DISTURBANCE ON LOWER MAIN STREET LAST SATURDAY NIGHT

There was some excitement created Saturday evening on lower Main street when two men attempted to mix in a rough and tumble fight, without the Queensberry rules, but fortunately for both neither one was able to do any very effective fighting, and although there were a number of blows struck no great damage was done, although one of them was knocked down without much difficulty, while the other man received a poke in the nose from some of the bystanders. After the interchange of blows the different parties retired before the police arrived and everything was serene and peaceful as could possibly be asked for. The men had both been drinking quite heavily.

A GREAT PLAY AT THE PARMELE FRIDAY EVENING

A Portrayal of "The Shepherd of the Hills," One of the Greatest Plays Ever Produced.

Harold Bell Wright, who is said to be the most popular of the younger American novelists, with the assistance of Elsbury W. Reynolds, has made a dramatization of his most widely read novel, "The Shepherd of the Hills." Its production in this city will take place at the Parmele theater next Friday night, April 3. Mr. Wright is a man with a mission and a message—he is a story teller, and when the story ends we begin a better life "along the sun-lit fields, where the night lingers even when the sun is down."

We start this journey of "the higher trail among the hills" because the gifted writer puts into our hearts the benediction of a renewed faith in men and women, a vital love for truth and beauty, and a deathless hope in the good outcome among the mysteries brooding where our Pilgrim way meets horizon shadows. He calls his story a very old story. This is true, indeed, for have not good and had been in ceaseless conflict since the dawn of human life? Have not toil and love gathered their blossoms and fruit since the time when men and women first learned to weep and sing? The story is old if age comes with the portrayal of the elemental and eternal forces of our human world; but it is new—wonderfully fresh and sweet with the morning light and dew of virgin hills and valleys—for these age-long forces of the soul find expression in the characters to whom we have never been introduced until now. Yet these people of the Ozarks are real flesh-and-blood folk; some, it is true, reach the heroic; still we feel in them the throb of kinship to all who live outside their almost enchanted land.

Here is a play worth seeing in this day of multitudinous and inspired drama. Here is a plot. The movement is ever onward—there are no retrograde and meaningless eddies in this stream of happenings. The current of events seizes you and takes you on and on, and when the end comes you are glad and sorrowful—glad because so good a play ends as it does, sorrowful because it ends so soon.

PROMINENT AVOCAs CITIZENS WERE IN THE CITY ON BUSINESS

Joseph Zimmerman and Dr. Will Brendel, from Avoca, were in the city a few hours last Friday, en route home from Omaha, where they had been looking after some business matters. The doctor was here to attend the assessors' meeting also. From here they drove home in a new Buick car Dr. Brendel was taking home from Omaha. Tom Straub is the local agent for the Buick car around Avoca, and he has sure started off with a very busy season. In addition to the car that was sold to Dr. Brendel, one goes to Louie Marquardt, one to Ernest Nutzman and one of the big cars to Max Straub, all of which will be delivered to Avoca this week.

JOS. SEGRAVES, SOUTH OF THIS CITY MEETS WITH PAINFUL ACCIDENT

Joseph, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Segrave, residing two miles south of this city, met with quite a painful accident while working on the farm of B. F. Goodman. In some manner the cutter hit some object, throwing the young man in front of it, inflicting quite a severe wound in the head. He was taken to the office of Dr. E. D. Cummins. The doctor had to take seventeen stitches to close the wound. That Joseph will soon be able to be around again is the wish of his many friends.

TIMELY WARNING TO EVERY RETAIL MERCHANT IN STATE OF NEBRASKA

The premium grafter is out again. In fact he is constantly working and this article is to warn merchants against falling into the trap.

The latest is a cabinet, a kitchen cabinet and 108 pieces of silverware that the merchant is supposed to give away to the consumer, upon several propositions as the promoters may suggest.

Now all this premium scheme looks very good. If the so-called retailer who purchases such premium graft could have the field to himself, but this is not the case. This experience has proven. Where a premium is put on another merchant puts on a scheme equally as good and the third and fourth, not desiring to be outdone, put on premiums of greater value and the result is either a great sacrifice in profit or an exorbitant price on goods making the consumer pay for premium.

word of warning to all fair-minded retail merchants to pass up any and all premium schemes, no matter if it is a gum sticker. They are discord breeders among competitors. Better adopt the Federation slogan, co-operate, sell goods at a right price and enjoy merchandizing and good fellowship while it is your lot to live.—Omaha Trade Exhibit.

JOHN H. BECKER RETURNS FROM TRIP TO SUNNY CALIFORNIA

Yesterday John H. Becker and wife and son, George, arrived home from a few months' sojourn in California, where they have been enjoying the ocean breezes at Long Beach, Los Angeles and other resorts along the Pacific coast. The trip was one thoroughly enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Becker, and it is unnecessary to say that George had a good time taking in the different sights of southern California. The Becker family have spent the past few winters in California and have escaped much of the cold weather, although the past winter here has been very mild.
