CHAPTER IX. A Bridgroom Spurred.

YOU know—Aggie told you—that Cassidy was up here from headquarters. He didn't put a name to it, but I'm on. It was Garson speaking. Mary regarded him inquiringly, and he continued, putting the fact with a certain brutal bluntness after the habit of his class. "I guess you'll have to quit seeing young Gilder. The bulls are wise. His father has made a bollet."

asked, without any trace of emotion. "O Lord! I had forgotten all about dad. I'll tell you what we'll do. We'll send dad a wireless from the ship, then write him from Paris."

you can"— "My friends and I never do anything that's illegal. Thank you for coming to us, Mr. Griggs, but we can't go in, and there's an end of the matter."

"English Eddie" Griggs.

turned pleadingly to Garson. "Half a million, Joe!" The telephone rang, and Mary excused herself. The instant she was out of the room Griggs turned to Garson anxiously.

LEGAL NOTICE.

To Lucy Boggs, Carrie Wonderheide, Henry Stoehr, Joseph Stoehr and Edward Stoehr: You are hereby notified that Phillip Stoehr, as plaintiff, has filed his petition in the District Court of Cass County, Nebraska, against you and another for the purpose of enforcing a written contract executed by George Stoehr, your father, and Christ Stoehr, his father, regarding the inheritable interest of George Stoehr, under the law, in the estate of his father, as security for indebtedness of said George Stoehr to plaintiff. You are required to answer said petition on or before the 30th day of March, 1914, or the same will be taken as true and judgment entered accordingly.
