THE PASSING OF MRS. GERTRUDE M. WILEY

Consort of Dr. William W. Wiley, Who Preceded Her Several Years Ago.

From Tuesday's Daily.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Gertrude M. Wiley was held yesterday from the Lewiston church near Murray, and the interment of this pioneer lady made in the cemetery near that place. The sermon was preached by Rev. William Van Buren of the Methodist church of Nehawka, who spoke comforting words to the sorrowing family and words of praise of the worthy lady who was called to her final reward at the close of a long and useful life. All that was mortal was borne tenderly to its last resting place beside that of the husband, who preceded her in death a number of years ago.

Gertrude Miranda Bell was born January 8, 1827, in Sussex county, New Jersey. The family moved to Ohio while she was still quite young, where she was reared to womanhood. On May 30, 1844, Miss Bell was united in marriage to Dr. William Washington Wiley, in the village of North Baltimore, Ohio. The young people, after marriage, decided to come west to make their home, and in May they arrived in Omaha July 4, 1857. In December, 1859, the family moved to Cass county, and resided there in the old homestead, where the husband and father passed to his reward and where on Sunday, February 8th, Mrs. Wiley departed this life at the ripe age of 87 years and 1 month. Grandmother Wiley was the mother of nine children, the husband and four of the children preceding her into the better world. Five children, Mrs. Hattie Allison, Mrs. Dove Asch of Cass county; Mrs. Lottie Daily of South Omaha, James Wiley of York, Nebraska, and Edward Wiley of Walla Walla, Washington, survive the death of the beloved mother. She also leaves ten grandchildren and ten great-grandchildren to mourn her loss. Mrs. Wiley was one of the early pioneers of Nebraska, coming overland by wagon in 1857, and it had fallen to her lot to see the wonderful growth and development of our state.

About two weeks ago she contracted a cold, which developed into bronchial pneumonia, which later caused her death, despite all that medical skill and loving hands could do to stay the ravages of the grim reaper. In the death of Mrs. Wiley the community in which she resided for so many years has lost a most worthy friend and counselor and her death will be the cause of a sense of deep grief throughout the county, where she had resided for so many years.

Mr. Nick Friedrich decided Sunday morning to go turkey hunting down in the Philpot neighborhood. So he proceeded to fill his buzz ear with the explosive material and drove over to his neighbor's and loaded in Mr. Frans and the Copenhaver boys of Syracuse, Neb., and off they started on high speed and spirits. After making a catch of a nineteen-pound gobbler and a little consolation, they decided to return by way of Union. In trying to make the hill just east of the above mentioned town the car became disabled and had to be abandoned. Mr. Friedrich, after scratching his head for a few moments, said: "Come on, boys, we will take to the Missouri Pacific. It goes right by our home." The result was they arrived home three and one-half hours late for dinner, somewhat tired and footsore.
