A BEAUTIFUL HOME WEDDING DECEMBER 10

Only Relatives of the Contracting Parties Present to Witness the Nuptial Knot Tied.

A most beautiful wedding, at which only relatives were present, occurred Wednesday afternoon, December 10, 1913, at 2 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Guthals, when their daughter, Miss Emma, and Mr. Will Dreeszen were joined in wedlock. The couple, attended by Miss Martha Dreeszen, sister of the groom, acting as maid of honor; Miss Zena Flessner, bridesmaid, cousin of the bride, and Mr. Elmer Meisinger, best man, cousin of the groom, entered the parlor to the wedding march, "Message of Peace," played by Miss Elta Guthals, sister of the bride. They took their places beneath a large white wedding bell, where they were met by Rev. S. Keiser, who read the impressive marriage lines. The bride was attired in a silk chantilly lace over white messaline silk and carried lilies and ferns. The maid of honor was dressed in blue silk, and the bridesmaid in cream embroidered net. The groom wore dark blue and the best man dark brown. The color scheme of white and blue was used throughout in the decorations. Mr. and Mrs. Will Dreeszen left Thursday morning for Omaha and other points until Christmas, after which they will be at their home, southwest of Unadilla.

The out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Jake Best, Mrs. C. Jørgensen, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dreeszen and children of Iowa, Mr. and Mrs. John Dreeszen of Bennett, Mr. Elmer Meisinger and Mr. Will Hill of Plattsmouth, Neb., Louis and Alvin Guthals of Kansas, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ertl and daughter, Louis Wischmeyer and wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bartsch and family of Nebraska City, Miss Amanda Queller of Bermandia, Ohio.

One Who Was There.

Croup and Cough Remedy.

Croup is a terrible disease, it attacks children so suddenly they are very apt to choke unless given the proper remedy at once. There is nothing better in the world than Dr. King's New Discovery. Lewis Chamberlain, of Manchester, Ohio, writes about his children: "Sometimes in severe attacks we were afraid they would die, but since we proved what a certain remedy, Dr. King's New Discovery, is, we have no fear. We rely on it for croup, coughs and colds." So can you. 50c and $1.00. A bottle should be in every home. At all druggists. H. E. Bucklen & Co., Philadelphia and St. Louis.

FINE COMEDY TROUPE AT THE GRAND THIS WEEK

The Asher-Drew Stock company, which is appearing this week at the Grand theater, has been very pleasing to the audiences that have gathered at this popular playhouse. Monday evening for the opening bill they presented the screaming farce comedy, "Charley's Aunt," and last evening the company gave several pleasing vaudeville acts. Mr. Drew, who heads the company, is exceptionally clever in his song and dance specialties, and the entire company, numbering some five people, gave a performance far ahead of anything usually found in a moving picture playhouse. The Asher-Drew company will appear again this evening at the Grand.

A MYSTERY OF FORTY YEARS AGO

Forty-Year-Old Mystery Taken From the Newspaper Files of That Time.

Chas. McGowen, the subject of this narrative, was born in Marion county, Ohio, June 3, 1822. He removed to Indiana in 1836, to Illinois in 1864, to Nebraska in 1873, near Orleans, from there to Frontier county in November of the same year.

May 2, 1874, two men, who claimed to be herders, rode up to his dugout and informed him that they had killed and hung up an elk, three or four miles east of there, and that he might have it, if he would go and get it; they then went on their way up the creek. Mr. McGowen at once started his son, aged about 17 years, after the horses; he being gone some time the father became impatient and directing that the boy should follow him, prepared himself to go to the place on foot, taking two knives, one heavy rifle, a small ax, and a small buffalo robe, he started out, remarking that he could stand it any night with that robe without freezing; these it seems, were the last words spoken by him to his family.

His son coming home not long after, soon set out after him, riding one horse and leading the other; he says he tracked his father about two or three miles, then lost the trail, but was unable to find him anywhere, or at that time the elk either. Upon informing the neighbors they turned out en masse, but no trace could be found of the missing man.

Finally on the 5th day of August, two men while looking for grass to cut for hay, found his remains. A few articles taken to his family were readily identified. The next day two of the neighbors and myself repaired to the spot and collected the bones and clothing (the gun, knives, robe, etc., being nowhere to be found). We put them in a box, and the same day they were buried.

We carefully examined the skull and the shirt, to detect if possible any sign of violence, but aside from the work of the wolves nothing could be discovered. Suspicion is entertained by his family that there was foul play, but as yet the cause of his death remains a mystery.

I write this in hopes that someone who reads it may be able to give some information. If he was murdered we believe that "murder will out," and praying that it may we commit the case to Him who doeth all things well.

The dates and other information as to his disappearance I received from the bereaved widow. Truly yours, E. S. Child.

Constipation Poisons You.

If you are constipated, your entire system is poisoned by the waste matter kept in the body—serious results often follow. Use Dr. King's New Life Pills and you will soon get rid of constipation, headache and other troubles. 25c at Druggists or by mail. H. E. Bucklen & Co., Philadelphia and St. Louis.

A Delightful Scene.

A rich vineyard surrounded by hills and woods delights the eye of every lover of nature. The juicy fruit of European and American vineyards presented by lively maidens is both a delicacy and a nourishment. The hills and woods supply aromatic medicinal herbs and roots, which the skillful hand of the chemist combines with wine into Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine, the well known family remedy. This is shown in Triner's Wall Calendar for 1914. A copy mailed to any address upon receipt of ten cents. Sent to Jos. Triner, 1333-1339 So. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Miss Oliver Injured.

From Wednesday's Daily. Miss Carrie Oliver met with quite a painful accident this morning while preparing for the usual Christmas dinner at the Oliver home. Miss Carrie had passed into the pantry for some fruit which was packed in glass jars, and in returning she caught her foot in such a manner as to throw her violently to the floor, falling on the jars and breaking them. The broken glass cut her arm quite seriously, requiring numerous stitches to close up the wounds.

NO TRUTH IN A WILD-EYED RUMOR IN CIRCULATION

There was a report in circulation last evening and this morning on the streets to the effect that that Mrs. D. F. Kiser had been accidentally shot and killed at her home in the south part of the city, but the report seems to have originated in the minds of some persons with little regard for the truth, as a message from the Kiser home this morning states that there has been nothing of the kind at their home and there is absolutely no foundation for the wild-eyed rumor. It is strange how such reports get started, and each time they are told they are enlarged upon until a mountain has been evolved from a molehill. It will be a great relief to the friends of the Kiser family to learn that this report is untrue and that none of the family have met with any misfortune.

Fit His Case Exactly.

"When father was sick about six years ago he read an advertisement of Chamberlain's Tablets in the papers that fit his case exactly," writes Miss Margaret Campbell of Ft. Smith, Ark. "He purchased a box of them and he has not been sick since. My sister had stomach trouble and was also benefited by them." For sale by all dealers.

J. H. Bachler of Thurston, Iowa, and brother, Henry Bachler, of Chester, Wyoming, came over from the home of the former gentleman yesterday for a brief visit with old friends in Plattsmouth, taking the train this morning for Ashland, where they will spend Christmas with their sister, Mrs. Mary A. Derleth. This is Mr. J. H. Bachler's first visit to Plattsmouth this year, owing to having been suffering for the past few months with a severe attack of rheumatism. He spent some time with his brother in Wyoming, who returned to this section with him to spend the winter.

Mrs. Kate Bushousen and Louis Wolf of Ravenna, Neb., who have been here visiting at the home of their sister, Mrs. Dora Hess, for a few days, departed this morning for their homes.

Wiley-Hastings—At the residence of the bride's mother, by Rev. Mr. Cannon, Mr. James W. Wiley to Miss Martha Hastings, all of Cass county, Nebraska. And the editor can congratulate them most heartily, for didn't they remember him in some of the most luscious wedding cake we have seen for a long time; rich fruit cake, daintily frosted jelly cake and excellent spice cake flanked on every side by delicious grapes formed a pyramid seldom surpassed. May these things be typical of the good things that shall surround them throughout their days and may their shadow never be less.

M. L. White, our county commissioner, has almost given up the trunk road and says if he do no good on that business, he is about through with public life. If anything more can be done to further that interest and the interest of Plattsmouth he shall hold on; if not he intends to resign his county commissionership this summer and devote his whole attention to his business at Omaha. We should be sorry to lose Mr. White as a citizen.

Mrs. J. P. Ruby has gone to Ohio to spend five or six weeks and left Mr. R. to ruminate alone.

MRS. ROMAN, MOTHER

OF A. G. ROMAN, DIES IN SOUX CITY, IOWA

A message was received yesterday by A. G. Roman announcing that his aged mother was very low at her home at Souix City, and Mr. Roman at once left for that place. This morning the family received a message from Mrs. Roman, conveying the sad news that his mother had passed away last evening. Mrs. Roman was well advanced in years, and had she lived until February would have passed her ninetieth milestone, and despite her age was very active and was able to be up and around until a few weeks ago. She had been making her home with her son, G. J. Roman, in Souix City, for the past few years, and had been here several times on a visit with the family of her son. The funeral will be held Friday at the late home. Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Holmberg and Miss Ruth Roman will leave tomorrow to attend the funeral.
