PLATTSMOUTH NEB

MAY STEWART COMING TO THE PARMELE THEATRE FOR TWO PERFORMANCES

Contracts have been signed and all arrangements made securing the popular young actress, May Stewart, for two performances at the Parmele, presenting Victoria Hugo's dramatic triumph, "Lucrezia Borgia," Friday night, January 16th, and Shakespeare's greatest pastoral comedy, "As You Like It," for Saturday night, January 17th.

Miss Stewart plays only one night stands as a rule, although she carries both of these productions complete, giving the patrons their choice of plays. But owing to a sudden change in route in this territory the company was given two open dates, and Manager Shines has been fortunate to secure the attraction for the two nights. Attractions of this class are rare, and the theater-goers of Platts-mouth and neighboring communities may look forward to Miss Stewart's engagement as one of the principal events of the season.

MEETING FOR MEN AT METHODIST CHURCH

Eloquent Sermon Is Delivered by the Pastor, Rev. F. M. Druliner, Last Evening.

The meeting last evening at the Methodist church, to which the pastor, Rev. F. M. Druliner, had extended an invitation to the business men of the city, was attended by a very large congregation, which greatly enjoyed the splendid sermon delivered by the eloquent pastor of the church, and which made a deep impression upon everyone present. The text of the sermon was, "Thou Fool, This Night Thy Soul Shall Be Required," and dealt with the man who was a good citizen and provided for his family and who had accomplished much of the world's goods, but who had made his worldly success the chief feature of his life and who had fed his soul on the things of the world and who sitting in his chair dreaming of the new building he was to erect on his farm and of the pleasures it would give him, was summoned by the angel of death, who chided him by the words of the text, "Thou Fool, This Night Thy Soul Shall Be Required of Thee," and the man was called to face his Maker without preparation of his soul for the accounting for his stewardship during his days on earth.

The sermon was delivered in a clear and impressive manner and the truth of the speaker's statements brought home to his hearers. The choir of the church, consisting of some thirty-five voices, rendered a number of very pleasing selections, in keeping with the service, and which added greatly to the impressiveness of the pastor's remarks.

The meetings which are being conducted at the church each evening are growing, both in interest and in the numbers of persons attending, and much good is being derived from them.

His Stomach Troubles Over.

Mr. Dyspeptic, would you not like to feel that your stomach troubles were over, that you could eat any kind of food you desired without injury? That may seem so unlikely to you that you do not even hope for an ending of your trouble, but permit us to assure you that it is not altogether impossible. If others can be cured permanently, and thousands have been, why not you? John R. Barker, Battle Creek, Mich., is one of them. He says, "I was troubled with heartburn, indigestion and liver complaint until I used Chamberlain's Tablets, then my trouble was over. Sold by all dealers."

MYNARD. (Special Correspondent.)

Sam Goodman is building a new elevator for R. L. Propst's corn sheller.

William Wetenkamp and W. T. Richardson transacted business in Omaha last week.

William Fight, assisted by some of his neighbors, hauled hay from the Platte bottoms last week.

Charles Barnard shelled corn Saturday. Charlie believes in doing things at the right time and getting the right price.

Mabel Adams, teaching in the Murray school spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Adams, one and one-half miles east of town.

The 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Howard is quite sick. It is the wish of their many friends that the child will soon gain its usual good health.

Miss Florence and Robin Richardson visited their uncle, Mr. Frank Richardson and family, of South Omaha, Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Eva Porter has secured a very responsible position with the firm of Orchard & Wilhem of Omaha, who conducting a large wholesale house.

Continuation of nice weather is very pleasing to farmers in the saving of feed for stock, and those who have fuel to buy will have a saving in cash for some other use.

Several farmers joined in making a dam across Fight creek, with a view of cutting ice for summer use. However, the present outlook for storing ice is rather discouraging.

Preaching service at Liberty chapel was largely attended Sunday. The congregation was well pleased with the truths put forth by Rev. J. Eads, who is a very able speaker, and it would do you good to hear him. You will receive a hearty welcome if you attend these services Sundays at 11 a. m.

It seems that the Lincoln Telephone company has come across and reconsidered the act of not allowing a discount for the advance payment for rental service, as was the custom heretofore. This was proven by notices sent to patrons that they would accept as usual the old price. Opposition is the life of trade.

Some of the sophomores of the Platts-mouth High school are some hikers. Each week a hike to some remote corner of the county is planned, and they have become quite efficient in this respect. Mynard was the destination of the last hike. They are a jolly crowd of girls. Weeping Water or Union need not be surprised to have them invade their village in the near future.

THE BASKET BALL GAME AND DANCE AT GERMAN HOME

From Saturday's Daily.

Last evening at the German Home occurred the first basket ball game of the season, and at the opening contest the victory rested with the Platts-mouth boys, who were able to wrest the honors away from the Baraca team of the First Methodist church of Omaha, and while not in the best of trim the locals were able to pick up the victory by a score of 32 to 16 in a hotly contested game.

The starting of the game was delayed somewhat, as the Omaha players came down in automobiles and were delayed by the bad roads and failed to arrive here until about 9 o'clock, when the game was gotten under way. The result is very encouraging to the members of the team here, who look forward to a season of games that will place the team from this city in the front ranks of the leading teams of the state. Major Arries, Evan Noble, Byron Arries, Everet Noble, Floyd Stone and Frank Rebal represented the Turners, and they played a fine game and deserve a great deal of credit for the showing they made against their opponents, who have had a great deal of experience in the game this season, and in the future they should receive liberal patronage for their games, as they furnish an excellent class of basket ball. After the close of the game a social dance was enjoyed for a few hours, to the delightful music furnished by Ralph and Juno Marshal on the piano and drums.

ANNIVERSARY OF BLIZZARD OF 1888

Anniversary of Big Blizzard Today That Caused Heavy Loss of Life and Property.

Twenty-six years ago today, on January 12, 1888, the worst blizzard in the history of the state of Nebraska swept down upon this stretch of country and every part of the state felt the terrible force of the wintery winds and driving snow that cost many lives in the thinly settled northern and western part of the state. The day of the storm, as related by the older residents of the city, was a perfect day, with a balmy atmosphere and the temperature ranging at 20 above zero, and there was no indication of any approach of the storm until the weather bureau sent out a warning at noon of the near approach of the storm from the Rockies, and many were prepared for the worst, when at about 1 o'clock the storm, in all its fury, swept down and almost instantly the air was filled with the falling snow, driven by a terrific wind that made it impossible to see beyond a few inches in front of one and this condition of affairs caused untold suffering to many hundreds of unfortunate persons who were absent from their residences and attempted to reach their homes during the storm, and in many cases they were found days afterwards frozen to death within a few feet of their doors.

The storm continued all through the night of the 12th and the temperature sank to 18 degrees below zero and the dawn of the day after the storm revealed huge banks of snow piled high, and it was almost a week before traffic was resumed to normal conditions on the railroads and the country roads made passable for teams. The settling up of the state more thickly since that time seems to have had the effect of lessening the intensity of the blizzards, which in years gone by were looked forward to with dread by the residents of the state.

Intelligent people realize that common colds should be treated promptly. If there is sneezing and chilliness, with hoarseness, tickling throat and coughing, begin promptly the use of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It is effective, pleasant to take, checks a cold, and stops the cough which causes loss of sleep and lowers the vital resistance. For sale by all druggists.

COLDS TO BE TAKEN SERIOUSLY.
