

I should w-h-i-r-r-y! as the parrot said when the monkey grabbed a handfull of her tail feathers. Then you'd ought to have seen the fight which followed; and the monkey sits up on top of a pole, afraid to come down; but he'll have to take a drop if the Boss gets after him like he does after high paices!

SALES' DAY PROPOSITION PROVES WINNER

The matter of having special sales days in this city is to be an assured fact, as sufficient encouragement has been given by the business men of the city of their willingness to take part in the event by offering special bargains in their different lines of goods for their patrons on these days. As a result of the success in securing the necessary backing for the proposition there will be no hand concert given tomorrow night, but the remaining concerts will be given during the sales days, the first of which will be held on Saturday afternoon, October 11, and the result of this day will determine just how strong the idea will be pushed, and if it is a success it will be repeated.

The band concert will prove a strong drawing card to the farmers, when joined with that of a strong bona-fide bargains given by the different merchants of the city, and every farmer who possibly can should be here on Saturday, October 11, to take advantage of the splendid bargains offered. It is the intention of the committee to have an auctioneer on hand to sell anything from a thrashing machine to a package of pins that the farmers bring in with them, and the different stores will see that good bargains are offered to the visitors to this city.

Mrs. Herman Bestor Improving.

Mrs. Guy Bestor and little daughter, of Cozad, Nebraska, who have been her during the illness of Mrs. Herman Bestor, were in Omaha yesterday, where they called on that lady at the hospital and were more than pleased with the wonderful progress she has made in the last few days, and with the present rate of improvement it is thought that she can be brought home next week, as the physicians are very well pleased with her condition in every way. This will be most pleasing news to the friends of this worthy lady and her family, who have been greatly worried over her condition.

THE BUILDING "BUG" GETTING IN HIS WORK

Number of Plattsmouth Men to Erect New Residences Soon.

The building "bug" at last seems to have struck the city and some of the live ones are to start in on a plan of campaign to relieve the present scarcity of desirable rental property.

C. W. Baylor has just made the purchase of the lot owned by T. H. Pollock on Elm street and will shortly commence the erection of a neat colonial bungalow on the site he has secured. The new bungalow will have five rooms and a bath on the ground floor and on the second floor two good-sized rooms will be made. A feature of the house that will appeal to the householder will be the porch, which will extend across the north end of the building and which will be ten feet deep and make one of the neatest appearing houses in the city, and it is located in easy ten minutes' walk of the business center of the city. The bungalow, when erected by Mr. Baylor, will be placed on the market for rental as soon as completed, and it will make a splendid home for anyone desiring a neat, modern house. This action of Mr. Baylor shows the proper spirit and is very commendable in him in showing his confidence in the future of the city.

Another of the Plattsmouth citizens to come to the front in the work of providing for the rapidly increasing population of the city is the firm of Peters & Richards, who have secured three lots on North Sixth street, upon which they will put up three modern cottages this fall, which will be put up by this enterprising firm for rental to those who desire to secure a modern home.

These enterprises in the building line are the forerunners of the general movement in that direction and several others in our city are soon to get into the procession by the erection of home for themselves, which will add not only to the appearance of the city, but will prove a very good financial move on the part of the parties putting up the houses, as they can easily be rented at good rates.

CASS COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

Meeting a Strong One and Will Be Held at Union on October 23-24.

The date for the annual Cass county Sunday school convention is set for October 23 and 24 at Union, and a most interesting program has been prepared for these two days, and every Sunday school in the county is entitled to send delegates. Miss Brown and W. H. Kimberley, both well known state workers, will be present, as well as many others well qualified to speak on the Sunday school work. This will be a twentieth century Sunday school convention. Don't be satisfied with freight train methods of Sunday school work, but jump right aboard this twentieth century limited and get somewhere. This convention will without doubt be one of the best that the association has held, and every Sunday school in the county should get in line and see that they are represented and get onto the up-to-date methods of running the Sunday school. The lecturers before the convention will be among the best, and Miss Brown has an international reputation as a lecturer.

Miss Margaret Ellen Brown.

Miss Brown has just returned from a tour round the world in the interest of the Sunday school work. Mr. H. J. Heinz, the Pittsburgh pickle man, of the fifty-seven varieties, organized his fifty-eighth variety last winter and it consisted of twenty-nine Sunday school workers, who went with him around the world as the American Business Men's World Tour Sunday School Party. Miss Brown has the distinction of being one of this party and was chosen because she was one of the most up-to-date educators and one of the most inspirational speakers in our state.

W. H. Kimberley.

The purpose of the commission was to study the childhood of the orient, and the relation actual and possible of Sunday school work and all other forms of Christian teaching bearing upon the youth of this field. Also to study the possibilities and methods of help to the children through the Sunday school. They visited Hawaii, Japan, Korea, China, Russia, Siberia and many other countries, ending up at Zurich, Switzerland, attending the Great World's convention.

At the Zurich convention there was 2,000 registered delegates, representing seventy countries, and thousands of unregistered delegates. North America had 1,344 accredited delegates at this meeting. Miss Brown comes to us with much vision and methods that will bring victory. We hope our people will hear her. We assure the business man, the school teacher, the mother and father, and in fact any and all who come to hear her a pleasant time and inspiration and new devotion to their life work. Attend every session for she will be there with some good message.

Do not stop because you are not a Sunday school man or a delegate from some Sunday school, come right along and you will be welcome. Do not miss this helpful treat.

FORMER PIONEER CITIZEN PASSES AWAY IN CALIFORNIA

From Tuesday's Daily. The following account of the death of a former resident of this city is taken from the Pomona (Cal.) Review of July 10. Mr. Hull will be remembered by many of the older residents of the city, although he removed from here many years ago:

Eugene Hull passed away at the home of his sister, Mrs. B. E. Ransford, Wednesday at 9 p. m., after many months of suffering. He had been in failing health for three years. One year ago he came to southern California in the hope of benefitting his health. Death came as a great relief to him. Mr. Hull was born at Plattsmouth, Neb., fifty-two years ago. He had been a member of the church for a number of years.

Funeral services will be held at the Ransford home, 530 West Holt avenue, Friday at 10 a. m., and the body will be shipped to Los Angeles to be cremated, as it was his request. By request of the relatives the casket will not be opened at the house, but friends who desire to see Mr. Hull may do so by calling at the Todd chapel, 570 North Garey avenue, any time until 8:30 a. m. Friday.

Funeral of Mrs. Anna Riley.

From Tuesday's Daily. The funeral of the late Mrs. Anna Riley was held this morning at 10:30 from St. John's Roman Catholic church, the solemn high mass of the church being held by Rev. Father Shine, rector of the church. The funeral was attended by a large number of the friends of the deceased lady, who gathered to pay their last tributes of respect. The interment was made in the Catholic cemetery in this city. The body was borne tenderly to its last resting place by the following relatives and friends: William Shea, Ray Sawyer, John Cavanaugh, South Omaha; Terrence Shields, John McCall, Anthony Brennan, Omaha.

Women Who Get Dizzy.

Every woman who is troubled with fainting and dizzy spells, backache, headache, weakness, debility, constipation or kidney troubles should use Electric Bitters. They give relief when nothing else will, improve the health, adding strength and vigor from the first dose. Mrs. Laura Gaines, of Avoca, La., says: "Four doctors had given me up and my children and all my friends were looking for me to die, when my son insisted that I use Electric Bitters. I did so, and they have done me a world of good." Just try them. 50c and $1.00, at all druggists or by mail, H. E. Bucklen & Co., Philadelphia or St. Louis.

Has Finger Badly Mashed.

From Wednesday's Daily. This morning Tom Gradoville, who is employed in the Burlington blacksmith shop, received a very painful injury to one of the fingers on his left hand, having it mashed so badly that the attending physicians found it necessary to remove the nail. The young man had the finger caught between a die and a bolt while working on one of the machines in the shop, and while not particularly serious, it is very painful.

The next dance on the program will be at Coates' hall on next Saturday evening and the public is cordially invited to attend and have a good time. Given by the Cosmopolitan club.

Henry Kaufmann and wife departed this morning for Omaha, where they will visit for the day and take in the carnival.

GOOD ROADS AND WASTE OF FUNDS

The general agitation over the country in favor of better country roads has quite naturally raised the cry from various sources that a great part of the funds spent on road improvement is wasted. The truth of this indictment is apparent to anyone who is familiar with the general practice in road improvement, so-called. Plenty of money is spent in grading roads and considerable in putting in bridges, but the amount spent in maintenance work is negligible.

The usual theory of precinct, and even county, road builders is that a road once graded or a bridge once put in needs no attention again until it is impassible. Then the work is done all over again, and the new work left to deteriorate at the same rate as the former.

Road builders and farmers are beginning to realize that a dirt road is not a permanent improvement, a pile bridge is no better, and even a concrete culvert cannot be called indestructible if subject to constant abuse. The spread of this idea means to us the beginning of a time of real good road progress.

Nowhere more than on a dirt road or country bridge does "a stitch in time save nine." The farmer who drags his road when it needs it after every rain is doing a bigger thing than the grader outfit can do. In the course of a few draggings he will have established a real road that will shed most of the water falling on it and offer a firm, even track for vehicles. If he is battling with a road in which sand predominates, he has a bigger task in dry weather than in wet. Then it is that a few loads of solid dirt in the "chuck holes" as they begin to form will do inestimable good. At the ends of the bridges and culverts, where the dirt begins to settle away and leaves a jump-off that means slow-driving or broken springs a few minutes work with a shovel now and then will make every traveler over the road sing the praises of the unknown friend who made the crossing of that particular bridge or culvert smooth and safe. A little attention in keeping the dirt on top of the concrete culverts will mean much longer life for them, for even concrete needs attention to prevent wear.

Road maintenance ought not to cost the county or precinct so much, but the will to see that it is done ought to be stirred up in the farmers who are on the job and have the time and means to easily take the "stitch" in time.

ARTHUR TROOP FRACTURES COLLAR BONE IN ACCIDENT

From Tuesday's Daily. Arthur Troop, who resides south of this city about five miles, was the victim of a very painful accident last Saturday as the result of which he is nursing a fractured collar-bone. He was driving along with a load of fodder and in some manner slipped and fell off of the load onto the road and thence into a deep creek, alighting on his head and shoulders, with the result of causing the fracture as noted above. It is really fortunate, however, that the fall did not have even more serious results, as the distance he fell was some eighteen feet. As soon as possible after the accident Mr. Troop was brought to this city and the injured member dressed by a surgeon and he was made as comfortable as possible, although he will be compelled to take a rest from his farm duties for a few weeks.

Has His Foot Injured.

From Tuesday's Daily. Last evening James Ault arrived home on No. 2 from Caspar, Wyoming, where he had been for the past few months engaged in bridge work for the Burlington. James met with a very painful accident a few days ago that will force him to take a layoff of a week or two. He was working around some timbers, and while stepping over a large one his foot came in contact with a large spike sticking out of one of the boards and the nail penetrated his foot clear to the bone. The men in charge at Caspar wanted him to go to the hospital with the injured foot, but he concluded to come home to have it attended to right.
