Councilman Lushinsky desired to have the city attorney and clerk get into touch with the bond-holders of the city and try and make arrangements whereby the city could pay off more than two of the bonds in a year, as the fund was in excellent shape to handle more than two bonds a year, which would soon reduce the city's indebtedness.

Councilman Richey brought up the question of the sewer extension on upper Chicago avenue, stating that the bid of Mart Sheldon had been found good and that the county would give $500 toward the work, and if the city would contribute $500, he and John Bauer would pay any excess over this sum to have the work put through. He stated it would be necessary to fix up the bridge on Marble street, as well as do some grading near the Moore place, and it would only cost about $375 to secure the sewer for the city. This motion to accept the bid and start the work was seconded by Patterson.

Mayor Sattler opposed the proposition on the ground that the city would not be benefited by the sewer to any great extent, as it was through private property, and he thought the city should devote some attention to the Washington avenue sewer, fixing one block on each sewer every year. He also thought the proper way to do would be to start at the mouth of the sewer and build out. There was much discussion of the matter, participated in by Councilmen Johnson, Hallstrom and Lushinsky, and the motion of Richey was defeated by the following vote: Yeas, Patterson, Richey, Hallstrom, Vroman; nays, Streight, Lushinsky, Johnson, Bajeck; passed, Shea. The mayor voted no, as the vote was a tie.

Does a Good Business.

One of the busiest places in the city is that of Wagner's lunch room and delicatessen and the rapidly increasing business of the firm is the best demonstration of its appreciation by the residents of the city. Last Saturday the store was crowded, as well as the lunch department, with persons purchasing dainties for their Sunday meals. Mr. Wagner has certainly made good on his store and its value is being realized by the people of the city each day.

PIONEER SETTLERS MEET IN THE JOURNAL OFFICE

Mrs. Waterman Gave Ex-Governor Sheldon and Ex-Congressman Pollard First Instructions.

The Journal office acknowledges a very pleasant visit last Saturday from Mrs. Bella R. Waterman of Hay Springs, Neb., accompanied by her brother, Judge Basil S. Ramsey. Mrs. Waterman is a pioneer settler of Nebraska, having first located at Rock Bluffs in the spring of 1871, where, for a number of years, she was engaged in school work, assisting her brother, where she did successful work. She was for a number of years engaged in teaching in Cass county, Neb., the last term being at Nehawka during the winter of 1875-76. It was in this school that Mrs. Waterman gained the distinction of being the first public teacher to whom ex-Governor Sheldon and ex-Congressman Pollard went to school. They were both small boys at the time. Mrs. Waterman (then Miss Bella Ramsey), speaks in the highest terms of the studious habits of these two boys, who afterward became prominent in Nebraska politics.

Mrs. Waterman is the widow of Dr. John M. Waterman, to whom she was married at Plattsmouth, Neb., on March 29, 1876. For a number of years their home was in Louisville, Neb., where the doctor built up an extensive practice and was also engaged in the drug business at that place. In 1885 the doctor took up a soldier's homestead near Hay Springs, Sheridan county, Nebraska, to which he moved his family in the spring of 1886. Upon this 160 acres the doctor made valuable improvements and upon which he and his family resided until the doctor's death on August 5, 1896.

After the doctor's death and when the Kinkead homestead law became effective, Mrs. Waterman took up a homestead claim under that act of 480 acres, locating the same about twenty miles south of Hay Springs, in Sheridan county, Nebraska, upon which she and her daughter, Miss Ethel, resided until she was able to make final proof and receive her patent from the government.

While visiting the Journal office Mrs. Waterman met for the first time in many years James A. Walker of Murray, whose family and Mrs. Waterman, forty-two years ago, formed a friendship at Old Rock Bluffs that has remained unbroken for so many years. This is Mrs. Waterman's first visit to Cass county for about fifteen years and she receives a most cordial greeting from her old as well as new friends.

STRONG SUSPICIONS THAT HE WILL NOT RETURN ALONE

This afternoon County Attorney Taylor departed on a month's vacation trip to California, where he will visit the different points of interest along the Pacific coast before returning home. During his absence the duties of the office will be looked after by Judge J. E. Douglass, and he will see that there are no violations of the law during the absence of our efficient county attorney. There are many in the city who suspect that Mr. Taylor will not return alone from the coast, but he has officially denied the report.

WILLIAM BARCLAY TAKEN VERY ILL THIS MORNING BUT BETTER

From Wednesday's Daily. This morning William Barclay was taken quite violently ill at his home with severe pains in his stomach, and it was feared at first that he was suffering from an attack of appendicitis, but after an examination by the attending physician it was thought that the attack was due to gravel stones and he was taken to his room and will have to remain quiet for some time. The patient was reported as resting a little more easily this noon and it is thought he will be all right in a short time. Mr. Barclay is a very active man and his enforced quiet will be very trying on him, but his friends hope to see him up and around in a few days.

SOME VERY BIG FISH STORIES FROM MEADOW

The fishing party from this city which descended upon the peaceful country around Meadow, in Sarpy county, last Saturday, have been reached by wireless and report one of the times of their lives. Up to date Wesley Bookmeyer has taken the honors in fishing, having secured a fine 12-pounder last Sunday, and although the fish fought manfully it was landed after a great deal of difficulty by Wes, assisted by Gus Swanson and August Rheinacke. The party has been reinforced by the arrival of Will Mason, and the task of landing the big fish will be carried on day and night and some big catches are looked for. It is reported one of the party fell into one of the ponds near the camp Sunday evening while fishing, having a big one on the hook and line that pulled the fisherman right in after it, but as the water is not more than a few feet deep he was extracted without trouble by his comrades. The party will remain in camp until next Saturday, when they will return loaded down with the trophies of the expedition into the wilds of Sarpy county.

FORMER CASS COUNTY MAN'S AUTO STOLEN IN OMAHA

From Wednesday's Daily. Yesterday the automobile belonging to J. B. Nichols, formerly of Union, but who has for the past two years been engaged in the real estate business in Omaha, was stolen from in front of the Brandeis theater building, in which Mr. Nichols has his offices, and all efforts to locate the machine have failed. The machine was an Apperson 30 and of dark color, with the initials "J. B. N." on the doors of the car. It is thought that perhaps the parties taking the car may have come this way with the machine, and all farmers along the main automobile roads are warned to look out for the car. The number of the machine was 32187 Nebraska, and any information leading to the capture of the thieves would be gratefully received by Mr. Nichols. The loss of the machine is quite heavy, as it was a valuable car and it is to be hoped the owner will be able to recover the automobile.
