

GERMAN DAY IS THIS WEEK

Get Busy and Prepare to Decorate Up for the Two Big Gala Days.

Only two more days remain until the city will be the scene of the gathering of the Germans of Cass county, and this section of the state, and especial efforts should be put forth by the residents of this city to show them a fine time. Every business house in the city should shine forth with the colors of the Fatherland, red, white and black, and those of the greatest republic the sun ever shone on the red, white and blue of the United States. This recognition is due the hard work that the committee in charge has been to make the celebration a success, and there should be no hanging back in giving these worthy German citizens the recognition they so well deserve, for their efforts to bring to this city a gathering of this kind. The celebration of German day in our state capital started with a beginning as humble as our own and today it is one of the leading attractions of its kind in the state and all this has been accomplished by good hard work on the part of their citizens, irrespective of nationality, and the same can be done here if each year the people get together and boost and work for the success of the celebration. The committee has arranged a program pleasing to everyone, and there is not a feature on it that will not appeal to the general public whether German or any other nationality. The committee has been particularly fortunate in securing the services of T. R. Reese of Omaha, the greatest German musician in the west, to have the direction of the concert to be given during the celebration here, and the program prepared is certainly a splendid one, and a rare musical treat for those who love to hear excellent music. The speeches to be delivered by Messrs. Matthew Gering and Otto Kinder of Omaha, in English and German, will be both intellectual treats and well worth hearing. These will be delivered at the German Home on Sunday afternoon, October 19.

W. T. SMITH DOING NICELY IN MISSOURI

We are in receipt of a letter from Mr. W. T. Smith, formerly of this city, but now located at Amazonia, Mo., in which he states that he has a desire and longed to hear of the people of old Plattsmouth, and encloses subscription money for the Plattsmouth Journal as he knows the Journal gives the news in detail. He further states that he has become a full-fledged Missourian; that the paw-paws are ripe now and that they call them Missouri bananas. He says the opossums are plenty, fat and nice but failed to raise the sweet potatoes on account of the dry weather, which would have completed the feast in this part of Missouri, that is for a naturalized citizen of that locality. He further states that Messrs. Newell and Stewart are doing a great business there at their stone quarry and that the Judge visits them once a month and that they love to see the old gentleman coming.

Stole Ten Gallon Jar.
Sometime ago parties visited the home of Leonard Born in the northwest part of the city, and took a large ten-gallon jar that Mr. Born has used for several years to store his winter's supply of kraut in. The loss of the jar was quite annoying to Mr. Born but as the party who took it left the lid they can have the same by calling for it, or if they return the jar will receive that gentleman's most heartfelt thanks.

Henry A. Johnston, a business man of L'Anse, Mich., writes: "For years, Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for coughs and colds has been our family medicine. We give it to our children, who like it on account of its pleasant taste. It is a safe cure for coughs and colds." It contains no opiates. For sale by all druggists.

Visits Glenwood.
Prof. Schulhof, formerly the leader in the Institution band was over from Plattsmouth today (Monday) looking after his work of piano tuning. He tells of a game of ball in Plattsmouth yesterday between Avoca and Plattsmouth that ran 16 innings with an even score of 2 to 2. He mentioned the big time anticipated by the citizens of his town on next Saturday and Sunday, which are German Celebration Days.—Glenwood Tribune.

ENTERTAINS FOR BIRTHDAY OF MRS. G. C. WILCKE

Yesterday Mrs. P. F. Goos entertained in honor of the seventy-sixth birthday anniversary of her mother, Mrs. G. C. Wilcke, of Spokane, Washington, who is visiting here for a short time with her. The occasion was a most pleasant one and a very enjoyable time was spent by the ladies in social conversation, and in visiting with the guest of honor of the day. As tokens of the passing of another milestone of her life, Mrs. Wilcke received a number of handsome presents that will be greatly cherished by her as remembrances of this delightful time. At an appropriate hour a very tempting and delicious three-course luncheon was served that greatly aided in making the event one of the most enjoyable. The guests for the happy gathering were: Mesdames Jacob Henrich, Hans Tams, John Weichman, Louis Dose, Hans Seivers, John P. Sattler, J. M. Johns, L. B. Egenberger, J. C. Peterson, Val Burkle, Fred Goos, Joseph Fetzer, William Schmidtman, M. E. Manspeaker, Anna Timm.

STATE MILITA DEPARTS FOR THEIR HOMES TODAY

The members of the state militia, which have been encamped at the government rifle range, north of this city, for the past week, engaged in sharpshooting practice, have wound up their work and will depart this evening for their homes in different parts of the state. There were quite a number of the companies from this part of the state, and there was much competition for the different honors offered by the state. The cup which is given out to the company making the best record at the shoot was eagerly sought by the representatives of the different companies and the boys done their utmost to carry off the reward for their home towns. The cup was finally rewarded to the Lincoln company for the best record made.

Adjutant General Phil Hall of Lincoln, accompanied by A. M. Morrissey, private secretary to Governor John H. Morehead, arrived this morning on No. 4 and were at once taken out to the rifle range, where the presentation of the different prizes will be made and Mr. Morrissey will present to the winning company the governor's trophy.

Will G. Richmond, a resident of Inglewood, Cal., will answer any inquiries about Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. He says further "Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has greatly benefited me for bronchial trouble and cough, after I used other remedies that failed. It is more like a food than a medicine." Do not accept a substitute. For sale by all druggists.

TO FILL THE DISTRICT JUDGSHIP VACANCY

Governor Morehead Will Study The Matter Over Very Thoroughly.

That the district judgeship in this district made vacant by the death of Judge Travis creating much interest is evidenced by the following from the Omaha Bee of this morning:
It is evident that Governor Morehead is going to be compelled to do some deep thinking before he finally reaches a conclusion in the appointment of a district judge for the Second judicial district to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge Travis of Plattsmouth.
Delegations of democrats and republicans from Plattsmouth called on the governor last week urging the appointment of D. O. Dwyer of that city. These delegations contained such men as Matt Gering, W. W. Windham, A. L. Tidd and some others, and even ex-Representative George W. Leidigh, of Nebraska City, was present in behalf of the appointment of Dwyer, although that town has three candidates.
Today the other side lined up and J. P. Falter, C. C. Parmele, J. M. Roberts, Dr. J. S. Livingston, J. M. Leyda and Postmaster Henry Schneider, all of Plattsmonth, called on the governor and threw a few lumps, pieces of broken glass, etc., in the track of Dwyer's machine. They did not seem to favor any other candidate, but simply opposed to Dwyer.

Soon after they were gone a delegation came in from Otoe county, hailing from Nebraska City and towns in that vicinity. They favored the appointment of D. W. Livingston of Nebraska City. This makes three candidates from Nebraska City for the appointment, but so far Sarpy county, the other county in the district, has not appeared with a candidate, although the statute of limitation has not expired and it is yet possible to come forward with a Sarpy county man before the gavel falls.

George W. Shrader, the grand old man of Liberty precinct, accompanied by his son Robert Shrader, was in the city today for a few hours looking after some business affairs.

Mr. J. B. Zuck and daughter, Miss Grace and son Emory, of Hamburg, Iowa, have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Monte Franks, the former being an uncle of Mr. Franks.

THE PAST CHIEFS OF HONOR ENTERTAINED BY MRS. CARL KUNSMAN

The Past Chiefs of the Degree of Honor were entertained yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Carl Kunsman in a most delightful manner, and the large number of the members of the order present were delighted with the gracious hospitality afforded them by the hostess and were unanimous in voting it one of the most pleasant meetings the Past Chiefs have held for some time. The ladies had brought their fancy work with them and a most enjoyable time was spent in preparing the dainty articles, as well as in social conversation, until an auspicious hour, when the company was invited into the dining room, which bore a handsome appearance with artistic decorations of pink cosmos and green foliage, and they were treated to a most delicious and tempting three-course luncheon, served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Lizzie Bauer and Mrs. Carl Kunsman, jr., which served to make the afternoon one of complete enjoyment and pleasure to the large crowd of ladies, and it was with regret that they departed for their homes, feeling that this meeting had been one of the most successful and complete that the order has held.

Automobiles for Parade.
Those automobile owners who are to take place in the German Day parade Saturday, are requested to meet at the German home at 4:30 in order to take part in the line of march which will be formed there. The auto owners who have not the time to decorate their cars, if they will be at the hall on time can have them decorated by the committee.

IN PLATTSMOUTH FORTY YEARS AGO

Items of Interest to Old and New Residents of City Which Were New Forty Years Ago.

Little Mac, the editor of the Watchman, comes home from Chicago a confirmed temperance man; he now proposes a joint tour with ourselves; both of us to visit our new "forties" out west, and to deliver temperance lectures by the way.

Mr. Chilson and Mr. Shipman, both good farmers of Cass county, called on the Herald last week. Mr. Shipman is master of Prairie Grange.

Mr. J. J. Patterson of Rock Bluffs has bought the Marquett common sized hen of the white persuasion—so he said. We think she was of the west persuasion.

Letter From Mt. Pleasant.

Editor Herald:—This usually live community has been unusually lively on the subject of temperance since the general crusade began. We have had a Templars' lodge here since 1866, and while every other lodge in the county has gone down, this is and has been as lively as ever. We have had temperance sermons, temperance concerts, temperance prayer meetings and last Sunday night, under the auspices of the Ladies' Temperance society, we had a live temperance mass meeting. Rev. G. B. Crippin (who by the way is a poet) opened the exercises of the evening by general remarks on the subject, and by a startling array of statistics, which generally are very dry, but which, under the learned gentleman's management were very interesting. Bro. Winslow (everybody knows him) followed in a thrill-place and will move to town very shortly. The more we have of such men the better. Come along, boys, there's room enough for all.

Mr. West lays an egg on our table which measures, in circumference longitudinally, seven and three-eighths inches; longitudinally, 5 and thirteen-sixteenths inches, and weighs three and one-half ounces. The original proprietor of the egg was a long account of personal recollections of the evils of intemperance. He usually does well, but this time he did better. W. A. Folden was next called on, and gave one of the very best talks of the evening. G. A. Hobson, esq., made the next speech, and though he is a very young man, I have listened to worse speeches in high places. During the evening two original temperance essays were read by Miss Kate Winslow, and aside from the reading, which was very fine, they were really the best essays I have ever heard read. The writer was the charming reader herself, and S. A. Davis; and Mr. TipTop when you want good essays written, call on them. Take the meeting altogether, it was one of the pleasantest of the season. There is a strong temperance feeling here, and if a temperance ticket was put in the field this fall it would get at least 200 votes in this part of the county. Reporter.

Tomorrow evening some of the young people of Plattsmouth give an entertainment at Fitzgerald's hall for the benefit of the High school organ fund. A short and very amusing piece, called "The Spirit of '76," in which is represented the supposed status and position of men and women under the new dispensation of "women's rule," is the principal part of the program. Between the acts and during the evening some very fine instrumental and vocal music will be given. We hope our people will turn out and patronize this exhibition largely, both because of the object for which it is given, a very laudable one, and also that the young people acting therein have worked very hard to present a fine picture of real imaginary life to their audience. No one who has not tried these things knows how much labor and hard work one of these little plays cost to the performers, and as it is a pure gift from them especially for the benefit of the children now and always at the High school, it should be freely and largely attended. We have seen the rehearsals and can assure our readers it will be worth going to see, and the music also cannot help being a treat to all real lovers of good music.

The trains on the B. & M. have been delayed somewhat for a few days past, by the damage done to the road by the recent heavy rains.

The change in the time table of the B. & M. R. R. is a great accommodation to our people both as regards Omaha or Lincoln. We can now go to Omaha and return the same day, with three or four hours for business. They can also come from Omaha here and return the same day; and we can now visit our capital and return to sleep—a great accommodation.

Along the emigrant wagons last week were two whose covers must have been made from some banners or canvass used during the late election. One of them had G-R-A-N-T in such letters that the tail of the G hung over the side board, while the top of the T would reach down to the wheel on the other side. The other wagon had Wilson in the same gigantic characters. We're glad to see them taking the right kind of politics with them.

This ill to give timely warning to all parents living in the City of Plattsmouth, who have boys running the streets of this city; carrying with them rubber sling-shots, and using the same as heretofore, to the injury of persons and public property, that the parents of such boys will be held responsible for such crimes or offences as may be committed by them. J. W. Haines, police judge. P. S.—By request of injured citizens.

Editor Herald—Dear Sir: It being rainy today, and nothing doing in trade, I thought best to let you know that we are not all drowned, although there is not a bridge left on either of the Cedar Creeks in Louisville, and all streams have met with the same fate. I will tell you something about the town of Louisville and its prospects. It is growing some. We have one dry goods store, one boarding and beer house combined, one grocery—the strength of sod corn—one lumber yard and hardware combined—one doctor, blacksmith, etc., etc., and all seem to be doing a good business. We shall soon have a good schoolhouse and church; we have conversed with parties from Illinois who say that there will be a large emigration to this part during the season, and all say that Nebraska is the best farming country they have yet traveled through. Let them come, there's room. We need a good harness maker and shoe maker here—they could do well at these trades. The farmers have most of their corn planted, and what is not up will probably rot in the ground, if it continues raining. We all neglected to cover our corn cribs, and will no doubt, pay dearly for so doing.

Emil Padke, a former resident of this city, but now located at Tacoma, Washington, is in the city making a short visit with old friends. Mr. Radtke has been in Oklahoma for several weeks enjoying a visit with a brother and on his way west, decided to stop off and renew acquaintance with old friends.
