"A Winter Picnic."

Mrs. G. H. Gilmore and Miss Ida Boedeker were the leaders in arousing the old bunch of picnickers last Thursday afternoon, and it was a delightful day. To say the crowd enjoyed the afternoon would be needless. Those present were: Messrs and Messdames W. S. Smith, James Loughbridge, G. H. Gilmore, S. O. Pitman, Dick Pitman, Carl Weideman, O. A. Davis; Misses Roena Pollard, Mable Adams, Pauline and Fay Oldham, Ida Boedeker, Mae Loughbridge; Messrs. Albert Young, Rev. Hutchman.

CASS COUNTY ITEMS, PERU, NEB.

School Items. A basket social, preceded by a very entertaining program, will be given in the Murray public school building Saturday evening, December 13, 1913. Everyone is invited to attend. Ladies, bring your baskets; gentlemen, bring your pocketbooks.

The school pupils had a "clean-up day" last Friday afternoon. The yard received a thorough cleaning, which adds a great deal to its general appearance.

All grammar room pupils are requested to bring written excuses from parents in case of absence or tardiness.

The grammar room has a seventh hour, which is from 4 to 5 o'clock. This hour is for pupils who have to make up back work.

Those who have been prowling around the school building, doing damage to the school property inside and out, had better be a little more careful or they will be reported.

BAZAAR! Saturday, December 6, at the Presbyterian Church.

Fancy Work, Just the Things for Christmas Presents. Aprons, Rugs, Comforters and Many Other Articles. Candy and Popcorn Market. Booths Will Be Well Supplied With Many Things You Want.

Dinner, 25 cents; Supper, 25 Cents, and Also Fresh Oysters. Everybody Come.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Presbyterian church met at the church Tuesday, and if you ever gazed upon a busy lot of women, both old and young, they were right there at work on various articles for their bazaar, soap to be held. Lunch was served at the noon hour and we never seen so much to eat for 15 cents in many a day, and Miss Fay Oldham and Mrs. S. O. Pitman were responsible for the elegance of the entertainments. And if anyone asks, you can just quietly remark that Miss Oldham knows how to make biscuit. And that the writer knows good biscuit when he tries them. Take it as a whole, the lunch was a credit to Mrs. Pitman and Miss Oldham.
