A Slight Mistake.

In writing up the death of Mrs. D. S. Draper, mother of Mrs. J. W. Jenkins, the Journal made several grave mistakes. In the first place, Mrs. Draper was living with her son in Kansas City, and not making her home with her daughter. She had come up from Kansas City to spend Decoration day and visit a short time, when she was taken ill and died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Jenkins, who lives in Murray, from whose home the remains were taken to the church, and from there to the place of interment. The deceased lady lived in Cass county for many years and was well known to many of the pioneer families of the county. She was a good mother, a faithful wife and her good deeds in life will be remembered by those who knew her so well, long after the body of this noble lady has returned to clay.

Tornado Insurance.

Wouldn't it be better to receive a check from an insurance company after a tornado or cyclone takes away your home than to be compelled to use your own hard cash to rebuild? I represent Standard Old Line Companies, and can write your insurance at a low rate. Better look up your policies and if you have no tornado insurance call at the bank and let me fix you out.

W. G. Boedecker.

Card of Thanks.

We take this method of thanking our neighbors and friends most sincerely for their kindness in assisting us during the illness and death of our dear mother and grandmother, Mrs. D. S. Draper. May heaven's choicest blessings rest upon each, and everyone of you, is our prayer.
