Our teachers, Misses Rowena Pollard and Mable Adams, are taking in the meeting of the State Teachers' association in Omaha this week.

Alva Green, the Impersonator, the second number of the Lyceum course, will be here November 29—Saturday evening—in the Christian church.

What's become of the crack corn huskers this year? The corn fields, in tattered raiment and short on yellow corn, stand silent and unquestionable witnesses against the cheasty ones.

J. W. Edmunds is the proud possessor of thirteen nice shoats recently purchased from Mark Furlong. It looks like John does intend to go into the hog business.

Mrs. William Hendricks departed for her home on the early train Wednesday morning. Her daughter, Mrs. Charles Carroll, accompanied her as far as Omaha.

With a scarcity and the high price of corn, cattle feeders are as numerous as ever, and those who have purchased feeders understand the game and are not afraid to go up against it.

Members of the Missionary society are requested to bring their quarters, plus their gain, at the November meeting, that will be held at the H. C. Todd home Friday afternoon, November 14.

A. L. Baker informs us that he is in receipt of a letter from his wife, who has been confined to the St. Joseph's hospital in Omaha, that she is doing nicely and expects to be at home in a few days.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Christian church will be entertained by Mesdames Mira McDonald and W. F. Moore at the home of Mrs. McDonald, on next Wednesday afternoon. Everybody invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Dr. J. F. Brendel were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cook, near Alvo, Sunday. They report a fine time and about fifty guests present.

The Kenosha Whist club meets with Mr. and Mrs. Dee Shrader this (Thursday) evening. Mr. and Mrs. Mark White are to be initiated into full fellowship of the club.

Uncle George Shrader sold his last bunch of cattle to Mr. Creamer last week, consisting of 9 cows and 7 spring calves. Mr. Creamer says they are the finest bunch of cows and calves he has seen in a long time.

Joe Klein of Omaha made a business call here Tuesday in the interests of the Equitable Life Insurance company. Joe is one of the old-timers in Cass county, and his friends are always glad to see him.

The box social given at the Mt. Hope church by Miss Angie McCarron was well attended and a neat sum was realized from the sale of the boxes, and a pleasant and sociable evening was enjoyed by all present.

Mrs. Hayes, mother of Mrs. Creed Harris, passed away Monday afternoon at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Lee Farris. The remains were accompanied by Mrs. Creed Harris, Mrs. Ella Daniels and Vance Harris to Virginia, her old home.

Get on your bib and tucker. Get ready for the Thanksgiving dinner at Lewiston. To eat there will be all sorts of truck, such as chicken, goose and duck.

Walter Sans and wife, Bulah Sans and Henrietta Creamer attended Cal Stuart in "Running for Governor" at the Pamelas theater in Plattsmouth Monday night.

Mrs. Mira McDonald and Miss Willa Moore, of the vicinity of Murray, were visitors in this city yesterday afternoon. Nellie Hasenager, little granddaughter of Mrs. Allison, was taken to St. Joseph's hospital in Omaha this week, where she had both tonsils removed and an affection of the nose treated. The little one was attended by Dr. Brendel of Murray and Mrs. Allison of Plattsmouth.

When our best type of day laborers are supplanted by the "colored gentleman," as the case may be with the M. P. R., then becomes the true element of labor strife. The negro has as much right to live as any other human being, but we do not want him in Murray.

B. A. Root, our worthy druggist, spent Tuesday afternoon in Omaha, visiting with Walter Dickerson, who is playing "Old Rube" at the Orpheum. Mr. Dickerson is an old Murray boy of 18 years ago, and is a nephew of Mr. Root. While here he made his home with Uncle Jimmie Root. We are glad to see him come to the front, and feel proud of him. He will spend the day here before leaving Omaha.

Lee Kniss, who has charge of the rural mail route out of Murray, furnishes us the following report of the business done for October, 1912, and also for October, 1913: During October, 1912, there were 7,003 pieces of mail handled, the weight of which was 984 pounds and 5 ounces. In the same month this year 7,842 pieces, weighing 1,245 pounds, was handled. The gain over the month of October, 1912, is 837 pieces, and 200 pounds in weight.

Murray Boy Makes Good.

Dr. B. F. Brendel and wife, Drs. J. F. and Will Brendel and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Seybolt and B. A. Root went to Omaha Tuesday to visit with Walter L. Dickinson, a former Murray boy, who is making good on the Orpheum circuit in the character of "Rube," and who is playing at the Orpheum in Omaha this week.

Mr. Dickinson made his home while in Murray with Uncle Jimmie Root, and was reared to early manhood by that gentleman, leaving here eighteen years ago. He was greatly pleased with the visit of his Murray friends and an elegant dinner was ordered at the Schlitz hotel for the whole party, at his expense, and the scenes of earlier days was the chief topic of conversation. All returned home greatly delighted with their visit.

Horses and Mules for Sale.

Just received, 45 head of good horses and mules, unbranded and mostly broke, that are for sale at prices that are plumb right.

Frank Vallery.

Corn Dinner and Supper.

The Library association will give a corn dinner and supper at the library Saturday and Sunday evening, November 15. Come and see how many good dishes can be made out of "Indian Maze." "Samp" will be one of the main dishes. The menu will be something like this: Corn-fed beef; cornbread; samp; scolloped corn; fried mush; hominy; dried corn; pudding and whipped cream; coffee, etc.

Supper—Chicken; roast beef;

potatoes; apple salad; succotash; fruit; cake; coffee. The committee in charge will do all they can to make the day a pleasant one, and we hope for your liberal patronage.

Wedding Anniversary.

On the evening of October 30 about thirty of Dr. and Mrs. Gilmore's friends gathered in ghostly fashion to celebrate their twelfth wedding anniversary. The doctor was away on a call, and Mrs. Gilmore and the children were spending the day and early part of the evening with Mrs. Gilmore's parents. The merry-makers gathered in the house with sheets over them and awaited their coming, and Mrs. Gilmore and the children came first, and when she turned on the lights some thirty ghosts met her gaze. After attempting to guess the invaders, the guests laid aside their robes and started in for a good time. The most amusing feature of the evening was the bride and groom of 12 years ago appearing in their wedding clothes. The doctor had outgrown his vest about a foot, but with the aid of a shoe string and some artistic lacing done by James Holmes, this same vest resembled an old-fashioned bodice and added greatly to his appearance. With Pauline Oldham as bridesmaid and James Holmes as best man, and L. D. Hiatt, whose hair suddenly turned red and bald in places, caused by the wearing of a wig, as the minister, the marriage ceremony was again repeated, and they took onto themselves many new vows. Refreshments were then served and it was a late hour before the guests departed.

A Fine Entertainment.

Mesdames James Loughbridge, W. S. Smith and G. W. Boedecker gave a plate supper for the Missionary society at the home of Mrs. Boedecker Tuesday evening. The supper was delicious and well worth the 25 cents, but the service was even more. One was met at the door by a colored butler, ushered in, your wraps taken, the chair dusted and the tempting supper set before you—in fact, all that was really necessary for one to do was to swallow. The butler and the two colored waiters are best known as James Holmes, W. S. Smith and Glen Boedecker. Mrs. Gilmore, Miss Lorietta Walker and Miss Mae Loughbridge furnished the music throughout the evening. All-in-all, it was a very enjoyable and profitable affair.

Branching Out.

R. C. Bailey, the Eight Mile Grove blacksmith, was in the county seat last Saturday looking after some business matters, and was a pleasant caller at this office, and in addition to renewing for his paper, we fixed him out with a supply of letterheads and envelopes. R. C. Bailey is one of the boss blacksmiths of the county, and in addition to a big business in this line, he has added the automobile business, and will secure all lines of repairs and supplies, as well as making a specialty of making repairs on all kinds of cars. He is a good workman and will no doubt give satisfaction in the auto line.

Entertains Glee Club.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Rhoden entertained the Lewiston Glee club Wednesday, and a very pleasant and enjoyable evening was spent by those present. Mr. Minett, an excellent musician, was present, and gave several violin selections, which were much appreciated. Mrs. Rhoden served a delicious lunch, which added to the pleasures of the event. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. L. McVey, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Crunk, Willa Moore, Wayne Lewis, Fritz Tigner, Lloyd Lewis, Etta Nickels, James Tigner, Tony Klein, Harry McVey, Mae Lewis, James McVey, John Merritt, Roy Cline and Ruth Cline.

Dance on November 15th.

The T. J. Sokol society will give another social dance at their hall on Saturday evening, November 15th, to which the public is cordially invited.

Two Halloween Parties.

A very pleasant Halloween social gathering of eighty was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson Friday evening. The affair was originated, planned and carried out by their neighbors. The evening was spent in games, music and dancing, with midnight refreshments served in Boston lunch style. It was pronounced an eminent success by all the participants and all departed feeling that it was an evening well spent from a neighborly and social standpoint.

Mr. and Mrs. John Murley entertained at a Halloween party on Friday evening in honor of the Woman's Reading club and their husbands. The house was decorated throughout with Halloween colors, yellow chrysanthemums being used in the dining room. On their arrival the guests all masked as ghosts and were then bidden to follow the spirit of Halloween, who led them around the rooms, upstairs, downstairs and finally into the cellar, where they all assembled around a fire and listened to a weird song sang by one of the ghosts. Miss Flo Boyles, dressed as a witch, amused the guests by her fortune telling. After various games an elegant two-course luncheon was served by the hostess. About 50 guests were present.

MISS EMMA MYERS SELLS MILLINERY STOCK

The millinery store which has been operated in this city for the past few years by Miss Emma Myers, was today sold to Mr. F. E. Waters, who will install his sister, Mrs. Emma Pease, here as manager. The new management will at once go after the millinery business of the city by offering a special sale on all their lines of hats in order to close them out and prepare for the new stock. The new owner of the store comes well recommended and will prove an excellent addition to the business interests of the city.
