IN PLATTSMOUTH FORTY YEARS AGO

Items of Interest to Old and New Residents of City Which Were New Forty Years Ago.

Judge Ellison, the champion butcher man, is now running the lowest meat market alone. The judge dispenses law in the court house and liver at the butcher shop, and if you can't live by the law you can by the liver, sure.

Chas. Viol of this county has just returned from Tarrytown, Bradford county, Pennsylvania, and brings with him fifteen persons, who propose to settle in our county. Mr. Viol is the best emigration agent we have had yet. Emigration, as far as Pennsylvania is concerned; immigration in relation to Nebraska, do it again, Mr. V.

For some weeks our people have been kept awake nights with strange and wonderful legends of a giant event about to happen in Cass county, nothing more nor less than the establishment of a plow factory, and in time, we hope, a general implement manufactory in our midst. After many rumors and much traveling back and forth of the great guns of the Grange, and much whispering on the corners and in the store and about the postoffice, behold one day last week a fine-looking old gentleman, Mr. E. Newlon, by name, dropped down upon us and announced that all the machinery and the life, breath and soul of the plow factory was aboard the cars, and on the way to Plattsmouth. In the absence of Mr. Porter, on behalf of the Grange, our mayor, Dr. Livingston, took Mr. Newlon under his wing, and together they visited the various localities that had been talked of as suitable for the new enterprise. Mr. N. finally settled on the Bonner stables, situated on Vine street, corner of Fourth, and now occupied by Messrs. Buttery & Lazenby, in the livery business, as the best place to be found. The terms on which Buttery & Lazenby would lease or sell had been previously ascertained by Mr. Porter, master, and Mr. McCraig, secretary of the State Grange, and as soon as these gentlemen could reach here, one from St. Louis and the other from Lincoln, the papers were drawn up, and Tuesday morning Mr. Newlon and his men commenced operations by taking down the stalls and putting up such improvements as they need for their business.

Dr. Butler of Weeping Water was in town last week and reports most favorably on the health, wealth and enterprise of that burg and vicinity.

Wm. Porter, State Grange Master, arrived home last Friday from an almost all winter's visit to South Carolina. He looks as if they fed him well down there.

Wm. Merlins, near Eight Mile Grove, on rolling, high land, has sown clover and timothy for four years, and last season raised a crop of the same that turned off two tons to the acre, twice mowed. The importance of cultivating the tame grass here and demonstrating the fact that they can be made native, as one may say, cannot be underestimated, and the man who aids the solving of this problem by so much as the increase and acclimation of one extra spear of grass, is a public benefactor. Our wild grasses are fast being trampled out and only tame grasses will stand constant mowing over or grazing.

An election for city councilmen in the First and Third wards of this city was held on Monday last. In the First ward Frank E. White and Jno. A. MacMurphy were the only candidates. Mr. MacMurphy was elected by 10 votes. The election passed off very quietly, and the Herald is bound to say that both the candidates behaved themselves admirably. Both were good men, and either would have made good representatives for the ward. In the Third ward they had four candidates, viz.: Jason Streight, Capt. Palmer, Wm. Stadelmann and Miles Morgan. Uncle Jason got away with the baggage and is a portly alderman. They had a lively quadrilateral fight there and made things warm all day around the polling place.

Ed. Nebraska Herald:—Thinking that perhaps you would give space to a few lines from Three Groves in your valuable paper, I make the venture to scratch down a few items.

The officers of Three Groves Grange are all elected and installed for the current year, to-wit: F. Z. Zinville, master; W. W. Wolfe, overseer; John Frew, lecturer; Wm. Eikenbary, steward; John F. Buck, chaplain; Benj. Albin, treasurer; Henry Wolfe, secretary; Robert Clark, gatekeeper; Mrs. Jennie Wolfe, cress; Mrs. M. E. Eikenbary, pomona; Mrs. E. A. Frew, flora; Mrs. M. M. Buck, lady assistant steward.

At the last regular meeting the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That we, the members of Three Groves Grange, as far as in our power lies, will not purchase plows and other farm machinery of those who refuse to deal with Farmers' Clubs and Granges, only through their agents. And further,

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Prairie Farmer and our county papers for publication.

After some deliberation it was Resolved, That the members of Three Groves Grange pledge themselves to give $100.00 in co-operation with other Granges, to establish a factory for the manufacture of farm machinery, to be controlled by the Granges of Cass Co. A copy of this resolution to be sent to the Herald and Watchman for publication.

Dr. Chapman, the druggist, has taken possession of the whole of the store formerly occupied by Mr. Merges and himself, and now makes as good a showing as any man in his line in town. He intends to put in a large stock this summer, and sell piles of goods.

The B. & M. R. R. Co. have just received two large forty-ton Manchester engines direct from the shops, to be put on the road between Plattsmouth and Kearney. They are named respectively No. 15, Omaha, and No. 16, Kearney. We learn from the master of transportation, Mr. Geo. W. Holdredge, that a number of extra trains will be required to move the grain this season.

The attendance at the camp ground was small Friday afternoon on account of the inclemency of the weather. Those who went out there, though, were very ably entertained by the Rev. Mr. Colt. In the evening the crowd was much larger, although the weather was very threatening. Elder Davis delivered a very able sermon on "Holiness and Sanctification." After the preaching there was singing and exhortation by the members of the church, during which many persons went to the "Mourners' Bench" and some of them professed to have found pardon for their sins.

Dear Herald:—Since you kindly extended an invitation to send in "our side of the question" of base ball matches, we send you for this week's publication a report of the "Soeial Match" played at Weeping Water, Neb., Saturday, August 15, by the "Temperance Nine" of Rock Bluffs and the "Weeping Waters" of Weeping Water. The game was one of interest to both sides and passed off smoothly and quietly under the government of Mr. Bellows, who was chosen umpire, and Shered Graves, who was chosen scorer. Through the hospitalities of the Weeping Water boys we were made perfectly comfortable during our whole stay with them; and, fortunately for us, there were no "men of military renown" in attendance to make "dollar bets" on us, and then go back on and discourage us in the game. Drunkenness was entirely absent from our game; a thing which is too often attendant upon such occasions. The score was: Rock Bluffs, 34; Weeping Water, 18. Cap. Jack, Reporter.

Hon. John Barnes returned last week from a somewhat extensive trip through Missouri. They haven't converted John to Bourbonism nor convinced him of the wisdom of "Peoples" moves.

Our old friend and townsman, and whilome editor of this paper, Geo. E. Seybolt, late postal clerk on the U. P. R. R., has been admanent resting place for the sole of his foot in Omaha. By the way, George is down here on a visit this week.

In settling up the estate of the late Mr. Duke it became necessary to sell the lots and property known as Duke's addition to the city of Plattsmouth. These lots are situated west of the town in the valley and on the hills. Some of them have fine springs of water on them, others are covered with valuable forest or shade trees, and on many of them the finest views of the Missouri river and the city itself may be seen. For residences they cannot be equalled in the city, and they are selling dog cheap; this is a fact. A poor man can buy him a home at this sale for less than the value of a good dog. Come to the sale gentlemen on the second day of August, and in the meantime you had better examine the lots for yourself. Wheeler & Bennett, real estate agents, or Elbert Duke, administrator, will be happy to show them to purchasers at any time. This is a rare chance and should be improved. Mr. Duke, in his lifetime was offered $20,000 cash for this tract and refused it. It is selling for less than one-half that now.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Hennings and son, Albert, of the vicinity of Cedar Creek, drove to this city today. Mrs. Hennings and son were passengers for Pocassett and Chickasha, Oklahoma, on the noon train over the Burlington, where they will make a two weeks' visit with Mrs. Hennings' brother and other relatives. Mr. Hennings accompanied them as far as Omaha.

THE DEATH OF E. R. GILMORE AT SHELDON, NEB.

Full Particulars of the Accident Causing the Death of E. R. Gilmore.

From Wednesday's Daily.

The following account of the unfortunate accident that resulted in the death of E. R. Gilmore, a brother of Mrs. John Colner, a few weeks ago, appeared in the Silver Creek paper:

"One of the saddest accidents that has happened in a long time occurred six miles north and two east of Shelby Monday evening at about 7 o'clock and resulted in the death of E. R. Gilmore. The regular engineer on the threshing outfit was absent, owing to sickness in his home, and the separator man was compelled to take his place, and Mr. Gilmore took charge of the separator. Someone carelessly raised the trap door over the cylinder while he was oiling the elevators and he stepped back into the cylinder, crushing his left foot and leg and otherwise injuring him. He was taken to the hospital at David City at once, but was so weak from the shock and loss of blood that the operation proved ineffective and he died Tuesday night about 9 o'clock.

"Edward R. Gilmore was born near Weeping Water, Cass county, Nebraska, October 18, 1889, and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gilmore of that place. He was married to Miss Myrtle Baker February 26, 1911, at Silver Creek, Neb., by Rev. Couffer of that place. He leaves to mourn his loss his wife, one little daughter, 13 months old, his aged father, three sisters and two brothers. His mother preceded him to the Better Land about a year ago. The funeral services were held at the Congregational church in Silver Creek on July 17, Rev. W. R. Pierce conducting the services, and he was laid to rest beside his mother in the Silver Creek cemetery.
