

THE NEW CASS COUNTY INFIRMARY COMPLETED

The County Commissioners Visit the Farm and Inspect the New Buildings.

The county commissioners yesterday visited the new county building on the farm west of this city, which is now ready for occupancy, and as a result of their trip were greatly pleased with the condition of affairs there. The new building is being moved into by Superintendent George Tams and family and in a short time they will be settled in the new quarters in the new building and the task of placing the inmates at the farm will be commenced. The building is a splendid appearing structure from the exterior, and the architect, Mr. Lawrie, has made the plans so as to make it strictly up-to-date and constructed along lines that will give the greatest ease in handling the old people who make their home there, and no detail has been overlooked that will serve to make the building modern in every respect.

Throughout the building everything has been made in a simple and sanitary style that makes the structure an ideal one for the purpose that it is intended. A system of ventilators in the different rooms will make the sleeping quarters in the building much more sanitary than the old ones in the building that formerly occupied the site of the new structure. The building is equipped in fine shape for the handling of the work, in the kitchen and laundry rooms, as in the laundry stationary wash tubs connected with both hot and cold water, have been placed to allow the handling of the work, and the kitchen, too, is fitted up in a splendid manner that will make the work there a pleasure. In each room on the first and second floor there are ample closets and finely equipped bath rooms and toilet rooms, which are also one of the great improvements over the old building and they are so situated as to be of easy access to the old people. The lighting system of the building is another point that deserves a great deal of praise, as the lights are all of the latest type of ceiling lights and they are ample to suit the needs of the family of the superintendent and the inmates.

Take it all over the building is a mighty fine structure and the contractor, Mr. Hedding, has given the county a fine building that they can be proud of, and the commissioners are deserving of much credit for having secured it at such a low price.

The admission will be 25 cents.

Our friend, Mike Murphy, mail agent on the B. & M. R. R., and who resides in Plattsouth, is the happy father of a 4-year-old boy who is extraordinarily cute for his age. During the recent fine coasting he was enjoying himself by riding down hill with a young lady whom he calls "auntie," and after a half hour spent in coasting they came in, and Charlie informed the guests congregated at Mike's that he could do something that "auntie" couldn't. On being asked what it was, he said: "I can ride down hill 'belly-buster,' and auntie can't." It is needless to say that the company exploded.—Omaha Republican.

Mr. Ed.—It is with great pleasure and sincere gratitude, to the donors, that we acknowledge the receipt of the generous sum of $20 from the hands of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bailey and Mrs. Wm. Hobson. The above sum is the proceeds of a festival held in the school house at Mt. Pleasant, for our benefit, on the evening of the 26th inst. Although the evening was unpropitious, yet those present had a very enjoyable time, greatly aiding in relieving their pastor and family from a heavy burden, and adding another link to the golden chain of friendship that binds our hearts to each other. "A friend in need is a friend indeed." With many thanks to all, we hope ever to remain worthy of the esteem and confidence of our friends.

THE LAST IN THE FAMOUS BRIDGE CASE BETWEEN SARPY AND CASS COUNTIES

What will probably be the last chapter in the famous Louisville bridge case between Cass and Sarpy counties was enacted yesterday afternoon when the board of county commissioners received a warrant for $196, representing the interest on the principal of $3,000 which was assessed against Sarpy county as their part of the case, which they lost in the supreme court of the state. This case occupied the attention of the district court of Sarpy county and the state supreme court, being tried before that body several times and remanded, but the court finally found for Cass county and awarded them judgment for the amount prayed for, with interest. The lawsuit arose over a bridge at Louisville which this county was forced to maintain entirely, as Sarpy county refused to contribute a cent toward its maintenance. The bridge has long since yielded to the elements and been washed away.

FORMER PLATTSMOUTH LADY MARRIED IN LINCOLN

The news of the marriage of Mrs. Hull, a former Plattsouth lady, has just been received here by her friends, and while the announcement is a great surprise to the many friends of this most estimable lady, she will receive their most hearty best wishes for her future happiness. The ceremony which united Mart Howe and Mrs. Hull occurred Wednesday at Lincoln, where both of the contracting parties have been making their home for the past few years, and was a very simple wedding. They will make their future home in the capital city. Mrs. Hull resided here for many years, where she and her husband, the late Captain W. W. Hull, were among our best people, and the friends of the lady are legion throughout the city and county.

From St. Joseph to Omaha.

This morning a man and woman appeared in the city, who were engaged in walking from St. Joseph, Mo., to Omaha to live with relatives there, and from their appearance they had evidently fared very poorly on their journey. They left St. Joseph the middle of last week and have walked all the way, so they state, and while the man is standing the trip well, his wife has apparently not gotten along so well. They stated they had had no breakfast and Sheriff Quinton furnished them with food enough to satisfy their hunger. Night before last they found shelter in a school house near Nebraska City and last night slept in a straw stack in the vicinity of Mynard. They were married at Red Oak last August. After a short stay here they continued their journey to Omaha.
