DIAZ LANDS AT VERA CRUZ

Mexican General Ignores Advice to Continue Voyage.

REQUESTED TO KEEP MOVING.

Agent of Government Suggests He Go on to Tampico—Madero's Brothers Arrested at Monterey, Charged With Complicity in Revolutionary Plot.

Vera Cruz, Mex., Oct. 23.—General Felix Diaz landed here from the steamship Corcovado without hindrance. He was cheered as he came ashore by several hundred people of the working class, who had gathered on the quay. He went immediately to the residence of his mother-in-law.

He said in reply to inquiries that he would not withdraw from the presidential candidacy even though he were competing against the Huerta ticket.

An agent of the Mexican government called on General Diaz while he was still on board the steamer and attempted to induce him to continue his voyage to Tampico, but General Diaz refused to do so.

According to reports current here, Diaz is likely to return to Havana aboard a Mexican warship, and, unless the orders from the capital are altered, he will be left no choice.

General Diaz was to have been notified on the high seas of the government's wishes, but the captain of the gunboat Zaragoza, who put to sea in the middle of the night, with Colonel Viadaurazaga, secretary to the minister of war, to whom the mission had been entrusted, lost his course. A new captain for the Zaragoza was named.

TELLS OF "OTHER MAN" IN EATON CASE

Witness Says Alleged Lover Wanted Wife to Leave Admiral.

Plymouth, Mass., Oct. 22.—A reference to a "wealthy lover in Chicago," who wanted Mrs. Jennie May Eaton to leave her husband, was introduced by the prosecution as showing a possible motive in the trial of Mrs. Eaton, charged with the murder of her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton.

The evidence was given in the testimony of Mrs. Marshall Bursley of Washington, D. C., who said that eight months before the death of the admiral, Mrs. Eaton told her of the Chicago man and his proposal.

According to Mrs. Bursley, Mrs. Eaton did not disclose to her the name of the alleged lover, but said that he owned much property and had promised to leave it all to her.

Mrs. Eaton told the witness that Admiral Eaton had attacked her several times at night and at one time she awoke to find him injecting medicine into her arm.

EAST ST. LOUIS GRAFT SCANDAL

Twenty-three Former City Officials Indicted.

MORE BILLS TO BE RETURNED

Prosecutor Says Action of Grand Jury is Forerunner of Other Exposures. City Is Over Two Hundred Thousand in Debt.

St. Louis, Oct. 23.—The indictment of twenty-three former officials of East St. Louis, Ill., on charges growing out of an investigation of alleged municipal irregularities was characterized by State Attorney Webb as the forerunner of other indictments.

Those indicted include Charles S. Lambert, mayor in 1911-12; M. E. Gerold, former city treasurer; W. M. Rodenberger and John J. Faulkner, who was former city comptroller; L. J. Griggsby, present chief of detectives; Dr. Lemuel Short, former health commissioner; Daniel G. Wuersch, former superintendent of streets; J. Edmiston, former assistant superintendent of streets; John D. Young, former deputy building inspector, and former Aldermen Tietje, Gavin, Hahn, Leckel, Malinos, Priwer, Shiosbach, Runtz, Roche, Rouge, Degen, Sheer, Brown and Huschel.

Among the allegations supported by evidence introduced before the grand jury were the following:

Two Hundred Thousand in Debt. That East St. Louis was more than $200,000 in debt.

That during the Lambert administration warrants were issued for large sums of money for the payment of city officials who had contracts with the city in violation of law.

Many of those indicted, including Lambert, Gerold, Rodenberger, Faulkner, Griggsby, Short and Wuersch, are charged with conspiracy to defraud the city of $100,000. The fourteen former aldermen are charged with conspiracy to defraud the city of $25,000. In addition, Gerold and Rodenberger are charged with embezzlement and Griggsby is charged with burglary and larceny.

The $100,000 conspiracy charge, it is believed, refers to irregularities in the health and street departments. Claus E. Tietje, former chairman of the council claims committee, it is alleged, was paid hundreds of dollars monthly on statements that he had furnished supplies to the city hospital. Some of these bills were rendered, it is claimed, when there were no patients in the hospital.

Interested in Contracts. Other city officials also are alleged to have been interested in contracts with the city.

The $25,000 conspiracy charge is believed to cover an appropriation for a trip by members of the council to Buffalo and other eastern cities in September, 1912, and appropriations for salaries illegally paid to councilmen. Many of the indicted men gave bond. The investigation came as a result of charges of graft published in a St. Louis newspaper and began after a former member of the city council had signed a sworn confession.
