

BILLY SINGLE CLIFFORD AT THE PARMELE NOV. 15

One of the Finest Musical Comedies
That Ever Entertained a
Plattsmouth Audience.

Billy (Single) Clifford, in "Believe Me," his new musical satire, will be seen at the Parmele theater Saturday night, November 15. This piece is the very latest style, and as an entertainment of the highest class. The foundation of it is a farce, full of complications and ludicrous predicaments. To this is added a dozen songs of the popular style and a company of elegantly gowned young women, who can sing and dance, and who are pretty and sprightly. Billy (Single) Clifford, who is starring in the piece, is too well known to need any introduction. He has been on the vaudeville stage for many years as one of the brightest and cleverest singers and dancers, and he has a style and manner all his own. In his present vehicle he has a role that fits his personality to a nicety, and it is one in which he shines with great brilliancy. The story of the piece has to do with a young man who goes in quest of a young lady whose father is a German who has lately obtained great wealth and wants his daughter to marry into the nobility, and at the same time has advertised for a butler, but of course he gets mixed up in all sorts of funny predicaments and has all sorts of trouble before the plot is finally untangled. Mr. Clifford is seen as the young Englishman and he is given many brilliant lines and he is caught in many tight places. There is a love story running through the piece, also, and it forms one of the very interesting features of the attraction. Mr. Clifford has surrounded himself with a good company. Miss Ida May is a singer of real songs and has had much experience in musical comedy. She has a fine voice and a splendid stage presence. Dainty Mae Collins, the soubrette, is a clever mimic of Scotch songs, and has gained much distinction on the vaudeville stage. The three Weston sisters, one of the Orpheum's best musical acts, and Mr. Gale. These and others who charmingly sing and dance, provide an evening's entertainment long to be remembered. "Believe Me."

DEATH OF COL. R. A. WILKINSON

Robert A. Wilkinson of Dunbar, one of the best known men of this county, passed away at his home at Dunbar Friday night, after an illness of some time. He was taken sick some months ago, but was able to be about and look after things, but gradually failed and was taken to his bed over a month ago. It was thought he could be cared for better at the hospital here and he was brought to this city, but he longed for his home and was taken back there about 10 days ago and gradually grew worse. He suffered from heart trouble of late and despite the efforts of his physicians and kindly ministering hands of his devoted wife and many friends and relatives, he passed to his reward last evening.

He was born in Illinois something like 48 years ago and took up the calling of an auctioneer and was a decided success in his chosen profession. He came to Dunbar in 1896, where he met and married Miss Margaret McAlister, who survives, as well as two daughters, Audra, 16, and Mildred, 10. He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Mildred Graham, of Avoca, and a brother, James Wilkinson, of Ardmore, Oklahoma. He was a member of the Ben Hur and Woodmen of America orders.

He was of a jolly and jovial nature and made friends wherever he was and held in high esteem by everyone. He was charitable to a fault and a devoted father and husband. His many friends will deeply mourn his death.—Nebraska City News.

The funeral of this popular and highly esteemed gentleman was held at his old home at Dunbar on Sunday, conducted by Rev. J. B. Giffen of the United Presbyterian church, and was attended by a vast number of friends from both Cass and Otoe counties, as well as "Bob," as he was familiarly called, was known he commanded a vast number of friends.

Will Go to Wausa.

From Friday's Daily.
Mrs. Emil Holmberg of Wausa, Nebraska, came in last evening and will visit here for a few days at the home of her husband's parents, who are both quite well along in years and in poor health. If the condition of Mrs. Holmberg, sr., will warrant, they expect to all go to Wausa, where the old folks will spend the winter with their son and family.

Dance Thanksgiving Eve.

The Cosmopolitan club of this city will give a dance on Wednesday evening, November 26, at Coates' hall. This will be in the nature of a harvest dance and will be given on Thanksgiving eve.
