THE DEATH OF A FORMER RESIDENT

Born, February 13, 1838, in Indiana. Died at 5 o'clock p. m. Friday, October 10, 1913, at Grand Island, Nebraska, aged 75 years, 7 months and 26 days.

Col. Daniel Burris was one of the old soldiers who was well known in this part of the country, he having been a resident of this vicinity at various times since 1884. During the past fifteen years he has made his home with his son and daughter and in the soldier homes, his death having occurred in the home at Grand Island last Friday evening. In his younger days he was an exceptionally strong and robust man, but about fifteen years ago he began to suffer from the effects of hardships and exposures in the army, and later became afflicted with creeping paralysis. This gradually increased and the past year or more he had been entirely helpless, requiring an attendant constantly. Immediately upon receipt of the news of the old gentleman's death his son George, of Crofton, went to Grand Island and brought the remains to this place, arriving on the Sunday midnight train, and the remains were taken to Upton's undertaking establishment, where the friends were permitted to view them. The funeral services were held in the Methodist church Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. H. W. Haynes conducting the service. In his discourse Rev. Haynes paid a beautiful tribute to the exemplary life of the deceased, in which he used the following very appropriate language: "He was a man full of faith in Christ, believed as the Apostle Paul did—that here we have no continuing city, but seek one to come—not in perfection of this life, but the growing in grace and full-that great day when those who have done well shall receive the great reward."

Many friends were at the church to take a last view of the face of the departed friend, and the remains were laid to rest in the cemetery west of this village. The pall bearers were: Franz Bauer, Moss McCarroll, King Clark, Lute Crawford, C. L. Graves and Ira Clark.

Deceased grew to manhood in his native state, and at Cumberland, Indiana, he was married in 1866 to Miss Nancy Hendricks. There were the parents of four children, of whom two are deceased, those surviving being George Burris of Crofton, Neb., and Mrs. Annie Jones of Chicago. Col. Burris and wife came to this vicinity in 1884, locating at what was then known as "Stringtown," a quarter of a mile west of where this village now stands. A warrior in the days of old, he died a warrior still. A man not afraid to let the light within him shine, and where he could not live as a Christian he would not stay. The hymns sung today are among his favorites, now a new song will be his, for the spirit gone to Him who gave it. As a Soldier of Christ we sound for him the "Last Post," looking to They moved from here to Platts-mouth, where they resided about eighteen years, and from there they went to Omaha, where Mrs. Burris' death occurred. Col. Burris' title was earned by him by valiant service in the army, he having served more than three years as a member of Co. H, Second regiment of Kansas Volunteer Cavalry. He had been a faithful member of the M. E. church for many years and his daily life was in accordance with the teachings of the Bible. Many friends here and elsewhere regret to learn of his death, yet they realize that he has found relief from his many years of suffering.

THE METHODIST SUNDAY SCHOOL HOLDS RALLY DAY

The Methodist Sunday school enjoyed a most interesting meeting yesterday in their Rally day services and a delightful program of music was given by the little folks, which was a rare treat, not only to them, but to the parents and friends who attended. One of the pleasing features of the day was the numbers given by the orchestra of the Sunday school, consisting of a cornet, clarinet, flute and violin, and which was accompanied by the organ in the different selections given by this splendid organization. The Methodist Sunday school is the largest in the city and interest in the work is kept alive by the most modern methods, and as a result their school is in the most flourishing condition and is constantly securing additional membership. The young folks had been carefully trained for the exercises yesterday and their performance reflects great credit, not only upon them, but also upon the teachers, who labored so hard in their training.

From Mt. Pleasant Precinct. Mr. and Mrs. Frank McNurlin and daughter, Miss Dora, from Mount Pleasant precinct were in the city a few hours last Saturday attending the German Day celebration and visiting with county seat friends. The Journal was favored with a pleasant call from them, and while here Mr. McNurlin renewed for his Journal, also the one he sends to his daughter, Mrs. R. A. Barrett, of Havelock. Frank is the same jovial, whole-souled fellow, and the only fault we can find with him is that he does not come to Platts-mouth oftener. This being his first visit to the county seat in almost two years. His daughter, Miss Dora, just recently returned from Kimball county, where she has been visiting for the past month with friends. She recently graduated in music, and the hard and close application of such work slightly impaired her health, and the month's vacation in the west has greatly benefited her.

THE FAILURE OF CROPS IN OKLAHOMA STATE ALMOST COMPLETE

Mr. Peter Volk of near Renfrow, Oklahoma, who is here for a short time, states that in the section where he is located the crops this year were almost a complete failure and that the farmers there will be compelled to purchase feed for their stock from outside, as they did not raise enough of their own for even that purpose. The wheat crop was very poor and the blistering heat of the summer put the corn crop clear out of business, making the conditions very hard on the farmers. Mr. Volk has resided there for several years, and in the past has had splendid crops, but the past summer, which was one of the hottest and driest in the west for years, completely cleaned them up. In addition to the loss of his crops, Mr. Volk has just been visited by that severest of losses, that of his beloved helpmate, and he is almost persuaded to abandon farming, as the loss of his wife was a very severe blow to him.

ELMWOOD. Leader-Echo.

Marjorie and Sumner Hall arrived Thursday evening from South Dakota for a few days' visit with relatives and friends here.

Miss Chapman, Miss Nettie Stanford and Aunt Manta Shull, spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Robb, at Union.

Misses Cora and Freda Mueller of Union, were Sunday guests at the home of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Mueller.

Walter Stolz and family, of Millford, are enjoying a few days' visit with Mr. Stolz's sister, Mrs. C. D. Kunz, Jr., and other relatives.

Si Mairs came home from Omaha Saturday evening where he had been in a hospital after an operation on one of his eyes, which is much improved.

L. A. Tyson returned Monday night from a trip to Broken Bow Nebr., where he registered in the government's Cherry, Grant and McPherson counties land opening.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Williams and daughter, Mrs. Sidney Lowell returned to their home at Fairbury Wednesday, after a short visit with relatives and friends in Elmwood and vicinity.

Elder L. W. Myers has been hired for another year as pastor of the Church of Christ, and we congratulate the church congregation upon having his able services for the next twelve months.

Dr. Van Fleet took his Sunday school class to Weeping Water Saturday morning where a picnic was enjoyed in the woods near town. Dinner was carried to the scene of frolic and properly disposed of at the noon hour. Mrs. Van Fleet accompanied the crowd and kept things in order.

GERMAN DAYS A BIG SUCCESS IN PLATTSMOUTH

The German race, the German wife and mother. The program of speaking was added to by the rendition of several pleasing musical numbers by a sextet of vocalists from Omaha, and their offerings were most pleasing to the audience and they were compelled to respond several times to encores.

Otto Kinder of Omaha, one of the leading representatives of the race in the metropolis, was next introduced by Mayor Sattler, and he delivered a most pleasing address in his native tongue, in which he urged loyalty to their adopted country on the part of the Germans and also the teaching and use of the German tongue in the homes of those of German extraction. After the program of speaking the large crowd spent the time most pleasantly in visiting with each other and the exchange of greetings on this most pleasant occasion.

The most pleasing and delightful feature of the celebration of this festive occasion was given at the Parmele theater last evening, when the company of talented vocalists from the metropolis were heard in concert by an audience that filled the Parmele to almost its entire seating capacity, and the program was one of the most pleasing that has been given here by any musical organization. The singers who were here are certainly artists in every sense of the word, and the basso, Mr. Peter Loch, is undoubtedly the finest that ever sang before a Platts-mouth audience.

The program of the evening was opened by a selection by the male quartet, "Out in the Wild Wood," that was given in a most pleasing manner and reflected great credit upon the singers. One of the most delightful numbers given on the program was the solo by Frau Icken, who possesses a remarkably clear and strong soprano voice, and her selection was heartily endorsed by the delighted audience and the charming singer gracefully responded by giving a selection in English which was received with applause. The male quartet gave a number of very delightful numbers during the course of the evening, all of which were most enjoyable to the large audience. The trio by Frau Icken, Mr. Loch and Mr. Lehmann, was one of the most beautiful of the entire program and the splendid voices of the singers blended most harmoniously in the sweet melody of their selections. Mrs. Langhorst of Omaha favored the audience with a very difficult and beautiful selection on the clarinet, and her playing of this instrument was such as to bring out many tributes to her skill as a musician. The musical program was under the direction of Prof. Theodore Reese of Omaha, one of the most talented German musicians in the west, and his wonderful skill was shown last evening as he played the accompaniment for the different musical numbers in a masterly manner and his work in assisting in the concert contributed greatly to making it the splendid success it was. The comical musical sketch given as the closing number of the program, was most laugh-provoking and earned for the artists taking part the most hearty applause of the audience. The company of musicians that appeared here last evening were most fortunate in having with them Carl Gloe, one of the finest baritone soloists in the metropolis, as well as Ferdinand Lehman, who possesses a splendid high tenor voice, and these gentlemen aided very much in making the concert a success and their numbers, as well as those of the other members of the company, will be long remembered by the music-loving public of the city as some of the best ever given here.

After the concert at the theater a most pleasant social dance was given at the German Home for the visitors, and the local members of the different German societies, and a very enjoyable time was had until the approach of the midnight hour brought to a close the German Day festivities in this city. The great success of the occasion assure that the day will be made a permanent feature in this city, and as the celebration this year was far ahead of last year, so it is hoped the one next fall will surpass that of this season.

Best-Hated of Farm Tasks

IN the spreaderless farm the thought of the great heaps of manure piling up constantly in barn yards, stables, and stalls, is a gloomy one. Those piles mean much disagreeable and hard work. It must all be loaded on high wagons. It must be raked off in piles in the fields. Then every forkful must be shaken apart and spread.

Compare that old-fashioned method with the I H C spreader way. You pitch the manure into the spreader box, only waist high, drive out and—the machine does all the rest. And it spreads evenly and far less wastefully.

I H C Manure Spreaders are farm necessities. The man who uses one will get the price of it back in increased crops before its newness has worn off.

Every detail and feature counts. They do best work always and stand every strain for years. They are made in all styles and sizes, for small farms and large, low and high machines, frames of braced and trussed steel. Uphill or down, or on the level, the apron drive assures even spreading, and the covering of corners is assured by rear axle differentials. In all styles the rear axle is placed so that it carries near three-fourths of the load. This, with the wide-rimmed wheels with Z-shaped lugs, makes for plenty of tractive power. Winding of the beater is prevented by large diameter and the beater teeth are long, strong and chisel pointed.

The I H C spreader lines will interest you. See them at the local dealer's. Get catalogues from him, or write us.

CONFIDENCE MAN WORKS A VERY SMOOTH GAME

Only Apprehended After Swindling the Unsuspecting Out of the Sum of $50,000.

A story of a very clever confidence man was told yesterday by Car Foreman W. Parks of Sheridan, Wyoming, to the Journal reporter. It seems that a very clever and nice-appearing gentleman arrived in Sheridan some months ago with credentials that gave him a good standing in the community at once, and he did not lose any time in getting busy on his proposition.

There had been some excitement in that part of the country over the discovery of oil gushers near Caspar, Wyoming, and the gentleman at once confided to the people of Sheridan, and by the way, the genial foreman of the Burlington car shops was one of these, the fact that he would be able to locate oil claims for the purchasers of his patent rights to the oil lands, and this for the small sum of $150. The man was hardly able to furnish the titles to the land fast enough and he was sent to Caspar by the purchasers of the so-called oil lands to pick out extra nice locations for them in the vicinity of a large gusher that they all knew was a fine proposition.

The purchasers of the patent rights all had visions of great wealth that they would secure, when their dream was rudely shattered by a farmer residing in the western part of this state. He had been taken up by the second of the confidence men on the same proposition and had written to Caspar to find out from the recorder of that county, the exact location of his claim, but in his inquiry he stated the claim could be found in book No. 3 in the recorder's office, and he was notified that they were not using book No. 3, but were still in book No. 1. This made the man suspicious, and a closer investigation showed that all the claims sold were forgeries, and the only thing the purchasers had was some paper worth only a few cents.

The man was caught a short time afterwards at Butte, Montana, but not until he had secured $50,000. Mr. Parks says if there is any gold brick or mining stock men operating here to send them out to Sheridan.

From Nehawka.

That excellent old gentleman and mighty good friend of the Journal, John N. Schwartz, from near Nehawka, was here Saturday in attendance at the German Day celebration, and while here paid the Journal office a pleasant call. He is now engaged in painting the residence of W. F. Gil, Jespie at Mynard. While here he ordered a copy of the paper sent to Louis Algier, at Menomonee, Wis., for one year.

J. G. Koch of Havelock was in the city yesterday visiting with his friends and looking after business matters. Mr. Koch has just taken charge of the Budig cigar factory in Havelock and is placing the business in good shape. He returned to his home this morning on the early Burlington train.

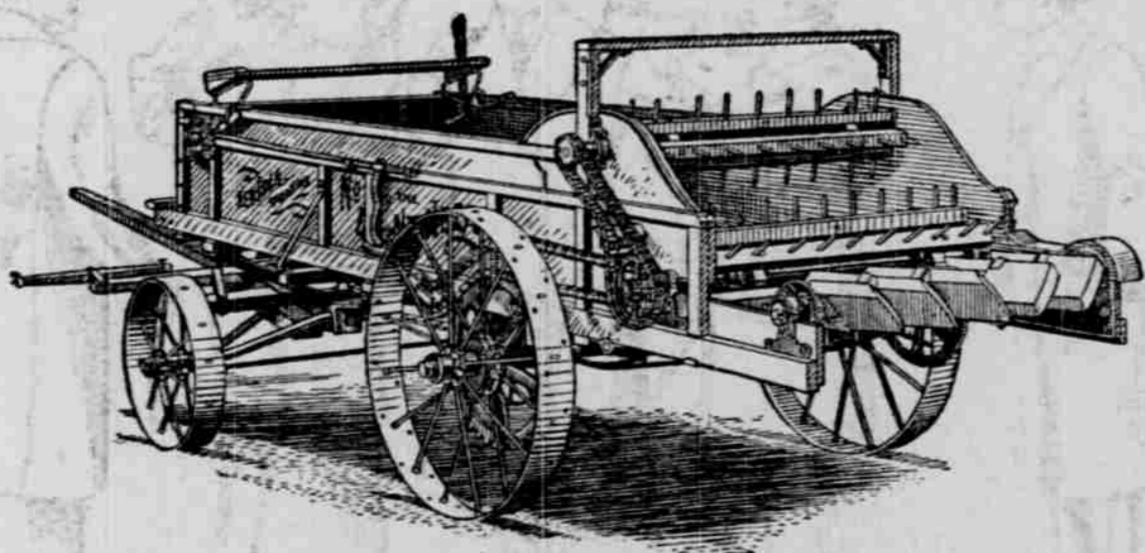

Business Man Praises Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy

Successful Merchant After Investigation Found a Remedy That Restored His Health.

"This is Thanksgiving day in the state of Pennsylvania, and I want to devote a part of it in writing a letter to you. On the 24th day of November, 1910, I was stricken with heart trouble. My family physician called it Angina Pectoris. I had from one to five attacks in 24 hours, in the latter part of December, 1910. I wrote to the Miles Medical Co. for information concerning my case, and in reply I received a very kind and instructive letter, which I handed to my family doctor, and he told me to use your remedies in connection with the medicine he gave me, so I did. I used five bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy and seven bottles of Dr. Miles' Nervine. I was confined to the house for about four months. The action of my heart is now, and has been normal for the last six months. I can truly recommend Dr. Miles' Nervine and Heart Remedy to do what they are intended for, if used according to directions. I thank you kindly for your advice in answer to my monthly reports. I am now sixty-seven years of age, have been in the mercantile business for thirty-five years and lived retired for the last thirteen years."
