S. V. Ives of Spokane, Wash., who has been visiting here, left on Monday for Sheandeah, Ia., to make a few days' visit.

John Clarence, jr., who has been spending the winter near Hartington, came in Tuesday night for a visit with his parents and other relatives and friends.

Mrs. Frank Freiburghouse came Tuesday from Rushville, Neb., to see her aunt, Miss Mac Clinkebeard, who has been very seriously ill the past few weeks.

G. W. Shrader and F. L. Rhoden came down from Rock Bluffs precinct Wednesday evening and joined the crowd that went to Nehawka to participate in the Masonic lodge meeting.

Edgar Merton went to Burlington Junction, Mo., last Friday and visited Everett Hunt, who is there taking treatment for inflammatory rheumatism. Mr. Hunt has been steadily improving and hopes to be permanently cured.

U. S. Town, who recently bought the G. H. Knight farm southwest of here, has taken possession and he and his family are comfortably settled in their new home, having moved in from South Omaha. Mr. Town was one of the welcome callers at this office on Tuesday.

George N. Lalue is another pioneer citizen who has been quite sick for several days, but we are pleased to learn that there is some improvement in his condition. His health has been failing somewhat the past few years, and the death of his wife two weeks ago added to his burden of sorrow.

Uncle Reuben Foster, who for a long time has operated a wagon shop here, has grown weary at the work and will hereafter make his home with Edwin Shoemaker and family on the farm southwest of town. Mr. Shoemaker bought the shop and equipments several weeks ago and is moving them out to the farm, where he will make use of them, and Mr. Foster will work in the shop only when he feels so inclined or a lazy spell coming on.

Mrs. E. L. Hunter is acting as substitute teacher for the primary room until Hazel Crew shall be able to return and take up her duties.

Will Jameson came in from the ranch at Sargent Monday afternoon. He reports things fine out here and says that the stock is doing fine so far this winter.

Mrs. B. U. Gortizer and children, of Havelock, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. McNurlin, from Friday until Sunday evening, Sunday being her father's seventy-third birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tighe of Havelock came down Friday for a visit with Manley relatives. Mr. Tighe returned home Monday evening, while Mrs. Tighe remained until Tuesday evening.

The guest of her friend, Mrs. A. M. Cole, in the east part of town.

Death entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fed Wildrick last Friday morning at 7:30, and claimed for his victim Grace May, the 10-year-old daughter, who died from the effects of scarlet fever after an illness of some time.

The funeral occurred Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

The Best Cough Medicine.

"I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy ever since I have been keeping house," says L. C. Hames, of Marbury, Ala. "I consider it one of the best remedies I ever used. My children have all taken it and it works like a charm. For colds and whooping cough it is excellent." For sale by all dealers.

NEHAWKA.

Albert Stoll's youngest child, a little girl, is quite sick with an attack of pneumonia.

Pete Opp went to Avoca Monday evening to see his sister, Mrs. Nutzman, who is quite sick.

William Carroll is able to be out again after a spell of sickness that kept him in bed a few days.

Henry Heebner was over from Murray Sunday and spent the day among his former playmates.

Fred Nutzman lost a small grip a couple of weeks ago and is wondering who found it. The grip was lost some place in Nehawka, as he got off the train with it.

C. A. Duckworth left Wednesday morning for Colorado Springs. He will visit the sanitarium while out there and be examined with a view to finding whether he is holding his own.

The road leading east to Rockport and on to Herman Schoemaker's, has been dragged recently until it is one of the best roads out of town. John Opp has caught the fever and talks in his sleep about road drags.

Mrs. B. O. Tucker is in Kansas, where she was called last week by the death of her father, John Norris. Mr. Norris was a former resident of this county and is well known here. His son, E. H. Norris, of the Avoca neighborhood, returned from attending the funeral Saturday.

Last Friday night timid people who heard a bombardment about 10 o'clock off to the west of Nehawka, got into their bombproofs; but it turned out to be a lot of young fellows, and old fellows, who were treating George Harshman, sr., to an old-fashioned charivari, he having been married recently. We did not learn the name of the lady or any of the particulars.

BUYING TO SAVE MONEY.

Buying Foley's Honey and Tar Compound saves money because just a few doses stops the cough and cold and one bottle lasts a long time. It quickly heals raw and inflamed surfaces, stops tickling throat, harsh, rasping coughs, croup, hoarseness, bronchial and la grippe coughs. For sale by all druggists.

Henry Elsen is here from Cheyenne county visiting his mother, Mrs. George Myers, and other relatives. In calling at the Courier office he reported everything in a flourishing condition in the west.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Williams was a most pleasant gathering Tuesday evening. The occasion was a farewell party given by the friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Williams, who leave soon for their new home in Alva.

James Izrim was called to Lawrence, Neb., the fore part of the week to the bedside of his mother, who is in a critical condition at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. M. Wiley, suffering from enlargement of the heart and old age. Mrs. Izrim is in her 78th year. She was a pioneer resident of this part of Cass county.

J. N. Jordan and wife were passengers this morning for Omaha, where they will visit for the day with the mother of Mr. Jordan's at St. Joseph's hospital, where he is taking treatment.

IN PLATTSMOUTH FORTY YEARS AGO

Items of Interest to Our Readers Gleaned from the Newspaper Files of Many Years Ago.

"Pierce," the well known ranger of the Bee, called on us Tuesday.

Messrs. Tomlin and Swearingen of Louisville were in town Saturday and report things flourishing in that place.

John Chilcott of Liberty called on the Herald Monday; a welcome visitor.

Mr. Doherty, the bishop's chaplain, preached at St. Luke's last Sunday, the Rev. Mr. Burgess being absent.

Fred Dorrington, rosy, robust, steel-ribbed, and cast iron, with strength and vigor, returned from his surveying trip last Saturday.

Charles T. Seeley and wife of Omaha have been here for a few days on a visit to friends.

J. M. Meisinger takes a Herald to read after this.

Walking into friend Buttery's store Tuesday we heard the following: "Dr. Stiles, put up this prescription; the doctor put her up, and the patient put her down, and the Herald walked out glad to hear that an old print had got promotion."

Every once in a while a handsome, rather portly, healthy-faced man comes back to see us and shakes the Herald heartily by the hand, which his name is Cap. Palmer.

We are glad to notice Thomas Mitchell's smiling face on our streets once again, after a long spell of sickness.

Mr. Christiansen and wife bade adieu to Plattsmouth yesterday, very much to the regret of his many friends here. Such citizens Plattsmouth can ill afford to lose.

Mr. Christiansen informs us he has no settled destination as yet, but will visit friends in eastern states for a time. The good wishes of their many friends here go with them wherever they may settle.

The Congregational church has been bought, replastered and refitted in good shape by the Christian denomination, who are going to dedicate the same on the third Sunday in this month.

Chancellor Benton of the state university will officiate, assisted by other distinguished men of the state. All are invited. A special invitation is extended to the ministers and churches of the city.

The father of Mr. Draper of Eight Mile Grove has been visiting his son the past week.

F. Wolcott, our Weeping Water neighbor, made glad the heart of the Herald man last week.

Our friend, Doly, still says he's "all hunk" over on the Iowa bottom, and though the waters may rage and the stumps grow fewer and fewer he still lives.

Ceph Metteer has purchased the old Bon Ton saloon, next door to the Saunders House, where he will be pleased to have his friends call and try his skill as a mixer of good drinks.

Julius Pepperberg, the cigar man, keeps two and three men constantly employed making cigars, and is rapidly pushing his trade out to Cheyenne and along the line of the U. P. Success to such men as Pepperberg.

We learn that Miss Marrett of Concord, Mass., who visited her sister, Mrs. Mills, in Plattsmouth a year ago, was married on the 31st ult. to a Mr. Denny. Her friends in Plattsmouth all congratulate the happy couple and wish them a long life of happiness.

A. G. Hall, the butcher, has been fixing up his meat shop very nice. Nice green wire blinds protect every door and window and keep all the flies out, so that the meat is pure and clean. His ice chest is a marvel of coolness and keeps both Hall and the meat from "spilling" before their time.

Prof. Wise has just returned from an extended trip "down east" as far as New Hampshire. He thinks that the times are no harder here than elsewhere, and that the people of Nebraska have great reason to be thankful that they have not got a large manufacturing population turned out of doors and out of work. Here at least, every man that wants to can get work and make a living any way.

Goon Heisel has four dogs, and last week they drank six glasses of beer between them. So says a brother Dutchman.

Joe Fairfield shot eight cranes last Friday week, and he and his brother brought them in on a pole, and it was all they could bring.

Last Saturday afternoon the household effects of the late Henry Amison were disposed of at public sale. Most of the articles brought a good price.

Two droves of fine cattle went through our city this week on their way to Chicago.

Morgan Waybright is having the rock hauled for the foundation of his new house, which he is going to build this spring.

Chauncy Wilcox, our well known surveyor, was admitted to the bar and proposes to practice law after this. No more boundaries, no Spencer rifles, no long tramps in "his'n" any longer, but by the quiet of his home fire, with his feet on the fender and his pipe in his hand, he will earn himself chuck full of knotty points and his eloquence shall resound in the halls of justice for evermore.

The old Brooks house is to be no more; while we welcome the new men, and the new name most heartily, we shall part with the old familiar sign with regret. It is identified with the past history of Plattsmouth, and with the fortunes of many of her past and present citizens.

O. S. Mann & Co. of Chicago have purchased the house of Mr. Fitzgerald and Major Hawley, one of the firm, will take charge and open the house. The new proprietors have already refitted and refurnished the place very largely and propose to make further improvements at once in order to put everything in first-class shape and make a first-class house of the old Brooks. We like the get-up and style of the new men very much, and think they will open a new era in hotelkeeping in Plattsmouth.

The beauty of the scenery around here, the fine drives, etc., ought to attract visitors and guests, and we believe the new hotel will do a slaying business under the new management. It is to be re-christened after one of Nebraska's most favored, popular and trusted of citizens, Governor Saunders; and we predict for the new name a full table and hosts of friends.

The deputy sheriff of Adams county was in town Friday.

Arthur Wintersheim, brother of "Jimmie," called around last Friday. He was on his way to Burlington, Iowa.

Clus, Driscoll, the well known architect, was in town yesterday viewing the spot and submitting plans for Mr. Fitzgerald's new mansion on the celebrated "Forty."

Miss Bennett is making a short visit to her friends in Plattsmouth. She sports business dress in Villisca. Her many friends will be glad to hear of her success there.

Bro. John Barnes has returned from Greeley, Colo., and reports Representative John Brown as improving in health and spirits.

Mrs. Capt. O'Rourke returned last week from a visit to Milwaukee, bringing with her her mother, to make them a visit in their new house.

All lower Plattsmouth is painting and fixing up. Bakery is making the old store over and it smells as sweet as new moon hay. Dog, Danetan has painted and painted, and Bro. Dewey has built a new rick sidewalk, so Ben Tempel says.

Peter Mann, our favorite milkman, has gone out of the business. We are very sorry to say. He was obliging, honest and kept good milk. All the babies' mothers loved it, for wasn't it "mum" milk and wouldn't it keep them quiet?

A stubborn, annoying, depressing cough hangs on, racks the body, weakens the lungs, and often leads to serious results. The first dose of Dr. King's New Discovery gives relief. Henry D. Sanders of Cavendish, Vt., was threatened with consumption, after having pneumonia. He writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery ought to be in every family; it is certainly the best of all medicines for coughs, colds or lung trouble."

Good for children's coughs. Money back if not satisfied. Price 50c and $1.00. At all Druggists, B. E. Burdick & Co., Philadelphia or St. Louis.
