GREAT BARGAIN DAY LAST SATURDAY

Hundreds of Farmers Bring Their Families to Town, and Our Merchants Do a Big Business.

The first of a series of sales days which was held in this city Saturday afternoon was more successful than even its most enthusiastic friends could have possibly predicted and the results of the day to the merchants of the city was in one of the largest days for business that has been seen here for years. From early morning the crowds began to drive in in automobiles, wagons and carriages, and all were well posted on the exceptional bargains that had been offered by the different stores and were prepared to do business and the result of the day's business to the different merchants has made them very enthusiastic for the proposition of holding these sales days. The entertainment feature of the day was looked after very pleasingly by having the Burlington band render some very delightful music at different sections of the business part of the city and this feature contributed greatly to make the day one long to be remembered here both by the merchants and those coming here to trade.

For the purpose of making the day a success each merchant had arranged some special article for sale and in almost all cases they were really sold at less than cost in order that their visitors and customers might receive the benefit of the city in price and to induce them to come to the best town in the state to trade in. The offers made by the merchants were eagerly taken up with by the very large crowd and besides the bargains offered as specials the friends took advantage of the opportunity to load up with many articles that they needed, and which can be bought as cheap in this city as anywhere in the world and the citizens of Cass county are gradually awakening to the fact that as a trading point the city of Plattsburgh cannot be beat. The different stores all presented their customers with tickets good for a show at the Gem theatre and many of the visitors took advantage of this to attend at that place.

A Marvelous Escape.
"My little boy had a marvelous escape," writes P. F. Bastians of Prince Albert, Cape of Good Hope. "It occurred in the middle of the night. He got a very severe attack of croup. As luck would have it, I had a large bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. After following the directions for an hour and twenty minutes he was through all danger." Sold by all dealers.

TRUXTON KING IS COMING TO PLATTSMOUTH

The premier of the new play "Truxton King" which was an event of a few days ago was attended by such marked success as to warrant the rosiest predictions of its success on the important tour which has been mapped out for it. This city is to get the new romantic melodrama on Friday night, October 17, at the Parmele Theatre.

The play might well be described as giving a flash of the stirring events of the present day in the Balkan country. It is a dramatization of George Barr McCutcheon's "Truxton King," wherein a daring young American meets with adventures he never dreamed were possible and in which he bears himself as a gallant American should. Of course he meets the "one girl" and she proves a fine comrade and together they do much for little Prince Robin, whose throne in "Graustark" at one time is very shaky.

Miss Hayward, who made the stage version of the novel, is herself a player of prominence, experienced in many roles, and has herself done more than dabble in playwriting. She has an intimate appreciation of Mr. McCutcheon's skill in building a climax to which she gives the professional touch made possible by a most intimate acquaintance with the stage.

Miss Hayward brought the draft of the play back with her from a vacation in Switzerland. The United Play Company is responsible for the production, in which advantage has been taken of the opportunity for picturesque settings. The company appearing in the piece has been cordially received.

DANCE SATURDAY NIGHT AT THE K. S. HALL A BIG SUCCESS

The dance Saturday evening at the K. S. hall was very largely attended, the capacity of the hall being crowded by those eager to enjoy the pleasures of the dance. The music furnished by a band of some very talented musicians was most excellent and afforded the dancers much pleasure. It was one of the most successful dances that has been given by this society, and the members were greatly pleased by the manner in which the affair had been attended. It was a late hour when the merry crowd of dancers departed for their home feeling it had been a very pleasant event.

THE GOOD WORK HAS COMMENCED

Curbing and Guttering of North Sixth Street and Oak Street From Fifth to Seventh.

From Saturday's Daily.
Work has just commenced on what will be one of the greatest improvements that has been made on the Plattsburgh streets since the paving of Vine street, and that is the curbing and guttering of North Sixth street and Oak street from Fifth to Seventh. When this is finished these thoroughfares will be among the best in the city and afford a splendidly kept driveway for those residing in that section of the city.

The streets will be narrowed somewhat by parking, which will add greatly to the appearance of the same, and a four-foot combined curb and gutter placed along each side, taking up some four feet. The dirt roadway between the curbs can be kept in much better shape as the curbing takes away the chances for washing, such as occurs after every heavy rain, and while the cost of the construction may seem a trifle heavy to the residents along the line of the improvements it will cut the cost of the work on the street down to a very low figure. It is thought that in a year or so that it will be possible to have these streets paved, as the surface to be covered will not be so great after the curbing and guttering is installed, and if it is possible to get the paving done it will certainly make these streets the finest in the city.

In the line of extending public improvements the residents of Main street leading up to the high school are also getting the curbing and guttering fever and it is thought likely that next spring they will be ready to come to the front with a petition to have the work started, and this beautiful street placed in proper condition. Let the good work continue, and every street in the city be placed in such shape that they will be a matter of pride to the residents of the city and something that can be made an advertisement for the city.

THE SONS OF WILLIAM O'BRIEN DECEASED SEEK TO RECOVER $800

The county court this morning was occupied with the hearing of the claim of Edward and Tom O'Brien against the estate of their father, the late William O'Brien. The facts as claimed by the contestants is that at the time the separation between their parents was made they received no settlement for the personal property of the farm which they claim had been given to them. The farm was purchased by J. B. Roddy, of Union, who, in pursuance with the wish of the parties, paid Mr. O'Brien $3,500 and his wife $3,000 and deposited $500 in the bank to await the fixing up of the title to the place, and at the time he knew nothing of the claim of the sons, as it was not mentioned in the settlement made in the sale of the farm. The late Mr. O'Brien when he died left a will giving his property to his niece, Mrs. William Morley of this city, and the sons now seek to recover the sum of $800 from the estate.

John W. Leyda Sick.

Yesterday Attorney John M. Leyda was taken very suddenly ill, at his home, and his condition greatly alarmed his family and friends, as it was feared he was taken with appendicitis. He suffered greatly and at this time it is not possible to determine just what the sickness from which he is suffering really is. The friends of this gentleman were greatly worried over the illness, but trust that it will not develop into anything serious.

PLATTSMOUTH COUPLE MARRIED IN OMAHA

Yesterday the friends of E. P. Stewart, the genial cashier at the Burlington passenger station, were greatly surprised to hear of his marriage to Miss Mable Nyle Cobb, of this city, which occurred in Omaha on Saturday afternoon. The wedding came as a great surprise to the intimate friends of the contracting parties who, while they had suspected something of this for some time, were not aware of the near approach of the nuptials, and the first intimation they had of the event was the published notice in the Omaha papers yesterday. The bride is the charming and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Cobb of this city, and has a host of warm friends here who will be very much pleased to learn of her happiness. Mr. Stewart has been here for some months as the cashier of the depot and is a gentleman of splendid character and most genial disposition, and has made a host of friends here during his residence in this city and he and his charming wife will receive a hearty welcome to this city where they will make their future home. WEYRICH & HADRABA

THERE may be a number of reasons why you prefer to buy clothes of some other store than this. If you do buy your clothes somewhere else, you know what your reasons are for doing it.

We might, if we knew your reasons, match them with good reasons why you'd better change, and come here. But buying clothes isn't always a matter that's reasoned out.

We'd like to say this much, however—we sell Society Brand and Micheals-Stern Clothes; and we know you don't buy any better, anywhere. You'll have no trouble finding plenty not as good.

We'd like to say one thing more---if you do buy clothes or anything else here, and think you didn't do as well in value for your money as you could have done somewhere else, bring it back and we'll return your money.
