

O. P. MONROE PASSES AWAY VERY SUDDENLY

He Came to Plattsburgh About 30 Years Ago, and His Sudden Death Was Great Surprise.

This morning about 9:35 O. P. Monroe, one of the old residents of this city, and who for the past few years has been engaged in the furniture business on lower Main street, passed away at his home, over the store.

Mr. Monroe, who was very fleshy in build, had suffered greatly with the heat the past few days, and last evening was complaining of not feeling well, but this morning was up and around for a short time and then went to the living rooms over the store to lay down for a few minutes on a sofa to rest, and sank into the sleep that knows no awakening on this earth.

His condition was discovered by his wife, and Dr. E. W. Cook was summoned, but before the arrival of the physician the death messenger had claimed Mr. Monroe. He came to this city about thirty years ago from Massachusetts, and for a number of years was engaged as a carpenter in the Burlington shops in this city, and later purchased the business which he has conducted for the past few years.

Mr. Monroe was one of the kindest and genial of men to all with whom he established a friendship, and his loss will be deeply felt by his many friends throughout the city, and it will be a hard matter to fill the place in the community which he occupied.

FAREWELL PARTY GIVEN AT H. J. GARTLEMAN HOME

A farewell was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Gartleman on Saturday evening in honor of Mrs. Allie Peterson, who departed this afternoon for Caspar, Wyoming, where she goes to join her husband, Mr. Charles Peterson; and Miss Edwina Kinnamon of Lincoln, who has been here for several days visiting with relatives, and who departed for her home yesterday afternoon. The evening was spent in a most delightful manner by the company, which embraced some forty-five guests, and the hours flew swiftly by and it was with great regret that the homecoming hour was noted. The evening was spent in various amusements until an appropriate hour, when some very tempting and delicious refreshments were served, which added greatly to the enjoyment of the occasion. Mr. Peterson is in charge of bridge construction work for the Burlington at Caspar, and numerous large bridges are being constructed in that locality.

For Sale, One 36-foot tower 8 horse power windmill. Inquire of W. G. Meisinger, six miles west of Plattsburgh, or call Phone No. 2522. 8-18-13fd/kw.

Honey for Sale. We now have a large supply of extra fine comb and extracted honey for sale. A supply of both kinds may be found at the store of H. M. Soennichsen, or telephone 239-J. Julius Neilson.

Costly Treatment. "I was troubled with constipation and indigestion and spent hundreds of dollars for medicine and treatment," writes C. H. Hines of Whitlow, Ark. "I went to a St. Louis hospital, also to a hospital in New Orleans, but no cure was effected. On returning home I began taking Chamberlain's Tablets, and worked right along. I used them for some time and am now all right." Sold by all dealers.

Inter-County Tournament. The date for the big inter-county tournament has been set for August 25, 26 and 27. Owing to the condition of the courts in this city it has been transferred to Weeping Water. This tournament last year was a huge success and with the co-operation of the tennis players of Plattsburgh it ought to repeat this year. Weeping Water responded nobly last year when called upon to help support the tournament. It's up to us to help them make their tournament a success. See Matthew Herold about your entries.

THE PASSING OF A PIONEER LADY

The Funeral This Afternoon, When All That Was Mortal Was Laid to Rest.

The funeral of Mrs. Catherine Rheinaekle was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the late home on Wintersteen Hill, and was largely attended by the many old friends of this worthy lady, who had gathered to pay their last respects to the memory of their departed friend. The services were conducted by Rev. J. H. Steger of St. Paul's church and a choir from St. Luke's Episcopal church, of which the deceased was a member, sang several of the well loved old hymns during the services. The floral gifts that were offered at the home were silent tributes to the memory of one whom during her long lifetime here had endeared herself to all.

Mrs. Catherine Rheinaekle was born in Germany seventy-seven years ago and came to this country when a young woman and was married at Troy, New York, in 1855, to August Rheinaekle, and two years later, in 1857, the young people came west and settled at Plattsburgh, where they made their home thereafter. The husband passed away twenty-two years ago and since that time the deceased lady has continued to make her home here with her children. This worthy lady is mourned by the following children: Albert Rheinaekle, Plattsburgh; Louis Rheinaekle, Murray; August Rheinaekle, Spokane, Washington; Mrs. Peter Koeler, Spokane, Washington; Mrs. Louise Stamm, Havelock; William Rheinaekle, of the battleship North Dakota, U. S. N.; Mrs. Frank Eaton, Colorado City, Colorado; and Miss Kate Rheinaekle, of this city, who has had the care of her mother during the past few years. George Stamm, a grandson, of Moline, Illinois, wife and little child came in yesterday to attend the funeral services.

C. D. SPANGLER BUYS A FINE NEW BURG CAR

C. D. Spangler is the proud possessor of a fine new 1913 model Burg automobile that he has just secured through James W. Holmes of Murray, the Burg agent in this county. The new machine is the last word in automobiles, and is a 45 horse power, six-cylinder machine, equipped with electric lights and all the modern conveniences that go to make up an up-to-date machine, and Mr. Spangler can well feel proud of his handsome new car.

It Is Going to Rain.

We don't know when, but we know that we have got a lot of fine comb honey to sell—a first-class article, clean and fresh, right from the clover fields. We sell a good bit of our honey right at home, because we don't have time to deliver it. A nice, neat sign-board placed in our yard, with nice big red letters painted on it, "Honey for Sale," saves us a whole lot of talking. It's a honey-seller. It stops more automobiles than all the police in town with the sheriffs thrown in. Those big fellows in Omaha and other places stop their big "automobiles" at our foot-bridge and call for our honey. They usually want 3 boxes for 50c or 6 for a dollar. Most everybody knows where it is, out on Chicago avenue, and the only honey-selling place in town outside of the stores. Now, dear reader, if you want to buy something that will make you a whole lot "sweeter," just try a cake of honey. Phone No. 499 will give you more information if you desire it. J. M. Young.

SUPERINTENDENT W. G. BROOKS AND WIFE RETURN FROM EAST

This morning Superintendent W. G. Brooks, of the city schools, and wife and mother, Mrs. Brooks, of Hastings, Neb., returned on the early Burlington train from New York, where they have been spending several months, as the superintendent has been engaged in studying at Columbia university summer school, taking up a special course in teaching and handling of the superintendency of schools. The ladies, during the time the professor was in New York City, made their residence at one of the smaller towns near the metropolis and had a very enjoyable time visiting there and in the metropolis of the nation.

CORN BADLY BURNED IN SECTIONS OF CASS COUNTY

Jacob Meisinger returned Saturday afternoon from a trip out in the country, where he was visiting his sons, George P., Jr., John, Jr., and Conrad, for a few days. Mr. Meisinger reports that the corn in that locality has been very badly fired by the heat, but the excellent wheat crop has made up for what losses will be sustained, as Mr. Meisinger reports that the yield of wheat will be between 24 and 40 bushels per acre throughout the locality where his sons reside and that it is of excellent quality. At the farm of George P. Meisinger, Jr., his spring wheat averaged 16 bushels to the acre, while his oats turned out some 40 bushels. John reports a yield of 25 bushels per acre for his wheat, while his oats will run about 25 bushels to the acre. These gentlemen have just finished their threshing.

NEW YORK GIANTS CONTINUE TO CLIMB Bad Week for the Philadelphia Athletics.

New York, Aug. 18.—Baseball play in the major leagues for the week developed the continued strength of the New York Giants and the possible break in the heretofore impregnable defense of the Philadelphia American league team. McGraw's team won five games and lost one during the week, gaining a half game on Philadelphia. In the American League, Philadelphia won two and lost three, but the games won represented the total of two series, Chicago and Cleveland both taking three out of four. In both series Mack's pitchers could not stop the hitting of the opposition, Cleveland especially making scores almost at will.
