention of those at the head of the Boy Scout movement in Plattsmouth and the movement itself, may I say a word for the benefit of all?

I hold the appointment from the national council of the Boy Scouts of America as the head of the troop in Plattsmouth. It is not in the usual acceptance of the term, "a society of my church," only incidentally, for the Boy Scout movement is not a religious movement—it is rather a great humanitarian, ethical and educational work for the boys of America. Transplanted from England, where Lt. General Sir Baden-Powell had already shown its great possibilities for good, the Boy Scouts now have in their ranks over 500,000 of America's best and cleanest specimens of boyhood. At the head of this movement is the national council, of which the president of the United States is the honorary president.

The Boy Scouts is not a military organization and has nothing to do with war or war spirit. They drill only that the boys may gain an erect carriage and also may be able to appear as a body in public. They learn and practice woodcraft, first aid to the injured, signalling and other things too numerous to mention. There are fifty-six distinct subjects, ranging from agriculture to taxidermy, in which any scout, by work, can secure merit badges from the national office; twenty-one merit badges makes a boy an eagle scout—the greatest honor he can secure.

Any boy of good moral character 12 years of age and over can join the Boy Scouts by giving his name at once to William Egenberger, assistant scout master, or if under 12 he can join the junior patrol. I think the above is sufficient to give parents and others a general idea of our plans. The Boy Scouts are working for clean boyhood. Help them along.

Here is the platform:

The Scout Motto.

The motto of the Boy Scouts is, BE PREPARED, which means that the scout is always in a state of readiness in mind and body to do his duty.

The Scout Law.

There have always been certain written and unwritten laws regulating the conduct and directing the activities of men.

All nations have such laws coming down from past ages. The Japanese have their Bushido or laws of the old Samurai warriors. During the middle ages the knights of King Arthur and various crusading orders, such as the Knights Templar, developed in Europe and the Holy Land, the laws of chivalry. In aboriginal America, the Red Indians had more or less fixed tribal customs; likewise the Zulus, Hindus and the later European nations have their ancient codes.

The following laws, which relate to the Boy Scouts of America, are the latest and most complete. These laws a boy promises to obey when he takes his scout oath:

1. A scout's honor is to be trusted. If he violates his honor by telling a lie, or by cheating, or by not doing exactly a given task, when he is trusted on his honor, he may be directed to hand over his scout badge.
2. He is loyal to all to whom loyalty is due; his scout leader, his home, and parents, and his country.
3. He must be prepared at any time to save life, help injured persons, and share the home duties. He must do at least one good turn to somebody every day.

4. He is a friend to all and a brother to every other scout.
5. He is polite to all, especially to women, children, old people and the weak and helpless. He must not take pay for being helpful or courteous.
6. He is a friend to animals. He will not kill nor hurt any living creature needlessly, but will strive to save and protect all harmless life.
7. He obeys his parents, scout master, patrol leader and all other duly constituted authorities.
8. He smiles whenever he can. His obedience to orders is prompt and cheery. He never shirks nor grumbles at hardships.
9. He does not wantonly destroy property. He works faithfully, wastes nothing, and makes the best of his opportunities. He saves his money so that he may pay his own way, be generous to those in need, and helpful to worthy objects. He may work for pay but must not receive tips for courtesies or good turns.

MRS. OHLENHAUSEN AN AGED LADY PASSES AWAY

From Tuesday's Daily.

Yesterday afternoon at 4:30 Mrs. Eva Margaretha Ohlenhausen passed away at her home in the west part of the city, after suffering for several months from dropsy, at the advanced age of 75 years, 6 months and 12 days. This most worthy and highly esteemed lady had resided here for thirty-one years, and during that time she won the love and respect of all with whom she came in contact by her devoted Christian life and devotion to her family and home. She was a faithful member of St. Paul's church and an energetic worker in the Ladies Aid society of the church, and her death will leave a place hard to fill in the hearts of those who knew her best.

Eva Margaretha Thierolf was born in Zell, Hessen-Darmstadt, Germany, November 21, 1839, and spent her girlhood and young womanhood in the fatherland, coming to America in 1862, and the same year was united in marriage to Fred Ohlenhausen. For twenty years the family resided at Pekin, Illinois, coming to Plattsmouth in the year 1882 to make their home, and have resided here since that time.

Besides the aged husband, she leaves five children to mourn her loss—Mrs. Henry Fuller of Wynmore, Mrs. Henry Kaufman of Plattsmouth, Mrs. J. McCulloch of Murray, Mrs. Mary Evers of Plattsmouth, and Fred Ohlenhausen, residing in the west part of the state. There are twenty-one grandchildren and five great-grandchildren also left to share in the grief over the loss of this worthy lady.

According to her personal wish the funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from St. Paul's church.

"POUND" SHOWER IN HONOR OF MISS ETHEL BALLANCE

Last evening the members of the Junior Guild of St. Luke's parish met at the home of Miss Violet Dodge at a "pound" shower in honor of Miss Ethel Ballance, whose wedding to Mr. Paul C. Morgan of Hay Springs, Neb., takes place tomorrow evening. The Dodge home was beautifully decorated with flowers and made a very pretty appearance with the large crowd of merry young ladies. The evening was spent in playing high five, at which Miss Florence Egenberger proved the most successful and captured the prize for her skill. Each member of the Guild had brought some article weighing a pound, and these were presented to the bride-to-be with the best wishes of the company for her future happiness and success. The hostess at an appropriate hour served some very tempting refreshments, which greatly aided in making the occasion a most delightful affair which will be long remembered by all those attending.

ANOTHER FARMER IS MADE HAPPY BY PURCHASE OF A CARTER CAR

From Tuesday's Daily.

Our worthy German friend, Chris Parkening, residing west of this city, has become tired of the old way of traveling and has joined the ranks of the automobile owners of Cass county. Saturday Mr. Parkening purchased, through the firm of Kroehler Brothers, the agents here for the Cartercar, a fine new $2,250 machine. The car is a beauty and of the latest 1913 model and is equipped with all the latest fixtures to make automobilism a joy and pleasure. The car is a seven-passenger machine and will make one that the owner can feel very proud of. The agents, Kroehler Brothers, have had the agency here only a short time and feel very much pleased over the sale of this fine machine.

GET TIRED OF JAIL LIFE AND DIG WAY OUT

Prisoners Make Their Escape, but Are Found Later Concealed Near Mynard.

From Wednesday's Daily.

Yesterday afternoon Fred Ohm and Hylmer Johnson, who have been confined in the county jail for some time, and Ohm for several months, grew tired of the simple prison life and longed to get out in the clear, bracing country air, and accordingly began the work of effecting their escape by digging out a hole about fourteen inches square in the east wall of the prison which has weathered the storms of many years and is not in very good shape to resist the efforts of anyone to make their getaway. After a little labor the hole was made sufficiently large to admit the men to crawl out, and they at once proceeded to get out and hit the trail for the south.

The family of Deputy Sheriff Manspiker was absent from the residence above the jail at the time of the delivery and it was not until the return of Mrs. Manspiker that the escape was discovered and Sheriff Quinton was at once notified and started out in pursuit of the prisoners. Late in the afternoon they were located hitting down the Missouri Pacific toward Mynard and were found concealed under a bridge a few miles north of that village. The sheriff, made them accompany him back to this city, where they were played back in the jail to meditate over the brief outing they had enjoyed.

It is a wonder that more prisoners have not escaped from the structure, as the bricks have become old and weather-beaten so that it is not a hard job to pick out the mortar and remove the bricks in quantities enough to admit the passage of a man's body. This matter should hasten action on the erection of a new jail, as authorized, for if dangerous, were confined in the jail it would require the constant presence of an armed guard to keep them from making their escape.

NOTES ALONG THE BURLINGTON LINES IN NEBRASKA

From Tuesday's Daily.

Business is not rushing on Nebraska lines. The open winter permitted heavy tonnage to be moved in the winter months, and this fact is having its effect on spring business.

Recently the Burlington took a test tonnage train with one engine from Lincoln to Hastings, making regular freight train time and carrying 2,509 tons. This train negotiated the Berks hill without serious trouble. The engine was one of the new 01 class machines.

One of the biggest fruit crops in the eastern and southern parts of the state is predicted by the report. Potatoes are doing well, as are sugar beets. Pasturage and meadows are in prime condition on the Wynmore, Lincoln and Omaha divisions and on a portion of the McCook division. It has been several years since the grass has been so thick and so tall.

Near Ashland the Burlington right of way is covered with a rank growth of sweet clover. For two years the company has been mowing this before it went back to seed in the hope of killing it out, but the growth comes back ranker than ever. General Superintendent Allen is about ready to ask expert advice as to how the plant can be killed.

The report shows the points marked on the condition of the winter grain on the four divisions of the district as follows: Omaha division, 101 points; Lincoln division, 103 points; Wynmore division, 107 points; McCook division, 84 points. The latter division indicates a loss of 16 points from the week previous. The Wynmore division stands at the head of the four divisions of the district in winter wheat prospects.

Two big derricks and a small army of men are at work at the Ashland bridge, where a great concrete pier has been sunk to bedrock and where another one is being sunk. Later the center of the bridge will be supported on concrete piling driven fifty or more feet in the sand. When this work is completed officials of the road believe they will have a Platte river crossing that will not be disturbed by floods or ice.

GRADUATES FROM STATE UNIVERSITY.

From Tuesday's Daily.

We note among the list of university graduates the name of Miss Alice Root, who has made an exceptional record, finishing the university four-year course in three years, and will graduate with high honors. She has accepted a position at Pawnee City for the coming year as teacher of German and civics. Elmer Root, who is also a graduate from the Plattsmouth High school and the state university, has a fine position in the engineering department of the Concrete Manufacturing company in Omaha. Both Alice and Elmer are children of our former townsman, Judge Jesse L. Root and were born and raised in Plattsmouth. We are glad to hear of their success in their chosen profession.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE AUGUST BEINS

A Large Number of Sympathetic Friends and Neighbors Attend the Last Sad Rites.

From Tuesday's Daily.

Yesterday afternoon all that was mortal of one of the most highly esteemed and popular farmers in this section of the county was laid to rest in the Horning cemetery south of this city. The passing of August Beins, the victim of the runaway which occurred near his home early Friday morning, will cause a profound sense of grief throughout the entire community where his lifetime had been spent, and where he was so well and favorably known.

The funeral services at the home, about three miles south of this city, were conducted by Rev. M. W. Lorimer of the First Presbyterian church here, who in a few brief words expressed the deep sense of the loss that the taking away of this worthy man had caused. He also spoke of the bright hope of the Christian life and faith of a meeting with those we love in another sphere. The remarks of the minister brought much comfort to the family and a vast number of friends gathered for the last time to pay their tribute to this worthy man. A choir from the church here sang several of the old hymns during the service for their departed friend.

The services were attended by a vast crowd of the friends and neighbors of the departed brother who had known him so long and well, and the procession stretched a great distance on the way to the grave, there being something like 150 carriages in the funeral procession.

Mr. Beins leaves, besides his aged mother, to mourn his untimely death the following brothers and sisters, all of whom were present at the funeral: Fred Beins, Havelock; Mrs. Anna Spruta, Farmington, Minnesota; Mrs. John Cook, Beaver City, Nebraska; Henry and Edward Beins, Creighton, Nebraska, and Mrs. Ida Hull, Bonita, Oklahoma.

In the death of Mr. August Beins the community has lost a useful and energetic citizen and his family a loving son and brother and one whose place will be hard to fill.

TENT UP AND UNION MEETINGS STARTED

The tent is up. There was a good beginning of the union meetings at the Presbyterian church last night. Rev. C. S. Colburn of Kansas City preached a most helpful sermon, especially to members of the church. It was greatly enjoyed by a good number from each of the churches in the union and by others. Rev. Colburn will preach at the same place tonight, the services beginning at 8 o'clock.

The large tent was erected on the court house yard today. It is 50x90 feet, with two centerpoles, 7-foot walls of heavy canvas, which will keep all the wind out when lowered. It is one of the finest tents ever put up in Plattsmouth and will hold about 800 people. The platform will be built this afternoon, 16x30 feet, to hold a good sized chorus choir, and the seats will be placed. The tent will be ready for use tomorrow evening. Rev. C. C. Smith of Chicago will arrive tomorrow at 3:20, with Prof. Gilmore, the choir director, and Mr. Klingler, who will also assist in the music. The meetings will be of an intellectually religious character and will be most instructive and pleasing in every way. It is hoped that there will be a good attendance from the beginning tomorrow night in the tent. Do not miss Rev. Colburn at the Presbyterian church tonight.

Commissioners Go to Union.

The board of county commissioners yesterday afternoon drove down to Union, where they met with the board of county commissioners of Otoe county and inspected a number of roads along the boundary of the county. At the session here only routine matters were transacted.

JOHN TIGHE IMPROVING AND WILL RECOVER FROM HIS ACCIDENT

From Wednesday's Daily.

The latest reports from the bedside of John Tighe, who was injured so badly at Manley last week, are to the effect that he is improving wonderfully and will be able to be out in a few weeks. The injuries, while quite severe, were not as bad as at first feared. Mr. Tighe was taken from his home at Manley to St. Joseph's hospital in Omaha, where expert medical attention was given him and his injuries treated. This will be most pleasant news to the many friends of this worthy man throughout the county, who have been very much worried over his condition. It is certainly fortunate that the accident did not result in the instant death of Mr. Tighe, as it could easily have broken his neck in the number of times he was carried around the shafting in which he had caught his clothing.

Some More Fine Berries.

From Wednesday's Daily.

Commissioner Julius Pitz made the Journal man a present of a sample of his fine strawberries this week. They are just ready for market and are sure mighty fine. The strawberry crop this year is certainly a dandy, and those from the patch of Mr. Pitz are top-notchers.

Farm for Sale.

Anyone wanting to buy a farm would do well to see W. R. Bryan, county assessor.
