Sam Barker drove off on Friday the last of an immense herd that Clark, Fitzgerald & Baker have been wintering in Cass county.

We are informed (so a man said we should write it) that McGuire & Curtis will soon start a branch house at Rock Bluffs, Weeping Water and Louisville. They might get along at Rock Bluffs and Louisville, but Weeping Water—they'd never "oughter" try that game.

Through the kindness of Dan W. McKinnon, our efficient county clerk, we have been furnished the following figures in reference to the census of Cass county:

Number of males, 5,537; number of females, 4,878; total population, 10,415. No of children under 1 year, 430.

Joe Connor is said to be candidate for the Con. Com. Joe is coming up; he was one of the commissioners to locate our new capitol this winter (if it had been moved) and has been seriously talked of for mayor.

Catholic mission services are being held at Fitzgerald hall by Father Henneberry. They are very interesting. He preaches to the practical wants of his hearers, though it appears to us as if he were in the habit of preaching to those not his equals in intellect.

Last evening the ladies in full force appeared in the council chamber and argued their petition to raise the license to $1,000. A vote was taken to raise the same to $500, and proved a tie. The mayor having the casting vote, voted against interfering with the present rate. The council chamber was crowded, packed and reeking with people, temperance and anti-temperance.

Alexander Dumas said duty is something that we exact from others. Your duty to yourself is to take Allen's Cough Balsam when you have a deep-seated cough or cold. Nothing will give you quicker and more permanent relief. Try it. Does not contain anything harmful. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 bottles at all dealers.

The child of P. E. Ruffner was taken seriously ill on Friday evening last.

H. Bestor drove 44 black Berkshires into town last Tuesday, about the finest brought here lately. They averaged 325 lbs. and were eagerly sought after by the pork speculating men.

Henry Beck, the furniture man, has a new handsome red wagon with a green box and Henry and the big horse just laugh all over now. His stock of furniture is large and varied.

Hon. Sam Chapman, senator-elect from this county, a square republican and one of the brightest young lawyers in the state, returned from Washington last week, where he had been to argue the R. R. Land Tax case, in company with Judge Briggs and other legal lights of the state.

A strong complaint has been made to the Herald against the practice of letting horses loose on the street. They bark and skin trees, shrubbery and every green thing. Many men have spent considerable money in trying to beautify their yards, and the premises in front of their yards by setting out trees, and they now feel bad and feel that they have just cause for complaint when they are forced to see the fruits of their labor chewed up by a hungry mule or horse.

Grasshoppers.
These pests are said to have done great mischief west of us. On Saturday we were out in the country and could hear of them in all directions. As late as our time of going to press no serious damage had been committed in Cass county, but there is no knowing how soon they may be here. They were reported on the Weeping Water Monday and at Eight Mile Grove Wednesday, but not in such numbers as yet as to clear the whole country; they are taking fields now and then at intervals from each other.

Elbert Duke, our big hardware man, has gone east to fill up that huge brick store with stoves and things for the fall trade.

Val. Weckbach has gone into the dry goods line in connection with his grocery, and has just received a large stock of dress goods, calicoes, flannels, shirts, etc.; also a full line of broadcloths, cassimeres, dooskin, tweed and everything in that line.

Die Deutsche Wacht is the title of a new paper just started in this town. It is a neat seven-column paper, with C. H. Pieper at its head, and as its name indicates, is German, and democratic in politics.

Everything is camp-meeting this week. Billy Stadelmann has camp-meeting clothing. Thos. Shryock has camp-meeting beds, Weckbach camp-meeting groceries, Dovey camp-meeting hams and shoulders, and so on, and now the bloody whisky men come in and offer camp-meeting cocktails with spirit of—anniseed in 'em.

Last week Charlie McEntee, the jolly proprietor of the Brooks house, bought ye editor a hat, in fact both editors were hatted by Charles right opposite Old Hatt himself at Gus Herold's. Our brilliant contemporary, "Little Mac," sang the praises of his hat last week, but we were bound to try that hat and know something about it before we either praised or blamed. Posite, Hat; comparative, Hatty; superlative, Hattiest. That's a superlative hat that is to say its the hottest hat about town, so far. Many thanks, Charlie, the Herald shall always remember your kindness and when we get out of hat again shall walk right over to the Brooks house bareheaded, sure that we can't stand long uncovered while McEntee is about the premises.

Charles Schwab, from near Murray, passed through Plattsmouth Wednesday, en route home from Omaha, where he had been for his new Inter-State car that he purchased from Major Hall through the agency of Warga & Cecil. Bad Breath.

Persons suffering from malodorous breath, often feel unhappy. If poor teeth or gums are not the cause of it you will have to look for it deeper—in the stomach or the intestines. It shows that somewhere in the body is some putrefaction, which must be quickly removed. The whole system must be thoroughly cleaned out and strengthened. For this we wish to recommend Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine. It acts promptly in many diseases in which are found, as leading symptoms, constipation, fetid breath, headache, indisposition from the stomach or the intestines, poor appetite, distress after meals, eructations, nausea, vomiting, flatulence. At drug stores. Jos. Triner, 1333-1339 S. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Ill. If you need a liniment, use Triner's Liniment. It is very strong and goes farther than any other.
