New Postmaster.

Our neighboring city of Weeping Water is to have a new postmaster in the near future, as the dispatches in the daily papers this morning indicate. Congressman Maguire has recommended to the president the appointment of J. I. Corley as the postmaster at that place to succeed George H. Olive, the present incumbent. The plums in the First district have been ready for shaking for a long time, and the congressman has begun to get busy with the big stick. Mr. Corley will doubtless make a very good man for the position and see that the interests of the patrons of the office are well taken care of.

Mr. Lorenz has remodeled the house and will have it fixed up in the latest style, which will make him a most comfortable home and add greatly to the appearance of the property in that section of the city. ### ARRIVAL OF BROTHER OF FRANK SLAVICEK DIRECT FROM AUSTRIA-HUNGARY

From Tuesday's Daily. This morning Anton Slavicek arrived in this city, coming from his home in Austria-Hungary, to pay a visit to his brother, Frank Slavicek, in this city. Mr. Slavicek is a very polished gentleman and speaks very fluently Bohemian, German, English, French and Spanish and has been in the service of the royal family of Austria, being attached to the services of a sister of the Emperor Francis Joseph II. He came in this morning on the early Burlington train, and did not at first realize that he had arrived at the end of his long journey and would have continued on to Omaha had not Edward Donat, who was at the depot, caught sight of him and at once ascertained his identity and notified the family, who were all at the depot, and a very enjoyable reunion was had between the relatives, who had not seen each other for many years.

"JOHN BARLEYCORN" HAS TWO MORE VICTIMS BEFORE THE POLICE JUDGE

From Tuesday's Daily. The court of Judge M. Archer yesterday presented its usual lively Monday appearance, as a number of celebrators were hauled forth to receive their doses of justice at the hands of the judge. George Young was the first victim of "John Barleycorn" to come to the attention of the court, and this was easily settled, as Young had put up a cash bond with the police yesterday for his appearance and failed to answer the roll call yesterday morning at the court room, and the city strong box was enriched by the $5 which he had put up and George apparently has sought more congenial climes than Plattsmouth.

"Cub" Lambert was another of those who had partaken of the cheering cup too freely and had been gathered in by the police for safe-keeping. "Cub" is some corn shucker and he was hired to go out to the farm of Thede Amick, near Mynard, to work, and in order that the work might not suffer, Mr. Amick went his bond for his appearance here next Friday for trial, and he was allowed to go out to the farm to take up the corn shucking stunt for a few days and will then receive his lurch of justice for his over-indulgence in intoxicants.

FINE LECTURE TO THE BIBLE CLASS

Prof. F. M. Gregg of Peru Normal School Furnishes the Young Men a Rare Treat.

From Tuesday's Daily. There was a large crowd of young men present last evening at the Methodist church to enjoy the delightful lecture given before the Young Men's Bible class by Prof. F. M. Gregg of the Peru Normal, and there was no one present who did not feel that they had received an inspiration from the able address delivered by the gifted speaker of the evening, and his remarks were clear and forceful. Mr. Gregg took as his subject "The Cost of the Ethical, Moral and Commercial Gains of the Race," and he told in simple language of the advancement that each generation had made since the creation of mankind had begun, and the cost to the people of these generations in their raising of the standard of humanity. He told of the gain of the spirit of honesty through all the years and how the integrity of man was greater today and constantly growing better than it had been in the years gone by. The advancement of the doctrine of equal rights to man, of the advance of the Christian spirit and the worship of God, and the abandonment of the theory of a God of fear and the establishment throughout the world of the higher ideal of the God of love and mercy were touched upon by the speaker, and his clearness in showing the spirit of advancement showed to his audience the trend always toward the better things of life, and he impressed upon them that they, too, must attempt to do for themselves and their companies the service of striving for advancement. After the close of the interesting lecture the boys enjoyed themselves in singing several songs, and finally prevailed upon Prof. A. O. Eggenberger to deliver one of his very pleasing readings, which served to add greatly to the enjoyment of the young men fortunate enough to be present.

MAN CLAIMING PLATTS-MOUTH AS HIS HOME "BUNKOED" OUT OF MONEY

From Tuesday's Daily. The following special from St. Louis to the World-Herald gives the details of a smooth confidence game worked on a man named Adolph Smeahns, who gave his residence as Plattsmouth, Neb. Who Adolph is we were unable to learn, but he certainly done wrong when he deserted the peace and quiet of the small town for the pitfalls of a great city and should have taken a guardian with him on his tour.

Adolph Smeahns of Plattsmouth, Neb., resented the suggestion that he would keep money found by him without seeking the owner, and it cost him $23. He took a walk with a man who picked up a speaking acquaintance with him in Union station about 4 p. m., and after a walk of two or three blocks seeking "a glass of beer" they met another man.

"Ah," he began after scrutinizing Smeahns' face for a moment or two, "you're the man that found my $50."

"Not me," protested Smeahns. "I would return it if I did." "Count your money. I know I saw you pick it up," the man said. Smeahns counted $21. The man asked to be allowed to count it over. He did and slipped back a roll of paper surrounded by a $1 bill. Then the two left Smeahns.

From Saturday's Daily. The ladies of the Past Chiefs were entertained in a very charming manner yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harry Johnson, and the ladies of the society enjoyed the affair to the utmost. The occasion was in the nature of a kensington and the guests, who had brought their fancy work with them, passed the time in the making of many dainty articles and in pleasant social conversation. At an appropriate hour the hostess, assisted by Mrs. John Bauer, Mrs. George Thomas and Miss Ruth Johnson, served a most tempting three-course luncheon, which served to make the afternoon one of the most delightful that this society has enjoyed for some time and the guests were loud in their praise of the splendid manner in which they had been entertained at this most hospitable home. He was delighted to arrive back in this city, coming here from New York, where he landed a short time ago, and he expects to remain in this country for at least a year before he returns to the Fatherland.
