COMMERCIAL CLUB ENJOY A FINE SESSION

Was a Very Respectable Number of Members Present and Much Interest Manifested.

From Friday's Daily.
The meeting of the Commercial club was fairly well attended last evening at Coates' hall and many matters of interest to the city were discussed and it was a late hour before the members wended their way homeward, feeling that they had spent a most interesting evening.
The committee that has been having charge of the band concerts during the past summer reported that two months of the concerts had passed and that one of the concerts on the third month had been given, leaving four more to be rendered. The committee stated they had had the matter of holding a couple of sales days during the fall under advisement, and thought as the weather was getting so cool at night that the concerts could be changed so that two more would be given on Saturday afternoons, and on these occasions farmers could bring in stuff to be sold by the auctioneer and the different stores in the city could each offer some special inducements to the farmers on that day and a very successful affair made of it. President Schneider stated he understood the plan had been tried in Glenwood and had been very successful there, as the band concerts added a very pleasant feature to the occasion. Mr. Wescott was heartily in favor of the proposition, but believed that the employees of the shops should be consulted before any action was taken about changing the band concerts, as they had been heavy contributors to the fund.
The cutting of the concerts down to two from four would give the band boys double money, which would probably allow them to lay off, if necessary, on the afternoon of the concert. Mr. Wescott stated also that the merchants would have to have good bargains to offer the people coming into the city if they had the sales day, but he was heartily in favor of the proposition if the matter could be successfully arranged, and the publisher of the Journal, Mr. R. A. Bates, could receive sufficient assurance of participation among the different merchants of assisting in the making of the affair a success.

Mr. Baird thought the concerts would be approved of if the shops were to continue to work only half a day on Saturdays, and in the event they did the band boys could get away all right. He stated he hoped the concerts could be held at an hour when the shop boys would be able to attend, and that perhaps they could be let off an hour earlier to enjoy the concerts.

Messrs. E. J. Richey and J. W. Crabill were both heartily in favor of the proposition and promised to do all in their power to make it a go if the club cared to start the ball to rolling.

On motion of E. H. Wescott the band committee was authorized to turn over the funds collected for the band concerts to the committee on sales days to apply on the cost of the Saturday afternoon concerts, providing the report of R. A. Bates was such as to warrant them in going ahead with the matter of holding these events.

Mr. Wescott gave a brief statement of the visit of the committee, in conjunction with the committee from the county, to Lincoln to the hearing before the state railway commission on the matter of better train service over the Missouri Pacific. He stated that the railroad representatives before the commission had not expected the showing made by the county and they had prepared their case purely as a Plattsmouth one, and the splendid manner in which the other towns of the county had responded to the cause had completely overwhelmed the attorneys for the railroad. There was no way to tell how the case would come out, but the representations certainly looked like there would be something doing in the matter of a motor from Auburn to Omaha and return, which was the relief asked for.

President Schneider called the attention of the club to the fact of the need of having No. 4 stopped here, as many coming to this city were either compelled to wait over in Pacific Junction or go on to Omaha in order to get into this city, and it was very annoying to the commercial travelers, as well as the residents here who desired to go to Omaha or Lincoln to reach there early in the morning. The matter was the subject of much discussion among the different members, and Mr. Baird stated that while it was true there was no through train from the east stopping here, it was very hard for the railroad company to cut down any of the running time of this train, which was one of the fastest on the system, as the business from this point would not repay the outlay to the Burlington in making the stop. After much discussion the matter was turned over to the transportation committee to attend to.

In the course of the meeting the question of the fate of the Hotel Riley was brought up, and the club was very much pleased by the statement from Mr. Falter that a new man was expected here next week to take charge of the hotel and run it in the future as it should be. This statement was greeted with applause by the members, as there has been considerable complaint from parties coming here of the lack of accommodation at that hotel in the way of service in the dining room.

Superintendent Sinclair of the water company asked permission to address the club on the matter of the fire alarm system in use at present in the city, and which had proven very confusing to the members of the fire department, as well as the citizens in general. He was in favor of establishing a number of stations throughout the city with numbers, and when an alarm was turned in the number of the station would be signaled by the whistle at the shops and the fire department would know just what section of the city the fire was in. He favored this, as the city was not able to install the box system of bell alarms, and the water company desired to co-operate in every way with the city. A number of the members opposed the matter as being out of the question with the present conditions.

On the good roads question, Mr. Pollock called attention to the article published in the Journal a short time ago in regard to giving prizes to those who came into town riding on their road drags, and believed that the matter was one that should be taken up by the merchants and some inducements offered the farmers for their work for the improved roads. The roads leading into the city were in very bad shape, especially the Louisville road, from Chicago avenue to the farm of Luke Wiles, where Mr. Wiles had dragged the road until it was in good shape, and he believed the matter of fixing this road should be looked after by the city. The matter was finally referred to the good roads committee to look after. After a short discussion of several matters the club desired to look over, the members adjourned and departed for their home.

MRS. GOBELMAN ENTERTAINS THE SOCIAL WORKERS

Mrs. Frank Gobelman Entertains the Ladies of the Society in Very Charming Manner.

From Friday's Daily.
Yesterday afternoon the Social Workers of the Methodist church were entertained at the home of Mrs. Frank R. Gobelman in a very charming manner. It had been the intention to hold the annual election of officers at this time, but owing to the fact that it was the last time the society would have the pleasure of having Mrs. W. L. Austin, wife of the retiring pastor of the church, with them, the affair was made a purely social one and a number of the members of the Ladies' Aid society gathered with the Social Workers to assist in the occasion. The rooms of the Gobelman home were handsomely decorated with bouquets of asters, which added a touch of beauty to the enjoyable event and combined with the delightful hospitality of the hostess, made the event one long to be remembered. The ladies spent the time with their sewing and in social conversation, as well, and while the meeting was a most pleasant affair it was tinged with sadness due to the fact that they were soon to lose Mrs. Austin from their midst, and great regret was expressed over the fact and the best wishes of both of the societies were extended to this worthy lady for her success and happiness in her new home at Geneva. As a token of the high esteem in which she was held by the members of the societies Mrs. Austin was presented with a handsome cut glass cream dish and solid silver ladle from the Ladies' Aid and with a fine cut glass jelly stand from the Social Workers, and the recipient of the gifts was deeply touched by the feeling of love and friendship shown by the gifts.
During the afternoon the hostess, assisted by Mesdames A. J. Beeson, C. L. Carlson, A. P. Barnes, C. M. Parker and Miss Florence Gory, served some very tempting and delicious refreshments that served to add much to the pleasures of the ladies, some forty of whom were present on this enjoyable occasion. The election of officers will be held at the next meeting of the Social Workers, which will be held at the home of Mrs. A. J. Beeson.

MR. AND MRS. G. P. BARTON CELEBRATE WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

On Wednesday evening a very delightful time was enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Barton at Union, the occasion being the celebration of their silver wedding anniversary, and in honor of the event a large number of their friends gathered at their home to assist them in observing the event in proper shape. The parlors of the Barton home presented a very pretty appearance with the jolly crowd present, and while the bad weather kept many from attending, the occasion was a most happy one for all. The guests were entertained during the evening by several pleasing musical numbers, among them being several vocal selections by Mrs. Haynes, while Rev. Haynes gave two readings that were received with much pleasure by the company. Games of various kinds also served to pass the time most pleasantly until the serving of a most tempting two-course luncheon, which served to bring the happy event to a close, and the guests, departing for their homes, left with the host and hostess several handsome pieces of silverware, as well as their best wishes for their future happiness and success. The guests for the occasion were: Messrs. Taylor, W. A. Taylor, Dr. Huston, Earl Upton, Rev. Haynes, Louis Anderson, Vernon Arn, Eugene Barton, Mesdames Nora Harris, Mary Taylor, Nettie Stanton, George Garrison, Misses Jessie Todd, Iva Mouney, Pearl Bramblet, Mary Foster, Lena Haut, Cora Mueller, Alice Crozier, Messrs. John R. Pierson, Ray Frans, Ross Hayt.

Mrs. Henry Boeck Home.
From Saturday's Daily.
This afternoon Mrs. Henry Boeck was brought up from the home of M. G. Kime and wife, near Nehawka, to her own home in this city, feeling much better from her recent sick spell, with which she was taken while visiting at the Kime home. Mr. Boeck drove down to Nehawka this morning in an automobile and brought his wife home, as it was much easier on her than the trip by rail would have been and she also reached home much earlier.

FRIDAY WAS THE LAST DAY FOR FILING FOR NATURALIZATION PAPERS

From Saturday's Daily.
As yesterday was the last day under the new naturalization law in which parties securing their papers prior to 1906 could file their application for their second papers, the office of District Clerk James Robertson was rushed by a large number of applicants anxious to get into the fold as American citizens, and nine names as follows were enrolled for consideration of the district court for citizenship: Walter Green of Murray, a native of England, who came to America in 1902; Martin Ludwig Johnson of this city, who arrived from his native land of Denmark in 1889; Soren Jensen Swingholm, a native of Denmark, who came to this country in 1885; John Ledgeway, who came to this country from his native land of England in 1883; John William Sheard of Nehawka, a native of England, who arrived here in 1881; Jurgen Heinrich Peter Riechmann of Murdock, a native of Germany, arriving in 1895; Heinrich Frederick Theodore Herms of Manley, a native of Germany, arriving in 1890; Henry Alexander Bisanz, a native of Austria, arriving here in 1903; Henry Hinz, a native of Germany, who came to America in 1872 and who is one of the prominent farmers near this city, was also admitted to citizenship.

ANOTHER SKULL AND BONES UNEARTHED

From Saturday's Daily.
Another find of a skull and bones of one of the ancient inhabitants of Plattsmouth was unearthed yesterday afternoon while some parties were engaged in excavating on the Humphrey property on North Third street, a few blocks north of the residence of W. D. Jones, where so many Indian skulls were found some two weeks ago, and from all appearances the bluff along the river must have been a favorite burying spot of the different tribes that roamed these hills in early days, and they buried the departed members of their tribes where they could keep watch over the great broad valley of the Missouri, then the absolute domain of the Indian and the wild animals, little dreaming that in a few years the advance of civilization would push out and establish a town on their camping ground. When other houses were erected along the bluffs in years gone by there were several Indian graves found, but the one unearthed at the Jones' place is without doubt the largest collection found at any one place in the history of the research of the state for traces of the early inhabitants. If it were possible to secure an accurate history of the early days in this section it would certainly be most interesting reading.

TWO CASS COUNTY CITIZENS SUCCESSFUL IN LAND DRAWING

In the drawings in the Fort Peck Indian reservation land lottery in Montana, which the government has been conducting, to open the land there to homesteaders, two Cass county men have been fortunate enough to draw two homesteads. Fred Oberholte of Washburn drew No. 8919, while Leonard Schafer of Manley drew No. 10790. This land drawing was attended by a large number from this state, some thirty from Omaha having drawn claims, while other parts of the state were well represented.

Visiting at the Asch Home.
From Saturday's Daily.
Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Asch, from east of Murray, were in the city a few hours today, and were accompanied by a friend of Mrs. Asch, Mrs. Charles Travis, of Prescott, Arizona. Mrs. Travis has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Asch for the past few days, and departed from this city today for her home.

Entertained at Zuckwieler Home.
From Friday's Daily.
The members of the Ladies' Aid society of St. Paul's church and a large number of their friends were delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. Henry Zuckwieler by Mrs. Fred Heinrich yesterday afternoon. The afternoon hours were made to pass all too rapidly in a most enjoyable social time, there being no business session held on this occasion. The ladies indulged in social conversation and other amusements. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Zuckwieler, served some very delicious refreshments, which greatly added to the pleasures of the afternoon.

BETTER PASSENGER SERVICE FOR THE CASS COUNTY PEOPLE ON M. P.

Capt. Aldrich B. Clements, H. G. Penterman and M. H. Tyson motored to Lincoln Friday morning and attended the hearing before the state railway commission in the matter of the application to the Missouri Pacific Railway company for better passenger service for the citizens of Cass county to and from the county seat. A large delegation of Plattsmouth citizens and many interested parties from all over the county were there to hear the arguments pro and con. We are told the complainants have a pretty good case, and it is hoped the commission will see their way and compel the M. P. to give one day service to the county seat. Let us hope for the best.—Elmwood Leader-Echo.
