sington club was entertained in a most delightful manner at the home of Mrs. W. E. Rosencrans on Vine street. The ladies came provided with their fancy work, and with this and social conversation whiled away several hours most pleasantly. At an appropriate hour the ladies were invited to partake of a most tempting function, which served to make the afternoon one of great pleasure to those fortunate enough to be present. Mrs. Rosencrans was assisted in serving by her daughters, Misses Nora and Mary. The Rosencrans home, in honor of the pleasant occasion, was very tastefully decorated in cosmus and scarlet sage, which made a very charming and artistic setting for the gathering. It was late in the afternoon when the ladies departed for their home, feeling that it was a rare treat to be a guest at that hospitable home.
