IN PLATTSMOUTH FORTY YEARS AGO

Items of Interest to Old and New Residents of City Which Were New Forty Years Ago.

Mr. Lewis H. Young leaves us the first real ripe new apples of the season and delicious fruit they were, too; real harvest apples.

Miss Ella Crocker, a well known vocalist, has returned to Plattsmouth for a short visit.

Arthur Mills, a regular Yankee boy, formerly at the B. & M. R. R. office, returned to old Massachusetts last week. We are very sorry to lose Mr. and Mrs. Mills; they were very pleasant neighbors.

We are sorry to learn that Mr. M. H. Hathaway, formerly connected with this paper, now of Seward, while riding with another gentleman near that place, was somewhat injured by the horse backing off a bridge some fifteen feet high.

Our old friend and townsman here, M. H. Hathaway, has sued the county of Seward for $21,000 damages because of an imperfect bridge, and the two other men who were dumped off the bridge with him have each sued for $1,000.

In speaking of the Trunk road, the Nebraska City News says: "A connection with Plattsmouth is of no particular importance to us; and any attempt to secure bonds either in Cass or Otoe for such river bank line would be futile."

If some young newspaper fledgling had written the above we should not wonder, but we are informed that the News' men are old Nebraskans, and how any man who has sense and has watched the effect of railroads on his state can pen such nonsense is beyond our comprehension.

Two boys in for horse stealing, broke jail at this place on Tuesday evening, their names are Thomas Keeler and Willis R. Goodell. They unlocked the door of that old cell somehow, the sheriff thinks by outside aid.

That old jail is a perfect nuisance, it won't hold butter when its warm and is no more account to Cass county when a horse thief comes around than a log hog-pen would be.

county seat fight on her hands, the people of Cass, and many in Otoe keen for this move, no editor with horse sense would write that Nebraska City had no interest in the Trunk line above their own limits.

The city council scrubbed the stairs. Oh! how nice, to get ready for the crusaders Saturday night. That's one good job the ladies have caused to be done.

Kicked by a Horse—On Tuesday, October 27, Mr. Ellis, who drives the stage between here and Foldenville, was kicked by horse just below the cap of the knee, the cork of the shoe penetrating the flesh to the bone, injuring him badly.

a week at a time. The sheriff offers $25.00 apiece for these boys, and Mart is out with that new breech-loader, besides, look out.

We took a passing survey of Mr. Lewellyn Moore's greenhouse the other day. He is slowly and surely working into a good business, and his greenhouse showed evidences of thrift and neatness. His prices are low and we advise all lovers of flowers to make him a visit, and inspect the many varieties of plants he has for sale.

Senator Hitchcock, the only Nebraska senator now alive and hearty, is at home in Omaha for a short time. We tried to coax him to come down to Plattsmouth, but he was afraid of the camp meeting fever breaking out on him. No danger; it never strikes a senator or governor. Nothing above congressmen.

For Sale. 240 acre farm, well improved. Two and a half miles from Alvo, Nebraska. Easy terms. $130 per acre. J. P. Rouse.

YOU'LL probably buy some clothes this Fall; and like a sensible man, you want as big value for your money as possible.

The only way to be sure of it is to think of quality more than price. There's a lot of fraud in clothes, cheap fabrics, cotton mixtures, stuff that looks pretty good when it's new, and sold at a temptingly low price. It won't pay you.

If you haven't become acquainted with the the real economy and the value-for-the money quality of our clothes, you've got something coming to you this season.

We want you to see the new Suits and Overcoats we're showing; new smart fabrics—all wool; new patterns, new models; the most stylish, most perfect clothes ever made.

Drop in here some day soon, and look at our Suits and Overcoats. You may see something in Hats or Furnishings that you need; we've got the right qualities here.
