PAST CHIEFS MEET AT HOME OF MRS. WILLIAM HASSLER

Delightful Time Enjoyed and Officers Elected for the Year.

Yesterday afternoon the Past Chiefs of the Degree of Honor were entertained in a most charming manner at the home of Mrs. William Hassler, on North Fifth street, and the occasion was one of more than usual pleasure to the members of the society. The Past Chiefs had as their guest of honor during the afternoon Miss Etta Brooks of Lincoln, grand recorder of the Degree of Honor; Miss Lottie Wunderlich of Nebraska and Miss Anna Hassler of Lincoln, who is a member of the society, and whenever an opportunity is afforded her to meet with the ladies it affords them a great deal of pleasure.

The afternoon was spent in pleasant social conversation, as well as playing the busy needle, as many of the ladies had brought their dainty fancy work with them and spent the time with profit, as well as pleasure. The Hassler home for the event had been tastefully decorated with white asters, interspersed with green foliage, making the rooms veritable bowers of beauty, which greatly aided in making the gathering one of the most delightful that has been held so far this season by the ladies of the society, and they were loud in their praise of the delightful manner in which they were entertained by the hostess, who was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Lizzie Bauer.

The annual election of officers of the society was held during the afternoon and resulted in the following being chosen for the different offices: President, Mrs. L. B. Egenberger; vice president, Mrs. Sarah McKay; treasurer, Mrs. Alice Ramez; secretary, Mrs. Mattie Rosenzans.

The attendance at the meeting was most pleasing to the Past Chiefs, there being some fourteen members present, and at an appropriate hour they were invited into the dining room, where a most tempting and delicious three-course luncheon was served by Misses Nora Rosenzans and Ruth Johnson, which served to bring to a close an afternoon of great enjoyment and pleasure, and the guests departed feeling that it was a rare treat to be a guest at this most hospitable home.

BURLINGTON SPECIAL TRAINS RUNNING TO THE STATE FAIR

The Burlington is making preparations for the running of a special train from this city on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, September 2, 3 and 4, to Lincoln to attend the state fair, which is to start in that city next week. The special train will leave here at 7 o'clock sharp, and will run on the following schedule: Oregopolis, 7:10 a. m.; Cullom, 7:21; Cedar Creek, 7:30; Louisville, 7:45; South Bend, 8; Ashland, 8:20; Greenwood, 8:30; Waverley, 8:12; Havelock, 8:55; arrive at Lincoln at 9:10 a. m.

Going out the special trains will stop opposite the fair grounds to unload passengers. Returning, the special trains will leave the Lincoln depot at 7:45 p. m., but will not stop at the fair grounds, and passengers should board the trains at the Lincoln depot. Shuttle trains will be run every few minutes between the fair grounds and the depot. There is every prospect for a large crowd from this city attending the fair, and the special train will make it very convenient for them to attend the fair and return home the same day.

Special Notice.

I hereby wish to make known to the public that my wife has brought disgrace upon me and my child and has left my home, and for that reason I will not be responsible for any bills of any kind contracted by her.

Which Daily Paper?

Readers of The Lincoln State Journal are getting some very important news nowadays about the tariff, the currency bill and the trouble in Mexico. This paper wants you to read it awhile just to see if it is not the paper you will want all the time. A cut-price offer is made of one dollar from now until January 1, 1914, for The Daily and Sunday Journal. The paper will be stopped at that time. This special rate is made only to induce you to try the paper and find out for yourself if it is not Nebraska's greatest newspaper. The sooner you send in your dollar the more papers you will get for your money. Address State Journal, Lincoln, Neb.

BOYS TAKE OUT THE SCREENS TO GET INTO THE WILES HOME

Last Sunday afternoon while John Wiles and family, who reside some six miles south of this city, were absent from home, their farm house was visited by some boys, who are supposed to have come out from Plattsmouth. The boys failing to find anyone at home, climbed over the porch, and removing the screens from some of the windows, secured entrance to the house and proceeded to make themselves very much at home, going all over the house looking things over and scattering articles around. There was nothing missing from the house as far as known, but the securing of entrance to the house by the means employed is a serious matter. That someone might have gotten into serious trouble if any of the family had been there is probable, as not known who was trying to break in it is quite likely that some steps would have been taken to drive off the invaders. When the boys decide to call again it would be well for them to wait until someone is at home before they get so free as to break into the house.

FRANK E. GREEN TO PAY A VISIT TO OLD SCENES

The following from the fluent pen of Frank E. Green, exalted ruler of the Lincoln lodge of the Elks, appears in the monthly publication of that order and gives promise of a visit of this most genial gentleman back to the old home town of Plattsmouth, and the old friends of Frank will receive him royally when he finds the opportunity to make the promised visit.

My Old Friends—Some time in the near future the writer hopes to make his annual pilgrimage to the home of his boyhood. He will clamber over the verdure-clad bluffs and hills and tramp through emerald carpeted vales, down which flow crystal brooks, their beds hidden beneath masses of water cress. But the best of all he will clasp the hands, look into the eyes and hear the voices of the friends of early days.

Somehow as I advance in years, And I see more of smiles and tears, My mind more oft to old scenes tends, And I think more of my old friends.

Go where I will on this big earth, 'Mid scenes of sorrow or of mirth, Where ocean rolls or mount impends, My thoughts hark back to my old friends.

When days are dark and all is drear, When pain and sorrow hover near, The sun the sky new lustrous lends, As mem'ry whispers of old friends.

When laughter rings and all is gay, When song and revelry hold sway, A lacking note my pleasure rends— I miss the voices of old friends.

Funeral to Be Held Sunday.
The funeral of the late William Wynn will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 from the Methodist church, and will be conducted by the pastor of the church, Rev. W. L. Austin.

PREPARING FOR THE NEW FALL MILLINERY

The big department store of M. Fanger is very busy the last few days in the millinery department preparing for the big fall millinery opening which will take place in a few weeks. Miss Ellen Wallick arrived yesterday and will have charge of this department during the coming season. Miss Wallick will be well remembered here, as she assisted in the work at the Fanger store about four years ago, and her many friends here will be delighted to learn that she has decided to again make her headquarters for the season in this city, as she is an expert trimmer and has had a great deal of experience since she was here in the larger cities of the country in the millinery line, and wherever she has worked she has met with wonderful success, as her taste in the making of the latest and most fashionable hats is exquisite and the ladies of Plattsmouth can look forward with pleasure to securing their fall millinery at the department store, where they are sure to be satisfied.

The new models for the fall season are constantly arriving and are among the latest creations of the American and European markets, combining both the artistic and up-to-date features so much demanded by the woman-kind the world over, and every possible effort will be made by the department store, as well as Miss Wallick, to give the customers the best on the market.

Mr. Fanger expects to leave shortly for New York, where he will secure additional millinery supplies for his store at Missouri Valley, Iowa, as well as the store in this city, which is under the careful management of Mr. V. Zucker, and the patrons of the store can rest assured that the latest word in the line of fall and winter millinery can be seen at the department store during the coming season, and a visit there will more than repay anyone. A few of the early fall hats have already been placed on display and Miss Wallick and her assistants will rush the work of preparing a complete display of the creations of the hat world for the benefit of the ladies of Plattsmouth at an early date.

BURNING OF WEEDS CAUSES ALARM IN THE NORTH PART OF TOWN

About 12:30 today the fire alarm was sounded and the fire department called out to the northwest part of the city where some weeds burning had greatly alarmed the residents of the city. The weeds caught fire at the edge of the road near the residence of Fred Ramez who at once got out the garden hose and prevented them spreading in the direction of his residence but the flames then spread into a large patch of weeds growing in some lots in that neighborhood and spread very rapidly going clear over to Ninth street and looking for a short time as if some of the residences on the west side of that street might be damaged but the prompt response of the residents in that section prevented them doing any damage. This is an object lesson to allowing a lot to grow up in weeds and trash and be a menace to the general public as in this dry weather a match dropped in them is liable to result in a very serious fire when a little labor or expense could have cut them down and removed.

A Successful Fair.

911 arrangements have been made for one of the most successful state fairs in the history of Nebraska. It will be held at Lincoln September 1-5. All live stock, race and horse entries have been made. A large force of men is now at work preparing the grounds for the reception of the throngs of visitors.

TWO REASONS

Why the Platte Mutual Insurance Company solicits your business: First. Because they have saved the policyholders one-half the cost of their insurance. Second. Because they have never had an assessment for fifteen years.

MISS ROWENA POLLARD ENTERTAINS AT HER HOME AT NEHAWI A

Last Saturday evening Miss Rowena Pollard entertained at her hospitable home, southwest of Nehawka, in honor of her guests, Miss Anna Snyder of Plattsmouth and Miss Villa Gopen of Murray. One feature of the evening was the guessing contests. Slips were upon the wall on which were written the characteristics of the guests. Much amusement was also derived from the fortunetelling wheel. An invitation stunt was enjoyed, too. Outdoor games were also played. Before the departing of the guests dainty refreshments were served. Those present were: Misses Ethel Rough, Emily and Evelyn Wolph, Isadore Sheldon, Helen Chase of Lincoln, Anna Snyder of Plattsmouth, Villa Gopen of Murray, Violet and Emma St. John, Linaea Lundberg, Ino and Eula Heebner, Rowena Pollard and

STRIKE OF BURLINGTON TRAINMEN IS AVERTED

Committee to Work Out Revolution of Conditions Affecting Labor on the Road.

Danger of a strike affecting the 45,000 trainmen of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad has been averted. Points at issue involved in a complete revolution of the working conditions on the road, will be decided by an arbitration committee of eight men to be appointed within fifteen days. This was announced Tuesday night by Judge W. L. Chambers, United States commissioner of mediation, who has been in Chicago since Friday bringing the railroad officials and representatives of the workmen together.

There were ninety-seven points involved in the revolution of rules governing working conditions on the road. All but fifteen of these had been agreed upon, but the settlement of these fifteen threatened to involve the men in a strike. At the meeting Tuesday of Judge Chambers, railroad officials, A. E. Whitney, vice president of the Order of Railroad Trainmen, and W. C. Turner, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors, it was agreed to submit these fifteen points to arbitration.

The arbitration board will comprise two representatives of the road, two of the employees and two from disinterested industries. Judge E. S. Huston of Washington will act as arbitrator.—Lincoln Journal.

PEDDLER GETS DRUNK AND IS ORDERED OUT OF TOWN

Yesterday afternoon William Moore, who has been engaged for the past few days in selling pencils around the city, was brought before his honor, Judge Archer, to answer to the charge of being drunk, and as William had been caught with the goods on him, it was not necessary for him to answer to the plea of guilty. The court, after taking into consideration the fact that the prisoner was crippled in one hand and the high cost of living at the jail, fined him $2 and costs and gave him fifteen minutes to seek fairer climes for his future operations, and William got himself hence.

Notice.
Quarterly meetings at Eight Mile Grove church August 30 and 31; Saturday at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m.; Sunday at 10:30 a. m. Rev. J. W. Embree, district superintendent, will be present and conduct the services. You are invited to be present.

Improved Machinery.

The machinery display at the Nebraska state fair, September 1-5, will be the best in the United States. The automobile, farm implements and tractor exhibits are without equal anywhere. Then, too, the best of amusements have been provided. Liberator's band, assisted by ten grand opera stars, will furnish free music. Free state hands will also give free concerts.

BOHEMIAN CATHOLIC TURNERS TO MEET

The visiting Bohemian Catholic turners will be welcomed in South Omaha at 8 o'clock Friday evening at Stanek's hall. The address will be delivered by L. Malec, editor of a paper at Hallettsville, Tex. He is also secretary of the turners. The contests will begin at 7 o'clock Saturday morning and continue through the day. There will be three divisions in the contest and six gold medals will be awarded to the first and second winners in each division.

The Catholic turners were organized five years ago in South Omaha with 140 members. Plattsmouth joined in the organization. Now there are thirty-eight, with a membership of about 2,500. Turners will be here from several states.—South Omaha Democrat. The local society of the Katorhiky Sokol will send up a large delegation to represent them and they expect to take a band with them and show the South Omaha citizens that this city is on the map. The meeting is the national tournament of the organization and will bring many from all over the west to take part. A class from this city will take part in the different athletic events.
